Teaching Worlds:

Teaching the World's Teachers Lauren Lefty, James W. Fraser, 2020-07-07 Examining teacher education in an international context this book captures the diversity of the world's educators. Many countries confront surprisingly similar challenges in preparing K-12 educators for success while national contexts also make for surprising differences. In Teaching the World's Teachers education historians Lauren Lefty and James W. Fraser and their contributors make a convincing case for approaching these shared challenges from a more global and historically minded perspective. Written by education scholars from eleven different countries: Argentina, Brazil, Catalonia, Spain, China, England, Finland, Ghana, Israel, Singapore, South Africa, and the United States, this book provides histories of teacher education reforms between roughly 1980 and 2020. The authors show how international trends that emerged during this period collided with national and regional contexts to produce unique teacher education systems in different nations. While in some countries the embrace of markets and competition led to a deregulation of the teacher preparation field, in others teaching became a highly regulated and centralized affair. At the same time, ideas and structural models cross borders and education leaders borrow from each other while reshaping plans in each place. Opening with a broad historical overview of global teacher education models beginning in the late eighteenth century, Teaching the World's Teachers argues that the field has long been characterized by cross-border connections but shaped by geopolitical hierarchies of power. In an era when teacher quality is widely recognized as one of the most important factors in a child's education, this volume encourages dialogue among teacher educators and policymakers around the world. By understanding the context and contingency of where we have been, the authors hope that readers will walk away with a more empowered sense of where we are headed in the all-important task of teaching the world's teachers. Contributors: Kwame Akyeampong, Richard Andrews, Azeem Badroodien, Maria Inés G. F. Marcondes de Souza, Gustavo E. Fischman, James W. Fraser, Guangwei Hu, Arie Kizel, Jari Lavonen, Lauren Lefty, Wei Liao, Jason Loh, Silvana Mesquita, Hannele Niemi, Lily Orland, Barak Paula Razquin, Carol Anne Spreen, Eduard Vallory, Yisu Zhou. The authors examine common features and differences in the approaches of high-performing systems that made education a top priority and developed high-leverage strategies to meet their goals. Their varied solutions offer valuable ideas for how to create a strong teacher and school administrator corps from recruitment and preparation through induction, professional development, evaluation, and career advancement into leadership roles. Chapters focusing on systems in Finland, Ontario, and Singapore are coauthored by local scholars with extensive knowledge of the history and current status for policy and practice in their nation A final chapter highlights attributes that are absolutely necessary for any education system to flourish The book will be useful to policymakers practitioners and researchers interested in strengthening the quality of teaching Teacher Reforms Around the World Motoko Akiba,2013-04-04 This book introduces how large scale teacher reforms are implemented and impacting teachers around the world Previous books on teacher policy or reforms have tended to focus on the background development and descriptions of teacher reforms Learning and Teaching Real World Problem Solving in School Mathematics Murad Jurdak,2016-05-30 The ultimate aim of this book is to identify the conceptual tools and the instructional modalities which enable students and teachers to cross the boundary between school mathematics and real world problem solving The book identifies examines and integrates seven conceptual tools of which five are constructs activity theory narrative modeling critical mathematics education ethnomathematics and two are contexts STEM and the workplace The author develops two closely linked multiple perspective frameworks one for learning real world problem solving in school mathematics which sets the foundations of learning real world problem solving in school mathematics and one for teaching real world problem solving in school mathematics which explores the modalities of teaching real world problem solving in school mathematics The book is composed as on the one hand a high level theoretical scholarly work on real world problem solving in school mathematics and on the other hand a set of twelve narratives which put together constitute a thought provoking and moving personal and professional autobiography Mogens Niss These narratives combine aspects of Murad s personal trajectory as an individual with those points in his professional career at which he became aware of perspectives on and approaches to mathematics education that were both significant in and of themselves and instrumental for the specific scholarly endeavor presented in the book Mogens Niss Teaching World History in the Twenty-first Century: A Resource Book Heidi Roupp,2015-02-12 This practical handbook is designed to help anyone who is preparing to teach a world history course or wants to teach it better It includes contributions by experienced teachers who are reshaping world history education and features new approaches to the subject as well as classroom tested practices that have markedly improved world history teaching Teaching Chemistry Around the World Björn Risch,2010 As teachers we often tend to expect other countries to teach chemistry in much the same way as we do but educational systems differ widely At Bielefeld University we started a project to analyse the approach to chemical education in different countries from all over the world Teaching Chemistry around the World 25 countries have participated in the project The resulting country studies are presented in this book This book may be seen as a contribution to make the structure of chemistry teaching in numerous countries more transparent and to facilitate communication between these countries Especially in the case of the school subject chemistry which is very unpopular on the one hand and occupies an exceptional position on the other hand due to its relevance to jobs and everyday life and most notably due to its importance for innovation capacity and problem solving we
