Students Are Watching Schools And The Moral Contract:

The Students are Watching Nancy Faust Sizer, 2000-07-15 In this groundbreaking book Theodore and Nancy Sizer insist that students learn not just from their classes but from their school's routines and rituals especially about matters of character They convince us once again of what we may have forgotten that we need to create schools that constantly demonstrate a belief in their students Educating Hearts and Minds Edward F. DeRoche, Mary M. Williams, 2001 A great resource for teaching that character matters in furthering the ideals on which this country has been built Carol Russo Principal William Lloyd Garrison School Bronx NY The soil of our schools has lost a nurturing ingredient that is essential to give life to the ideas and the efforts of educators That missing nurturing ingredient is the school's moral mission DeRoche and Williams have written a sound and practical book not only for educators but for anyone interested in learning exactly how schools can navigate these often shoal filled waters Kevin Ryan From the Foreword Educating Hearts and Minds 2nd Edition This second edition merges new ideas in character education research with best practices in schools and districts The authors provide the most up to date and comprehensive framework for K 12 administrators educators and concerned citizens It offers easy access to practical and proven methods supported by in depth rationale Highlighted are keys for success in building an effective character education program Six sets of standards for character education Six tips for leaders Five tips to ensure reaching consensus Five classroom expectations Strategies for school culture and classroom climate Steps for developing a values curriculum Co curricular activities Teaching principles Staff development and personnel training Assessment The authors propose standards promising practices and assessment instruments that can be personalized to fit the needs and interests of any school student population school district or community A must have resource for the concerned and committed educator and parent Letters to the Next President Carl D. Glickman, 2004 Presents a collection of letters by parents students teachers elected officials scholars and school reformers on ways to improve schools and public education School Choice at the Crossroads Mark Berends, R. Joseph Waddington, John Schoenig, 2018-10-04 School Choice at the Crossroads compiles exemplary policy relevant research on school choice options voucher private charter and traditional public schools as they have been implemented across the nation Renowned contributors highlight the latest rigorous research findings and implications on school vouchers tuition tax credits and charter schools in states and local areas at the forefront of school choice policy Examining national and state level perspectives each chapter discusses the effects of choice and vouchers on student outcomes the processes of choice supportive conditions of school choice programs comparative features of school choice and future research This timely volume addresses whether school choice works under what conditions and for whom further informing educational research policy and practice Resources in Education, 2000 Preventing Hazing Susan Lipkins, 2006-08-28 Written with clarity and passion Preventing Hazing uncovers the deep roots of hazing how and why it permeates schools colleges and communities and what parents teachers and coaches can do to prevent it The author shows how to recognize the warning signs what to do if a student has been involved in a hazing either as a victim bystander or perpetrator how to deal with the moral legal and emotional aspects of hazing and ultimately how to heal and move forward both as an individual and a community

The Red Pencil Theodore R.Sizer,2008-10-01 This engaging and important book is a critique of American education wrapped in a memoir Drawing on his fifty years as teacher principal researcher professor and dean Theodore R Sizer identifies three crucial areas in which policy discussion about public education has been dangerously silent He argues that we must break that silence and rethink how to educate our youth Sizer discusses our failure to differentiate between teaching and learning noting that formal schooling must adapt to and confront the powerful influences found outside traditional classrooms He examines the practical as well as philosophical necessity for sharing policy making authority among families schools and centralized governments And he denounces our fetish with order our belief that the familiar routines that have existed for generations are the only way to bring learning to children Sizer provides alternatives to these failed routines guidelines for creating a new educational system that would among other things break with wasteful traditional practice utilize agencies and arrangements beyond the school building and design each child s educational program around his or her particular needs and potential

