Teaching World Politics:

Teaching World Politics Lev S. Gonick, Edward Weisband, 2020-01-29 In this volume scholars and teachers share ideas about new ways to teach history culture and theory as well as new topics such as gender information flows and discourse This book is the product of a series of roundtable discussions conducted under the auspices of the Annual Meetings of the International Studies Association At both the 1991 Meetings in Vancouver and the 1992 Meetings in Atlanta we were extremely gratified by the response to our roundtables on Teaching World Politics in the 1990s Critical Methods for the Study of World Politics Shine Choi, Anna Selmeczi, Erzsébet Strausz, 2019-12-05 This book develops an approach to both method and the socio political implications of knowledge production that embraces our embeddedness in the world that we study It seeks to enact the transformative potentials inherent in this relationship in how it engages readers It presents a creative survey of some of the newest developments in critical research methods and critical pedagogy that together go beyond the aims of knowledge transfer that often structure our practices Each contribution takes on a different shape tone and orientation and discusses a critical method or approach teasing out the ways in which it can also work as a transformative practice While the presentation of different methods is both rigorously practice based and specific contributors also offer reflections on the stakes of critical engagement and how it may play an important role in expanding and subverting existing regimes of intelligibility Contributions variously address the following key questions What makes your research method important How can others work with it How has research through this method and or the way you ended up deploying it transformed you and or your practice How did it matter for thinking about community academic collaboration and sharing knowledge This volume makes the case for re politicizing the importance of research and the transformative potentials of research methods not only in accessing the world as an object of study but as ways of acting and being in the world It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations critical theory research methods and politics in general Teaching Politics and International Relations C. Smith, David J. Hornsby, 2021-03-01 This volume asks how we as International Relations scholars support our students and indeed each other to create classroom spaces that foster the critical curiosity and engagement required to understand and live in a world that feels dangerously disrupted In an era of globalization disruption and pandemic International Relations educators need to reflect upon how teaching helps constitute the discipline and position our students to contribute to the advancement of International Relations as a discipline and practice Through exploring innovative approaches to teaching and learning this volume ensures that International Relations keeps up with the contemporary needs of students and student learning and takes advantage of the opportunity to advance as a discipline now and in the future As we move through pivots online and transitions to remote learning in the midst of a pandemic the need for attention to student learning is only made more prescient and urgent Teaching International Relations Scott, James M.,Carter, Ralph G.,Jolliff Scott, Brandy,Lantis, Jeffrey S.,2021-08-27 This comprehensive guide captures important trends in international relations IR pedagogy paying particular attention to innovations in active learning and student engagement for the contemporary International Relations IR classroom World Politics Simulations in a Global Information Age Hemda Ben-Yehuda,Luba Levin-Banchik,Chanan Naveh,2015-10-13 An invaluable guide to creating successful simulations for teaching and scholarly research Theories and Approaches to International Politics Patrick M.
