Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education Kgari-Masondo, Maserole Christina, 2025-03-28 Literature indicates that sociolinguists and educationists often claim multilingual practice and Africanizing and Indigenizing education will jeopardize national unity and social cohesion Such claims delay the implementation of decolonization policies and the transformation of the curriculum under false assumptions However research reveals many Indigenous students struggle with higher educational content which is often presented through languages that are unfamiliar to them This implies that there is a need to uncover resources that can assist in necessitating the implementation of Indigenous education globally and that all multilingual strategies in education must be based on quality mother tongue illustrative content as its foundation As a result further research on the subject is necessary to enhance teaching strategies that reach all Indigenous students Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education illustrates the need for the implementation of a decolonized teaching and learning curriculum with integrated resources as models It explores how to improve Indigenous knowledge content and teaching methods Covering topics such as cultural identity African research methodology and Indigenous media this book is an excellent resource for teachers policymakers school administrators researchers scholars academicians and more

Inquiry-Based Teaching and Learning across Disciplines Gillian Kidman, Niranjana Casinader, 2017-08-10 This research based book dissects and explores the meaning and nature of Inquiry in teaching and learning in schools challenging existing concepts and practices In particular it explores and contests prevailing attitudes about the practice of inquiry based learning across the Science

Geography and History disciplines as well as focusing on the importance of the role of teacher in what is frequently criticised as being a student controlled activity Three frameworks which are argued to be necessarily intertwined for discipline specific literacy guide this inquiry work the classroom goals the instructional approach and the degree of teacher direction The foundation of the analysis is the notion of educational inquiry as it is structured in the Australian Curriculum along with the locating of the study in international trends in inquiry learning over time It will be of great interest to researchers higher degree students and practicing professionals working in Education and Sociology

Geography: Discipline, Profession and Subject since 1870 Gary S. Dunbar, 2013-03-14 Gary S Dunbar Professionalization of Geography I do not think I like that word I am quite certain I do not like that word I said A F Martin of Oxford University in 1980 when I mentioned to him that I was making a study of the professionalization of geography in Europe and North America from about 1870 to 1930 I should not have been surprised by his reply because Mr Martin a highly regarded lecturer tutor and university man was in some ways a typical example of his generation of British geographers in that he did not have an advanced degree and his publication record was meager Except for a single remarkable essay Martin 1951 he was not well known in the field of geography at least not outside the United Kingdom Was he then a professional geographer Yes indeed because he was a full time scholar in a distinguished university even though he lacked the sort of credentials that have been demanded of subsequent generations of scholars at Oxford and elsewhere I certainly do not mean to denigrate Martin or his ilk I am simply using this anecdote to launch a book on the emergence of modern geography

Teaching Methods in Science Subjects Promoting Sustainability Eila Jeronen, 2018-04-03 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Teaching Methods in Science Subjects Promoting Sustainability that was published in Education Sciences

Handbook for Teaching and Learning in Geography Helen Walkington, Jennifer Hill, Sarah Dyer, 2019-12-27 This exemplary Handbook provides readers with a novel synthesis of international research evidence based practice and personal reflections to offer an overview of the current state of knowledge in the field of teaching geography in higher education Chapters cover the three key transitions into through and out of higher education to present a thorough analysis of the topic

The University and Its Disciplines Carolin Kreber, 2010-07-15 University teaching and learning take place within ever more specialized disciplinary settings each characterized by its unique traditions concepts practices and procedures It is now widely recognized that support for teaching and learning needs to take this discipline specificity into account However in a world characterized by rapid change complexity and uncertainty problems do not present themselves as distinct subjects but increasingly within trans disciplinary contexts calling for graduate outcomes that go beyond specialized knowledge and skills This ground breaking book highlights the important interplay between context specific and context transcendent aspects of teaching learning and assessment It explores critical questions such as What are the ways of thinking and practicing characteristic of particular disciplines How can students be supported in becoming participants of particular disciplinary discourse communities Can the diversity in teaching learning and assessment practices that we observe across departments be attributed exclusively to disciplinary structure To what extent do the disciplines prepare students for the complexities and uncertainties that characterize their later professional civic and personal lives Written for university teachers educational developers as well as new and experienced researchers of Higher Education this highly anticipated first edition offers innovative perspectives from leading Canadian US and UK scholars on how academic learning within particular disciplines can help students acquire the skills abilities and dispositions they need to succeed academically and also post graduation Carolin Kreber is Professor of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education and the Director of the Centre for Teaching Learning and Assessment at the University of Edinburgh
