Maloney, 2013-09-13 Interest organizations have always assumed a prominent place in European politics because they link states with citizens institutionalize the resolution of social conflicts regulate important sectors of the economy and society contribute to workable policy outcomes and socialize members into democratic politics However the plethora of interest group studies that exist have not consolidated our understanding of these actors These analyses have been subject to the vagaries of different theoretical perspectives and vary greatly in their conceptual and methodological frameworks Consequently a not always complementary and fragmented series of findings has emerged This book is a systematic and comprehensive effort at investigating and integrating the state of the art in European interest group research Combining the analysis of interest group politics in the EU with the comparative study of interest organizations the book seeks to identify the areas about which there is consolidated knowledge that are marked by controversies in which considerable uncertainty exists that have been omitted from research programs and that ought to be part of future studies Thereby it provides a general reflection on how the study of interest group politics can be improved by linking it to the comparative study of governance This book was published as a special issue of West European Politics European Integration and Consensus Politics in the Low Countries Hans Vollaard, Jan Beyers, Patrick Dumont, 2014-08-13 The Netherlands Belgium and Luxembourg are well known cases of consensus politics Decision making in the Low Countries has been characterized by broad involvement power sharing and making compromises These countries were also founding member states of the European Union EU and its predecessors However the relationship between European integration and the tradition of domestic consensus politics remains unclear In order to explore this relationship this book offers in depth studies of a wide variety of political actors such as governments parliaments political parties courts ministries and interest groups as well as key policy issues such as the ratification of EU treaties and migration policy The authors focus not only on Europeanization but also analyse whether European integration may gradually undermine the fundamental characteristics of consensus politics in the Low Countries Drawing on consociationalism and Europeanization research this volume provides a comprehensive overview of Europeanization in these three EU member states as well as a better understanding of the varieties of consensus politics across and within these countries This book will be of interest to students and scholars of European studies European integration European law political science European political economy and comparative politics framework capturing both positional and behavioural leadership and the specific hurdles that women encounter on their path to and when exercising leadership The volume encompasses a detailed set of single and comparative case studies analyzing women's representation and performance in the core EU institutions and their individual pathways to and exercise of power in top level functions as well as comparative analyses regarding the position and behaviour of women in relation to men Based on these individual studies the volume draws overarching conclusions about women's leadership in the EU Regarding positional leadership women continue to be underrepresented in leadership positions they more often hold less prestigious portfolios in such positions and manifold structural hurdles hamper their access to power Furthermore huge variations exist across EU institutions with the intergovernmental bodies being the hardest to access Regarding behavioural leadership women acting in powerful EU positions generally perform excellently They successfully exercise a combined leadership style that integrates attributes of leadership considered to be masculine and feminine This is not to argue that women per se are the better leaders Yet more often than men they are exposed to stronger selection processes and their prevalent practice of a combined leadership style tends to best meet the requirements of modern democratic systems and particularly those of the highly fragmented EU
