Lakwete,2005-09-16 Lakwete shows how indentured British and later enslaved Africans built and used foot powered models to process the cotton they grew for export After Eli Whitney patented his wire toothed gin southern mechanics transformed it into the saw gin offering stiff competition to northern manufacturers Trade and Traders in Muslim Spain Olivia Remie Constable,1996-07-13 This volume surveys Iberian international trade from the tenth to the fifteenth century with particular emphasis on commerce in the Muslim period and on changes brought by Christian conquest of much of Muslim Spain in the thirteenth century From the tenth to the thirteenth century markets in the Iberian peninsula were closely linked to markets elsewhere in the Islamic world and a strong east west Mediterranean trading network linked Cairo with Cordoba Following routes along the North African coast Muslim and Jewish merchants carried eastern goods to Muslim Spain returning eastwards with Andalusí exports Situated at the edge of the Islamic west Andalusí markets were also emporia for the transfer of commodities between the Islamic world and Christian Europe After the thirteenth century the Iberian peninsula became part of the European economic sphere its commercial realignment aided by the opening of the Straits of Gibraltar to Christian trade and by the contemporary demise of the Muslim trading network in the Mediterranean The Making of Feudal Agriculture? Miquel Barceló,François Sigaut,2004-02-01 Was there a discernible set of changes in the techniques of arable farming animal husbandry and their associated technologies at the end of antiquity which marked a clear break with an established ancient world economy and ushered in the new agricultures of the early middle ages Were such changes not already visible in antiquity And what was the impact of political economic social and environmental change in these processes The 6 papers in this volume reject simple evolutionary models charting progress from protohistory to the Roman period to the Dark Ages to the Middle Ages and insisted rather on the notion of inheritance so that the farming economy laid down in protohistoric times continued to exist during the early Middle Ages The collapse of a capitalistic commercial economy of the later Roman Empire though accompanied by political and military crises did not entail a regression of the farming economy The growth in farming in the 8th 9th C resting on a demographic increase combined with intensive land clearance episodes owed much to the preceding centuries the change resides more in an intensification than in the introduction of new features With contributions by Pascal Reigniez Catherine Rommelaere Georges Raepsaet G Comet Aline Durand and Philippe Leveau Routledge Revivals: Medieval Islamic Civilization (2006) Josef Meri,2018-01-12 Islamic civilization flourished in the Middle Ages across a vast geographical area that spans today's Middle and Near East First published in 2006 Medieval Islamic Civilization examines the socio cultural history of the regions where Islam took hold between the 7th and 16th centuries This important two volume work contains over 700 alphabetically arranged entries contributed and signed by international scholars and experts in fields such as Arabic languages Arabic literature architecture history of science Islamic arts Islamic studies Middle Eastern studies Near Eastern studies politics religion Semitic studies theology and more Entries also explore the importance of interfaith relations and the permeation of persons ideas and objects

Industrial Espionage and Technology Transfer John R. Harris, 2017-07-05 Britain and France were the leading industrial nations in 18th century Europe This book examines the rivalry which existed between the two nations and the methods used by France to obtain the skilled manpower and technology which had given Britain the edge particularly in the new coal based technologies Despite the British Act of 1719 which outlawed industrial espionage and technology transfer France continued to bring key industrial workers from Britain and to acquire British machinery and production methods Drawing on a mass of unpublished archival material this book investigates the nature and application of British laws and the involvement of some major British industrialists in these issues and discusses the extent to which French espionage had any real success In the process it presents an in depth understanding of 18th century economies and the cultures and bureaucracies which were so important in shaping economic life Above all the late John Harris saw the history of industrial espionage as one means of restoring the thoughts and activities of human beings to the centre stage of industrial history These are the stories of individuals Holkers Trudaines Wilkinsons or Milnes and their impact on the world

The Italian Cotton Industry in the Later Middle Ages, 1100-1600 Maureen Fennell Mazzaoui, 1981-07-09 This book traces the dynamic advances in textile technology and changes in the structure of demand that accompanied the rise in the late Middle Ages of an Italian industry geared to mass production of cotton fabrics The Italian manufacture based on borrowed techniques and imitations of

Islamic cloth was the earliest large scale cotton industry in western Europe It thus marked a pivotal stage in the transmission of the knowledge and use of this textile fibre from the Mediterranean basin to northern Europe The success of the Italians in creating new markets for a wide variety of products that included pure cotton as well as mixed fabrics combining cotton with linen hemp wool and silk permanently altered the patterns of taste and consumption in European society Cotton in various stages of proceeding was at the heart of a complex network of communications that linked the north Italian towns to the source of raw materials and to international markets for finished goods In the developing urban economy of northern Italy cotton played a role comparable in magnitude to that of wool and shared with the latter certain basic features of early capitalistic organization

