HASKINS,2018 Studies in the History of Mediaeval Science Charles Homer Haskins,1960 Studies in the History of Mediaeval Science (Classic Reprint) Charles Homer Haskins,2017-10-31 Excerpt from Studies in the History of Mediaeval Science The history of European science in the Middle Ages is twofold On the one hand it is concerned with the recovery and assimilation of the science of antiquity little known at first and only gradually brought into the West to some extent as enlarged by the Arabs in the course of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries While on the other hand it has to take account of the advance of knowledge by the processes of observation and experiment in western Europe The first phase deals primarily With translation from the Arabic and the Greek in Spain Sicily North Africa and the East as a preliminary to the full assimilation of these successive increments of ancient learning and the Arabic additions thereto The second more obscure has to trace the extension of knowledge by such means as the observation of plants and animals especially dogs hawks and horses the actual treatment of disease geographical exploration and the growth of the experimental habit On both these sides a consecutive and comprehensive history still remains to be written While at many points monographic investigation is entirely lacking About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
