SKILL BUILDING: OBSERVATIONS & INFERENCES

NAME: _____ DATE: _____ PERIOD: _____ SCORE: _____

OBSERVATION involves gathering information through your senses or through the use of tools or technology. It is based on the object and actions. Observation can be done without using your own senses. You can observe through a microscope and see cells. You can observe through a telescope and see stars. You can observe through a camera and see a picture. You can observe through a computer and see a video. You can observe through a book and see a story. You can observe through a person and see a face. You can observe through a machine and see a part. You can observe through a system and see a process. You can observe through a network and see a connection. You can observe through a community and see a culture. You can observe through a country and see a nation. You can observe through a world and see a planet.
