over the entire period It demonstrates that two key factors have shaped China's foreign policy with the region China's relations with the United States and the Soviet Union and China's drive to increase its economic ties with the countries of the region especially after becoming a net importer of oil in the early 1990s China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume I John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949 Volume I examines the definitions origins nature and scope of foreign aid and investment by other countries Using that background John F Copper then traces China's financial assistance to developing countries from the Mao period when China gave meaningful foreign aid despite its own economic struggles through the beginning of China's post 1978 economic boom and during subsequent decades of rapid economic growth Copper shows that China has a more salient history in giving foreign assistance than any other country in the world while China's objectives in giving foreign assistance have changed markedly over time China has always been driven by efforts to realize its foreign policy objectives and expand China's external influence Perceptions and Behavior in Soviet Foreign Policy Richard K.

Herrmann, 2010-11-23 This book discerns Soviet leaders' views of the United States and sees them in relation to foreign policy statements and actions Herrmann first examines the subtle problem of analyzing perceptions and interpreting motives from the words and deeds of national leaders He then turns to cases measuring the dominant U S hypotheses about the USSR against Soviet behavior in Central Europe the Middle East Africa and Asia as well as Soviet participation in the arms race Finally he weighs his conclusions against a thematic study of speeches and publications by members of the Politburo by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries. This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means. This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Volume III offers an analysis of China's foreign aid and investment to countries outside of Asia in Africa, Europe, the Middle East, Latin America and Oceania. Africa was and is the most important of these regions and it is given special treatment. In the concluding chapter Copper reviews the findings of previous volumes, delineates China's most important victories and setbacks and notes opposition to and criticism of China's aid and investment diplomacy. Copper gives evidence that will be shocking to some of the reality that China's financial help to developing countries is one of the most salient trends in international politics and constitutes a formidable challenge to the United States, Japan and Europe as well as international financial institutions.

The Foreign Policy of the Russian Federation Alexander V. Kozhemiakin, Roger E. Kanet, 2016-07-27. Providing a current assessment of the major developments in Russian foreign policy since the collapse of the Soviet Union at the end of 1991, the book begins with an examination of the emerging trends in Russian policy and the impact of domestic political and economic factors on Russian policy. Succeeding chapters outline the development of Russian policy in the major geographic regions of the world: the new states of the near abroad, Central Europe and the Balkans, the West Asia, the Middle East and the developing countries.

China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume II John F. Copper, 2016-04-29. Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries. This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means. This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Volume II provides an analysis of China's foreign aid and investment to countries and regional organizations on the Asian continent covering all of its major sub regions during the period from 1950 to the present day. Copper considers motivating factors such as the Korean War, the Vietnam War and China's desire to challenge the West and later the Soviet Union. Also important to China and driving its aid and investment was China's pursuit of Communist Bloc solidarity, a search for secure borders and competition with India for influence in the Third World. Securing its imports of energy and raw materials and markets for its products came later. Marginalizing Taiwan and defeating it diplomatically constituted another goal of China's foreign aid and foreign investment analyzed here.
