Studies in the History of Ideas, Vol. 3 (Classic Reprint) Columbia University, 2019-01-18 Excerpt from Studies in the History of Ideas Vol 3 Cartesian Doctrine and the Animal Soul an Incident in the Formation of the Modern Philosophical Tradition by Albert G A Balz About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Law as Symbolic Form Deniz Coskun, 2007-07-17 This book describes the rule of law as the reign of persuasion rather than the reign of force and democracy as the reign by persuasion rather than the reign by force It synthesizes a vast amount of current Cassirer literature and makes a contribution to jurisprudence The book is the first systematic elaboration on law as a symbolic form and it sheds new light on a still dark area of intellectual and jurisprudential thought An Interdisciplinary Theory of Activity Andy Blunden, 2010 A critical review of Cultural Historical Activity Theory the psychology originating from Lev Vygotsky 1896 1934 Tracing its roots in Goethe Hegel and Marx the author builds a concept of activity transcending the division between individual and social domains in human sciences Science and Civilisation in China: Volume 2, History of Scientific Thought Joseph Needham, Ling Wang, 1956-01-03 The second volume of Dr Joseph Needham's great work Science and Civilisation in China is devoted to the history of scientific thought Beginning with ancient times it describes the Confucian milieu in which arose the organic naturalism of the great Taoist school the scientific philosophy of the Mohists and Logicians and the quantitative materialism of the Legalists Thus we are brought on to the fundamental ideas which dominated scientific thinking in the Chinese middle ages The author opens his discussion by considering the remote and pictographic origins of words fundamental in scientific discourse and then sets forth the influential doctrines of the Two Forces and the Five Elements Subsequently he writes of the important sceptical tradition the effects of Buddhist thought and the Neo Confucian climax of Chinese naturalism Last comes a discussion of the conception of Laws of Nature in China and the West The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record, 1927 Science and Technology in World History, Volume 1 David Deming, 2014-01-10 Science is a living organic activity the meaning and understanding of which have evolved incrementally over human history This book the first in a roughly chronological series explores the development of the methodology and major ideas of science in historical context from ancient times to the decline of classical civilizations around 300 A D It includes details specific to the histories of specialized sciences including astronomy medicine and physics along with Roman engineering and Greek philosophy It closely describes the contributions of such individuals as Pythagoras Hippocrates

Socrates Plato Aristotle Alexander the Great Euclid Archimedes Ptolemy Seneca Pliny the Elder and Galen Science and Technology in World History, Volume 2 David Deming, 2014-01-10 Science is a living organic activity the meaning and understanding of which have evolved incrementally over human history This book the second in a roughly chronological series explores the evolution of science from the advents of Christianity and Islam through the Middle Ages focusing especially on the historical relationship between science and religion Specific topics include technological innovations during the Middle Ages Islamic science the Crusades Gothic cathedrals and the founding of Western universities Close attention is given to such figures as Paul the Apostle Hippolytus Lactantius Cyril of Alexandria Hypatia Cosmas Indicopleustes and the Prophet Mohammed Philosophy ,1964 Film and the Holocaust Aaron Kerner, 2011-05-05 When representing the Holocaust the slightest hint of narrative embellishment strikes contemporary audiences as somehow a violation against those who suffered under the Nazis This anxiety is at least in part rooted in Theodor Adorno's dictum that To write poetry after Auschwitz is barbaric And despite the fact that he later reversed his position the conservative opposition to all artistic representations of the Holocaust remains powerful leading to the insistent demand that it be represented as it really was And yet whether it's the girl in the red dress or a German soldier belting out Bach on a piano during the purge of the ghetto in Schindler's List or the use of tracking shots in the documentaries Shoah and Night and Fog all genres invent or otherwise embellish the narrative to locate meaning in an event that we commonly refer to as unimaginable This wide ranging book surveys and discusses the ways in which the Holocaust has been represented in cinema covering a deep cross section of both national cinemas and genres Science and Aesthetic Judgement Sholom J. Kahn, 2016-05-05 First published in 1953 This title provides an exposition and discussion on Hippolyte Taine 1828 1893 the leader of the Naturalist movement in French criticism The book examines his theories and some of his practice as a critic of literature and art A more general consideration of the chief issues raised by his central problem is also given namely the attempt to approach the analysis and judgement of works of art historically and thus to provide an objective basis of criticism This title will be of interest to students of art history and philosophy Volume 19, Tome VI: Kierkegaard Bibliography Peter Šajda, Jon Stewart, 2017-03-16 The long tradition of Kierkegaard studies has made it impossible for individual scholars to have a complete overview of the vast field of Kierkegaard research The large and ever increasing number of publications on Kierkegaard in the languages of the world can be simply bewildering even for experienced scholars The present work constitutes a systematic bibliography which aims to help students and researchers navigate the seemingly endless mass of publications The volume is divided into two large sections Part I which covers Tomes I V is dedicated to individual bibliographies organized according to specific language This includes extensive bibliographies of works on Kierkegaard in some 41 different languages Part II which covers Tomes VI VII is dedicated to shorter individual bibliographies organized according to specific figures who are in some way relevant for Kierkegaard The goal has been to create the most exhaustive bibliography of Kierkegaard literature possible and thus the bibliography is not limited to any specific time period but instead spans the entire history of Kierkegaard studies Science and Technology in World History, Volume 4 David