The Indigenous and the Foreign in Christian Ethiopian Art Manuel João Ramos, Isabel Boavida, 2017-03-02 In the rural plateaux of northern Ethiopia one can still find scattered ruins of monumental buildings that are evidently alien to the country's ancient architectural tradition This little known and rarely studied architectural heritage is a silent witness to a fascinating if equivocal cultural encounter that took place in the 16th 17th centuries between Catholic Europeans and Orthodox Ethiopians The Indigenous and the Foreign in Christian Ethiopian Art presents a selection of papers derived from the 5th Conference on the History of Ethiopian Art which for the first time systematically approached this heritage The book explores the enduring impact of this encounter on the artistic religious and political life of Ethiopia an impact that has not been readily acknowledged not least because the public conversion of the early 17th century Emperor Susnyus to Catholicism resulted in a bloody civil war shrouded in religious intolerance Bringing together work by key researchers in the field these studies open up a particularly rich period in the history of Ethiopia and cast new light on the complexities of cultural and religious misencounters between Africa and Europe

A Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture, 2 Volume Set Finbarr Barry Flood, Gulru Necipoglu, 2017-09-13 The two volume Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture bridges the gap between monograph and survey text by providing a new level of access and interpretation to Islamic art The more than 50 newly commissioned essays revisit canonical topics and include original approaches and scholarship on neglected aspects of the field This two volume Companion showcases more than 50 specially commissioned essays and an introduction that survey Islamic art and architecture in all its traditional grandeur Essays are organized according to a new chronological geographical paradigm that remaps the unprecedented expansion of the field and reflects the nuances of major artistic and political developments during the 1400 year span The Companion represents recent developments in the field and encourages future horizons by commissioning innovative essays that provide fresh perspectives on canonical subjects such as early Islamic art sacred spaces palaces urbanism ornament arts of the book and the portable arts while introducing others that have been previously neglected including unexplored geographies and periods transregional connectivities talismans and magic consumption and networks of portability museums and collecting and contemporary art worlds the essays entail strong comparative and historiographic dimensions The volumes are accompanied by a map and each subsection is preceded by a brief outline of the main cultural and historical developments during the period in question The volumes include periods and regions typically excluded from survey books including modern and contemporary art architecture China Indonesia Sub Saharan Africa Sicily the New World Americas

Le commerce du coton en Méditerranée à la fin du Moyen Age Jong-Kuk Nam, 2007-09-30 This book examines the significance of the cotton trade in the Mediterranean traffic in the Later Middle Ages and evaluates its effects on the economy of the Occident It covers all aspects of the production of commerce and trade in cotton The merchants of Venice Genoa Barcelona and Florence played the most important role in the cotton trade in the Mediterranean The massing of supplies of raw material by the merchants of the four maritime cities led to the mass fabrication of cotton products In this way Western society saw a remarkable growth in the consumption of cotton products in the Later Middle Ages

Hacking Capitalism Johan Söderberg, 2015-12-22 The Free and Open Source Software FOSS movement demonstrates how labour can self organise production and as is shown by the free operating system GNU Linux even compete with some of the worlds largest firms The book examines the hopes of such thinkers as Friedrich Schiller Karl Marx Herbert Marcuse and Antonio Negri in the light of the recent achievements of the hacker movement This book is the first to examine a different kind of political activism that consists in the development of technology from below

The Book of Revelation and Its Interpreters Ian Boxall, Richard Tresley, 2015-11-25 The Book of Revelation has fired the imaginations of theologians preachers artists and ordinary Christians across the centuries The resulting number of commentaries on the book is enormous and most studies can only touch upon at most a representative sample of this vast literature As a consequence many focus largely on the interpretation of the Apocalypse only within specific periods such as the patristic period or during the Reformation One result of this severe limitation given the vast literary corpus is how historical interpretations in critical commentaries of the Book of Revelations tend to prioritize authors from the modern period In The Book of Revelation and Its Interpreters Short Studies and an Annotated Bibliography editors Richard Tresley and Ian Boxall fill a significant gap in the scholarly literature At its heart is an extensive annotated bibliography covering commentaries on the book up to 1700 including most of the early illuminated Apocalypses Supporting the presentation of this survey of the historical interpretations of the Book of Revelation is an extended overview of Revelation's often colorful reception history by Christopher Rowland together with a number of short studies on various aspects of the book These include discussions of specific commentators such as Sean Michael Ryan's look at Tyconius and Francis X Gumerlock's exploration of Chromatius of Aquileia alongside a more general treatment of Revelation's impact on the figure of John of Patmos in an essay by Ian Boxall and the visual reception of Revelation in Natasha O'Hear's article The Book of Revelation and Its Interpreters provides a valuable bibliographical resource for those working in the field of Biblical Studies history of Christianity eschatology and apocalyptic studies The accompanying essays orient the authors recorded in the bibliography within a larger context offering specific examples of the Apocalypse's capacity to speak in fresh and often surprising ways to diverse audiences throughout history