The Nature of Technology Michael P. Clough,Joanne K. Olson,Dale S Niederhauser,2013-09-03 How does technology alter thinking and action without our awareness How can instantaneous information access impede understanding and wisdom How does technology alter conceptions of education schooling teaching and what learning entails What are the implications of these and other technology issues for society Meaningful technology education is far more than learning how to use technology It entails an understanding of the nature of technology what technology is how and why technology is developed how individuals and society direct react to and are sometimes unwittingly changed by technology This book places these and other issues regarding the nature of technology in the context of learning teaching and schooling The nature of technology and its impact on education must become a significant object of inquiry among educators Students must come to understand the nature of technology so that they can make informed decisions regarding how technology may influence thinking values and action and when and how technology should be used in their personal lives and in society Prudent choices regarding technology cannot be made without understanding the issues that this book raises This book is intended to raise such issues and stimulate thinking and action among teachers teacher educators and education researchers The contributions to this book raise historical and philosophical issues regarding the nature of technology and their implications for education challenge teacher educators and teachers to promote understanding of the nature of technology and provide practical considerations for teaching the nature of technology

Promotion of Social Awareness Robert L. Selman,2003-05-15 Education specialists have written volumes on the best ways to help children learn to read and write but who is helping them navigate the potentially treacherous waters of social interactions While in school to study children are also preoccupied with understanding the rules governing social relationships Issues of trust and loyalty rivalry and conflict belonging and exclusion affect all school aged children but very few lesson plans include social development skills The Promotion of Social Awareness summarizes thirty years of research on the social development of children in elementary and middle school and shows how this work has led to a series of programs that promote the social competence of children and adolescents Rich with lessons drawn from real life the book includes an in depth account of the author s partnership with an innovative program designed to help educators promote a sound ethic of social relationships among children a case study of a teacher particularly gifted at promoting such relationships and the tale of how the author s theoretical framework fared cross culturally when exported to Iceland The Promotion of Social Awareness documents Robert Selman s efforts both as a practitioner trying to help young people develop their interpersonal skills and as a researcher attempting to understand the factors that promote or hinder social development Selman believes that getting along with others involves concrete and measurable social skills and actions that can be taught The book underlines how the science of social development has given rise to initiatives and programs that can be used in educational settings to help children get along with each other and may in the long run help prevent violence drug abuse and prejudice Unique in its marriage of theory and practice The Promotion of Social Awareness will appeal to a wide readership including developmental psychologists educators and parents

Making Up Our Mind Sigal R. Ben-Porath,Michael C. Johanek,2019-04-24 If free market advocates had total control over education policy would the shared public system of education collapse Would school choice revitalize schooling with its innovative force With proliferating charters and voucher schemes would the United States finally make a dramatic break with its past and expand parental choice Those are not only the wrong questions they re the wrong premises argue philosopher Sigal R Ben Porath and historian Michael C Johanek in Making Up Our Mind Market driven school choices aren t new They predate the republic and for generations parents have chosen to educate their children through an evolving mix of publicly supported private charitable and entrepreneurial enterprises The question is not whether to have school choice It is how we will regulate who has which choices in our mixed market for schooling and what we as a nation hope to accomplish with that mix of choices Looking beyond the simplistic divide between those who oppose government intervention and those who support public education the authors make the case for a structured landscape of choice in schooling one that protects the interests of children and of society while also identifying key shared values on which a broadly acceptable policy could rest

The Synergy of Inquiry: Engaging Students in Deep Learning Across the Content Areas Jablon, Paul, 2017-03-01 Discover effective ways for students to develop deep conceptual understandings complex thinking skills and enduring habits of mind with this professional resource This book is the perfect tool to help teachers understand how to embed the inquiry process in their instruction across the content areas Students will also benefit from this resource as they learn visual inquiry tools for success outside of the classroom Stories and examples from real teachers across the grade levels are also provided Leonard Covello and the Making of Benjamin Franklin High School Michael C. Johanek, John L. Puckett, 2007 What is the mission of American public education As a nation are we still committed to educating students to be both workers and citizens as we have long proclaimed or have we lost sight of the second goal of encouraging students to be contributing members of a democratic society In this enlightening book John Puckett and Michael Johanek describe one of America s most notable experiments in community education In the process they offer a richly contextualized history of twentieth century efforts to educate students as community minded citizens Although student test scores now serve to measure schools achievements the authors argue compellingly that the democratic goals of citizen centered community schools can be reconciled with the academic performance demands of contemporary school reform movements Using the twenty year history of community centered schooling at Benjamin Franklin High School in East Harlem as a case study and reminding us of the pioneering vision of its founder Leonard Covello they suggest new approaches for educating today s students to be better public citizens