Deming,2016-04-13 The history of science is a story of human discovery intertwined with religion philosophy economics and technology The fourth in a series this book covers the beginnings of the modern world when 16th century Europeans began to realize that their scientific achievements surpassed those of the Greeks and Romans Western Civilization organized itself around the idea that human technological and moral progress was achievable and desirable Science emerged in 17th century Europe as scholars subordinated reason to empiricism Inspired by the example of physics men like Robert Boyle began the process of changing alchemy into the exact science of chemistry During the 18th century European society became more secular and tolerant Philosophers and economists developed many of the ideas underpinning modern social theories and economic policies As the Industrial Revolution fundamentally transformed the world by increasing productivity people became more affluent better educated and urbanized and the world entered an era of unprecedented prosperity and progress

Rereading the Imperial Romance Laura Chrisman,2000 This book examines literary romance as a vehicle for the ideological contradictions of British imperialism in South Africa Chrisman draws upon postcolonial theory and cultural materialism to discuss the imperialist Rider Haggard s fictional accounts of mining in King Solomon s Mines and Zulu history in Nada the Lily examining these novels as fraught responses to the introduction of capitalist modernity She goes on to analyse the counter narratives of metropolitan and African resistance of feminist Olive Schreiner and black nationalist Sol Plaatje Exploring Schreiner s much neglected Trooper Peter Halket of Mashonaland Chrisman situates this book in relation to the violent creation of Rhodesia the 1896 7 Shona uprisings and contemporary criticism of Cecil Rhodes In doing so she shows how Schreiner's is a much more challenging example of anti imperialist fiction than Conrad's Heart of Darkness published two years later Chrisman's discussion of Plaatje's Mhudi the first black African novel in English considers the book as a direct response to Haggard's imperialism and Schreiner's feminist theory Locating the book through the politics and epistemology of the early ANC she reveals how Plaatje challenges Haggard's misogyny and fatalistic historiography Mhudi she argues is a novel whose nationalist and sexual politics are considerably more complex than has been recognized Plaatje uses his narrative form to articulate both radical and liberal alternatives to white South African rule Chrisman's book demonstrates how South Africa played an important if now overlooked role in British imperial culture and shows the impact of capitalism itself in the making of racial gender and national identities This book makes an original contribution to studies of Victorian literature of empire South African literary history African studies black nationalism and the literature of resistance

Descartes-Agonistes John Schuster, 2012-10-23 This book reconstructs key aspects of the early career of Descartes from 1618 to 1633 that is up through the point of his composing his first system of natural philosophy Le Monde in 1629-33 It focuses upon the overlapping and intertwined development of Descartes projects in physico mathematics analytical mathematics universal method and finally systematic corpuscular mechanical natural philosophy The concern is not simply with the conceptual and technical aspects of these projects but with Descartes agendas within them and his construction and presentation of his intellectual identity in relation to them Descartes technical projects agendas and senses of identity shifted over time entangled and displayed great successes and deep failures as he morphed from a mathematically competent Jesuit trained graduate in neo Scholastic Aristotelianism to aspiring prophet of a systematised corpuscular mechanism passing through stages of being a committed physico mathematicus advocate of a putative universal mathematics and projector of a grand methodological dream In all three dimensions projects agendas and identity concerns the young Descartes struggled and contended with himself and with real or virtual peers and competitors hence the title Descartes Agonistes

Magic in Early Modern England Andrew Moore, 2023-05-15 This book reconsiders the place of magic at the foundations of modernity Through careful close reading of plays spell books philosophical treatises and witch trial narratives Andrew Moore shows us that magic was ubiquitous in early modern England Rather than a decline of magic this study traces a broad cultural fascination with supernatural power In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries poets philosophers jurists and monarchs debated the reality and the morality of magic and by extension the limits of human power In this way early modern English writing about magic was closely related to the scientific and political philosophical writing from the period which was likewise reimagining humanity's relationship to nature Moore reads Thomas Hobbes's Leviathan alongside contemporary writing by the notorious witch hunters Matthew Hopkins and John Stearne He reminds us that Francis Bacon's scientific works were addressed to King James I whose own D monologie insists on the reality of witchcraft The fantastical science fiction of Margaret Cavendish he argues must be understood within a tradition that includes works like Christopher Marlowe's Doctor Faustus and the peculiar autobiography of criminal astrologer Simon Forman. By considering these disparate works together, Moore reveals the centrality of magic to the early modern project.

British Books, 1910 The Publisher, 1909 Scenes from Deep Time Martin J. S. Rudwick, 1995-11-08

How did the earth look in prehistoric times? Scientists and artists collaborated during the half century prior to the publication of Darwin's Origin of Species to produce the first images of dinosaurs and the world they inhabited. Their interpretations, informed by recent fossil discoveries, were the first efforts to represent the prehistoric world based on sources other than the Bible. Martin J. S. Rudwick presents more than a hundred rare illustrations from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to explore the implications of reconstructing a past no one has ever seen.
