Deepening EU-Moldovan Relations Michael Emerson, Denis Cenușă, 2018-10-15 For Moldova the signing of the Association Agreement and the DCFTA with the European Union in 2014 was an act of strategic geopolitical significance Of all the EU's eastern neighbours Moldova is objectively the most European on several counts including sharing a common history language culture and border with EU member state Romania These provide a positive foundation for a successful Agreement notwithstanding the major political challenges that confront contemporary Moldova The purpose of this Handbook is to make the complex political economic and legal content of the Association Agreement readily understandable This second edition published two years into the Agreement's implementation adds new value charting Moldova's progress in putting the Agreement into effect Two teams of researchers from leading independent think tanks CEPS in Brussels and the Expert Group in Chisinau collaborated on this project with the support of the Swedish International Development Agency Sida This Handbook is one of a trilogy examining similar Association Agreements made by the EU with Ukraine and Georgia

25 Years of Transformations of Higher Education Systems in Post-Soviet Countries Jeroen Huisman, Anna Smolentseva, Isak Froumin, 2018-04-24 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This open access book is a result of the first ever study of the transformations of the higher education institutional landscape in fifteen former USSR countries after the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991 It explores how the single Soviet model that developed across the vast and diverse territory of the Soviet Union over several decades has evolved into fifteen unique national systems systems that have responded to national and global developments while still bearing some traces of the past The book is distinctive as it presents a comprehensive analysis of the reforms and transformations in the region in the last 25 years and it focuses on institutional landscape through the evolution of the institutional types established and developed in Pre Soviet Soviet and Post Soviet time It also embraces all fifteen countries of the former USSR and provides a comparative analysis of transformations of institutional landscape across Post Soviet systems It will be highly relevant for students and researchers in the fields of higher education and sociology particularly those with an interest in historical and comparative studies

International Empirical Studies on Religion and Socioeconomic Human Rights Hans-Georg Ziebertz, 2020-03-06 Socioeconomic rights include rights with regard to social security labour and employment as well as cultural rights which may be regarded as a shield for the protection of human dignity especially of specific groups such as women children and refugees The enforceability of socioeconomic rights clearly distinguishes them from other rights These rights need perhaps more than others the support of civil society Because states have leeway in how resources are distributed civil society has a major impact on what resources are used to fulfil socio economic rights One of the actors in the public arena are religious traditions respective Churches Most of them have developed ethical standards for individual conduct and rules for living together in society based on their basic scriptures All three monotheistic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam are marked by a caring engagement for the poor the sick the old and the foreign From an empirical perspective the general research question of this volume is how young people understand and evaluate socioeconomic rights and to which degree religious convictions and practices are connected with attitudes towards these human rights Can religion be identified as a force supporting the human rights regime and which additional concepts strengthen or weaken the consent to these rights The richness of empirical data contributes to a better understanding how socioeconomic rights are legitimated in the opinion of more than 10 000 respondents in 14 countries

National Identity and Educational Reform Elizabeth Worden, 2014-02-18 National identity in Moldova remains contested despite repeated attempts by governments historians and educators to cultivate a shared sense of national belonging through the development of history textbooks Concern over professional status and distrust of the government's motivations halted these reforms demonstrating that the success of such efforts greatly depends on teachers and citizens social memory and everyday lives This volume looks at educational reform and the struggle over national identity in the history classroom from the perspectives of five different groups elected politicians Ministry of Education officials textbook authors and historians teachers and students Each chapter explores the actors motivations and agendas regarding reform their role in promoting or obstructing the reform process and their opinions about the ensuing controversy Drawing on months of fieldwork and original research author Elizabeth Worden examines the importance of teachers and students in the success or failure of a reform initiative

The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies for 1994 Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 1997-05-31 This text provides a source of citations to North American scholarships relating specifically to the area of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union It indexes fields of scholarship such as the humanities arts technology and life sciences and all kinds of scholarship such as PhDs Language, Ethnicity and the State, Volume 2 C. O'Reilly, 2001-09-05 The political and social upheavals following 1989 have had a significant impact on the minority languages of Eastern Europe There have been attempts at enlightened treatment of minority linguistic groups in some of the new states but in others such groups have been openly oppressed This volume draws on sociologically and ethnographically oriented work from a number of disciplines to allow the reader to compare developments in the different states and to examine the interplay of language issues ethnic nationalism and processes of state formation and restructuring in the various political and historical contexts of Central and Eastern Europe A companion volume 0 333 92925 X examines the status of minority languages in the European Union

The Role of the European Union in Moldova's Transnistria Conflict Florian Küchler, 2012-02-27 Since 1 January 2007 Moldova has been a direct neighbour of the European Union Nonetheless Moldova and the Russia dominated geopolitics of the Black Sea region receive still relatively little attention in the West This is all the more surprising as there remain a number of consequential political divisions and unresolved conflicts in the area One of them is the Transnistria conflict in Moldova This book is a contribution to the so far small research and policy agenda on Moldova and includes findings of several research trips to Moldova Transnistria and their neighbouring countries At first the study reassesses the Transnistria conflict Contrary to widely held assumptions this conflict is found to be mainly based on a clash of elites and geopolitical interests rather than on ethnic tensions The second part of the book analyses the interests official position actual impact and potential role of the EU in Moldova's internal separatist conflict and its related external tensions with Russia So far the EU has had a limited involvement in the conflict resolution efforts and in the international relations of Moldova This book concludes that it is becoming increasingly important and possible for the EU to get effectively involved in this region but that the scope of EU activities in Moldova and Transnistria depends on the country's relations with and on the actions in this area of the United States and Russia At its end the study offers recommendations for future EU policies directed at Moldova

Improving Higher Education Models Through International Comparative Analysis Storey, Valerie A., Beeman, Thomas E., 2023-07-03 There is a growing global interest in reimagining higher education ecosystems Whether or not this is a recognition of apparent existential challenges or not aspiring higher education administrators faculty and trustees need to have an understanding of the varying types of higher education institutions in the USA and an awareness of how other countries structure their higher education systems and how they are preparing to deal with the challenges Additionally they require deep knowledge of how these systems measure success or failure Improving Higher Education Models Through International Comparative Analysis explores critical aspects and challenges in the higher education setting describes and analyzes initiatives being taken to address these challenges and presents case studies to help foster a better understanding and create competency in strategic thinking and problem solving for higher education leadership Covering key topics such as sustainability education systems and the digital age this premier reference source is ideal for administrators policymakers researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students

The Romanian Dialect of Moldova Donald Leroy Dyer, 1999 Examines attempts by Soviet linguists to create an independent literary language called Moldavian which according to Soviet linguistics and their followers were lexically phonologically even grammatically distinct from standard Romanian The text examines through a series of contemporary essays the history of Soviet language policy in Moldova Specific attention is paid to the actual dialectal features of Moldovan

Romanian its borrowed lexical stock from Russian and the relationship between the Romanian of Moldova and other languages spoken in the region such as Bulgarian and Gagauz
