Teaching Of Ecology

Chris R. Brown

Teaching Of Ecology:

Currere and the Environmental Autobiography Marilyn Doerr, Marilyn N. Doerr, 2004 Annotation This book documents a high school ecology class that employs currere William Pinar's idea for curriculum as autobiographical text and analyzes the course's success from the author's point of view as both the practitioner and the curriculum developer BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Teaching of Ecology(Bess 7)

Lambert, 1975-01-01 Learning from the Land Brian "Fox" Ellis, 2011-11-04 This all new set of original science tales for children utilizes the power of storytelling to explore ecology's big ideas providing extensive accompanying teacher support for maximum impact Former teacher and an acclaimed author Brian Fox Ellis is a master at using creative storytelling to open up the natural world to students With this new edition of his highly praised Learning from the Land Teaching Ecology through Stories and Activities Ellis gives educators 12 captivating science based stories as well as the supporting material they need to use those stories at a variety of learning levels This latest edition immerses students in both the process and the excitement of science Ellis's original stories explore everything from the Big Bang theory to plate tectonics from the water cycle to the food web from forest ecology to animal intelligence The accompanying lesson plans all based on national standards include tips for discussions writing activities mapmaking storytelling scientific observations and other activities everything teachers need to break through the walls of the classroom and immerse their students in the interworkings of the world outside The Ecology of the School John Eggleston, 2012-05-04 Within a single educational system that of England and Wales the nature of schooling available to a child can be dramatically different Even between residential areas the differences in educational climate can be striking Apart from differences in the organization of schools and the availability of buildings teachers and resources there are also significant ideological variations between local education authorities This book considers the evidence of such differences some of the environmental factors political social and economic that may account for their distribution and the consequences that appear to spring from them The Effective Teaching of Biology Chris R. Brown, 2014-05-12 The Effective Teaching of Biology aims to identify the special dimensions of the subject how it contributes to the curriculum as a whole and why the teaching of biology differs from the teaching of other subjects Current legal and safety requirements are provided together with practical teaching ideas and sources of information The book also covers contemporary issues which are the subject of extensive debate such as the changing patterns of assessment of pupils the use of living organisms in school and the nature of learning difficulties which pupils experience The Learning Garden Veronica Gaylie, 2009 This book tells the story of building a campus learning garden over a series of cohorts of student teachers and environmental education students The project began with high ideals no funding and a strong desire to do something about the environment the result was a transformation in attitude toward nature community and toward the learning process itself Examining the process through three key metaphors garden as environment garden as community garden as transformation this book provides a bridge between theory and practice for ecology centered teaching and learning Ecology in Education Monica Hale,1995-09-28 Ecological and environmental education in schools and institutes of further and higher education has gained increasing importance in recent years both as an area of study in its own right and as a component of other disciplines There is now a requirement in many countries to include the environment in both formal and informal curricula This volume presents a long overdue account of the status progress and underlying concepts of ecological education It explores areas of recent development and debate in ecological and environmental education describes the evolution and development of environmental education in different countries and examines the importance and provision for fieldwork Case studies illustrate how ecological studies are undertaken in several culturally different settings This book will interest teachers and research workers in ecology environmental science and education

The Teaching of Ecology in a Novel and Relevant Wilderness Setting and Its Effects on the Ecological Thinking, Feeling, and Perceiving of Elementary School Youth Gary L. Hall,1980 Teaching in the Sciences Acram Taji,2005-02-14 Gain a clear understanding of what effective teachers do and how successful students learn Over the past 20 years a greater concentration on research aimed at both teaching and learning has revealed that chalk and talk teaching copying notes and cookbook practical lessons offer little challenge to student Environmental Education and Advocacy Edward A. Johnson,Michael J. Mappin,2005-03-03 Environmental education has often blurred the distinction between ecological science and environmental advocacy Growing public awareness of environmental problems and desire for action may be contributing to this blurring There is a need to clarify the distinction between the role of ecological science and the role of social and political values for the environment within environmental education This book addresses this need by examining the changing perspectives of ecology in education and the changing perspectives of education in environmental education Guidelines are provided for assessing the science and education perspectives within environmental education along with suggested frameworks for development of programs and resources that integrate current science education and action This book will be of interest to environmental educators ecologists interested in environmental education and curriculum and resource developers
