Teaching African American Literature Maryemma Graham, Sharon Pineault-Burke, Marianna White Davis, 2013-12-16

This book is written by teachers interested in bringing African American literature into the classroom Documented here is the learning process that these educators experienced themselves as they read and discussed the stories pedagogical

Examining the Portrayal of Family in Twentieth Century African American Literature: Theory and Practice for the High School English Classroom ,2004 In this project I explore the need for an improved approach to incorporating multiculturalism in the high school English classroom Research has shown that teachers who do desire more multicultural classes often face two problems 1 lack of materials that fairly and accurately represent minority writers and 2 fear of teaching literature that raises controversial issues I have designed a three and one half week thematic unit focused on family life in twentieth century African American novels This unit by using Harvey Daniels strategy of literature circles introduces students to at least six African American novels and includes numerous poems and short stories from other African American writers I include detailed lesson plans for each day the structure provided by these plans should help teachers confront and manage the anxiety they might feel about teaching literature that provokes sensitive and sometimes difficult conversations These plans provide a more complete and balanced approach to introducing minority works than the approaches of traditional literature anthologies Within this project I provide a brief overview of how each novel on the reading list relates to the theme of family life I also explain the value of literature circles and the steps that must be taken to incorporate this strategy in the classroom In addition to explaining the benefits and uses of literature circles I also explore the importance of teaching students about dialect I include several lesson plans that help students evaluate the use and significance of literary dialect The final chapter of this project includes the specific plans for each day of the unit I have provided detailed assignment sheets for each of the major forms of assessment within the unit This thematic unit provides students with choice and responsibility which should increase their interest and investment in the readings and activities They will finish the unit with a greater exposure to African Ame

The Teaching of African-American Literature in Arab-Israeli High School EFL Programs Jalal Mussalha, 2011 Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author s earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics African-American Literature Paul Q. Tilden,2003 Having its origins in the slave narratives and the folktales transmitted orally during that period the literature of the African American has been rich and varied Beginning with the first published work of fiction Clotel Or the President s Daughter in 1853 continuing under the influence of W E B Du Bois during the first part of this century and reaching a flowering during the Harlem Renaissance major contributions have been made to American literature Today African American writers such as Toni Morrison Alex Haley and Maya Angelou are recognised as among the most significant and popular authors in this country This new book presents an important overview of African American literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography with easy access provided by title subject and author indexes Appropriating Blackness E. Patrick Johnson,2003-08-13 A consideration of the performance of Blackness and race in general in relation to sexuality and critiques of authenticity

Contemporary Black Men's Fiction and Drama Keith Clark,2001 Demonstrating the extraordinary versatility of African American men s writing since the 1970s this forceful collection illustrates how African American male novelists and playwrights have absorbed challenged and expanded the conventions of black American writing and with it black male identity From the John Henry Syndrome a definition of black masculinity based on brute strength or violence to the submersion of black gay identity under equations of gay with white and black with straight the African American male in literature and drama has traditionally been characterized in ways that confine and silence him Contemporary Black Men s Fiction and Drama identifies the forces that limit black male discourse including traditions established by iconic African American male authors such as James Baldwin Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison This thoughtful volume also shows how contemporary black male authors use their narratives to put forward new ways of being and knowing that foster a more complete sense of self and more humane and open ways of communicating with and relating to others In the work of Charles Johnson Ernest Gaines and August Wilson contributors find paths toward broader less rigid ideas of what black literature can be what the connections among individual and communal resistance can be and how black men can transcend the imprisoning models of hyper masculinity promoted by American culture Seeking greater spiritual connection with the past John Edgar Wideman returns to the folk rituals of his family while Melvin Dixon and Brent Wade reclaim African roots and traditions Ishmael Reed struggles with a contemporary cultural oppression that he sees as an insidious echo of slavery while Clarence Major s experimental writing suggests how black men might reclaim their own voices in a culture that silences them Taking in a wide range of critical theoretical cultural gender and sexual concerns Contemporary Black Men s Fiction and Drama provides provocative new readings of a broad range of contemporary writers Real Learning, Real Work Adria Steinberg,1998 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Non-Literate

Other Helga Ramsey-Kurz, 2007-01-01 Public debates on the benefits and dangers of mass literacy prompted nineteenth century British authors to write about illiteracy. Since the early twentieth century writers outside Europe have paid increasing attention to the subject as a measure both of cultural dependence and independence. So far literary studies has taken little notice of this. The Non-Literate Other: Readings of Illiteracy in Twentieth Century Novels in English offers explanations for this lack of interest in illiteracy amongst scholars of literature and attempts to remedy this neglect by posing the question of how writers use their literacy to write about a condition radically unlike their own. Answers to this question are given in the analysis of nineteen works featuring illiterates yet never before studied for doing so. The book explores the scriptlessness of Neanderthals in William Golding, of barbarians in Angela Carter, David Malouf and J. M. Coetzee, of African natives in Joseph Conrad and Chinua Achebe, of Maoris in Patricia Grace and Chippewas in Louise Erdrich, of fugitive or former slaves and their descendants in Richard Wright, Toni Morrison and Ernest Gaines, of Untouchables in Mulk Raj Anand and Salman Rushdie, and of migrants in Maxine Hong Kingston, Joy Kogawa and Amy Tan. In so doing it conveys a clear sense of the complexity and variability of the phenomenon of non-literacy as well as its fictional resourcefulness.