Educating for Humanity Mike Seymour, Henry M. Levin, 2015-11-17 At a time of profound crises around the world when social justice peace democracy and the environment seem under increasing threat the promise of a world for all seems a viable aspiration for education Ample evidence from many schools today and dating back throughout the last century prove that the purpose of educating young people to develop character compassion purpose and commitment is integral with the mastery of intellectual skills and life competencies Schooling without a doubt can play a monumental part in the development of the personal values people take with them to the world Unfortunately as the saying goes if you don t know where you re going you ll probably get someplace else Educational policy directions over the last twenty years have veered far away from the important work of educating for humanity This book makes a powerful appeal to revisit educational purpose in light of what is most fundamental and important to human beings everywhere The authors address timely issues such as high stakes testing school choice and privatization of education in looking beyond these measures to new approaches to educational excellence

Multilingual Learners and Academic Literacies Daniella Molle, Edynn Sato, Timothy Boals, Carol A. Hedgspeth, 2015-03-05 Shifting the discourse from a focus on academic language to the more dynamic but less researched construct of academic literacies this volume addresses three key questions What constitutes academic literacy What does academic literacy development in adolescent multilingual students look like and how can this development be assessed What classroom contexts foster the development of academic literacies in multilingual adolescents The contributing authors provide divergent definitions of academic literacies and use dissimilar theoretical and methodological approaches to study literacy development Nevertheless all chapters reflect a shared conceptual framework for examining academic literacies as situated overlapping meaning making practices This framework foregrounds students participation in valued disciplinary literacy practices Emphasized in the new college and career readiness standards the notion of disciplinary practices allows the contributing authors to bridge the language content dichotomy and take a more holistic as well as nuanced view of the demands that multilingual students face in general education classrooms The volume also explores the implications of the emphasis on academic literacy practices for classroom instruction research and policy The New American High School Ted Sizer, 2013-05-22 The late Theodore Sizer's vision for a truly democratic public high school system Our current high schools are ill designed and inefficient We have inherited a program of studies that in its overall structure has not changed in over a century The question is What's next Theodore Sizer the founder of The Coalition of Essential Schools was a passionate advocate for the American school system In this his last book he offers a vision of what a future secondary education might look like In a book that tells the story of his own odyssey Sizer gives shape to a much needed agenda for improving our high schools Includes a vision for the future of our High Schools from one of America's greatest leaders of educational reform Written by Theodore Sizer founder of The Coalition of Essential Schools and author of landmark book Horace's Compromise This final book from the late Theodore Sizer reveals the man and his vision for our secondary education system Integrating Social and Emotional Learning across a School District Brian

Gatens, 2021-06-05 With chapters from experienced teachers and school and district leaders this text provides a wealth of practical strategies and inspirational guidance on incorporating social emotional and ethical learning across a district and educational community Whose School Is It? Rhoda H. Halperin, 2010-01-01 Whose School Is It Women Children Memory and Practice in the City is a success story with roadblocks crashes and detours Rhoda Halperin uses feminist theorist and activist Gloria Anzald'a's ideas about borderlands created by colliding cultures to deconstruct the creation and advancement of a public community charter school in a diverse long lived urban neighborhood on the Ohio River Class race and gender mix with age local knowledge and place authenticity to create a page turning story of grit humor and sheer stubbornness The school has grown and flourished in the face of daunting market forces class discrimination and an increasingly unfavorable national climate for charter schools Borderlands are tense spaces The school is a microcosm of the global city Many theoretical strands converge in this book feminist theory ideas about globalization class analysis and accessible narrative writing to present some new approaches in urban anthropology The book is multi voiced and nuanced in ways that provide authenticity and texture to the real circumstances of urban lives At the same time identities are threatened as community practices clash with rules and regulations imposed by outsiders Since it is based on fifteen years of ethnographic fieldwork in the community and the city Whose School Is It brings unique long term perspectives on continuities and disjunctures in cities

Halperin's work as researcher and advocate also provides insider perspectives that are rare in the literature of urban anthropology
