The Autocritique of Enlightenment Mark Hulliung, 2017-09-29 Of all the critiques of the Enlightenment the most telling may be found in the life and writings of Jean Jacques Rousseau This searching long overlooked auto critique receives its first full treatment by Mark Hulliung Here he restores Rousseau to his historical context the world of the philosophes and shows how he employed the arsenal of Voltaire Diderot and others to launch a powerful attack on their version of the Enlightenment With great intellectual skill and rhetorical force Rousseau exposed the inconsistencies and shortcomings of the Enlightenment the psychology of Locke the genre of philosophical and conjectural history the latest applications of science to the study of society and politics and the growing interest in materialist modes of thought As the century moved on Hulliung shows the most advanced philosophes found themselves drawn to conclusions that paralleled Rousseau's an agreement that went unacknowledged at the time The Enlightenment that emerges here is richer more nuanced and more self critical than the one reflected in many interpretations By extracting Rousseau from personal entanglements that stymied debate in his time and that mislead critics to this day Hulliung reveals the remarkable and remarkably unacknowledged force of Rousseau's accomplishment This edition includes a brilliant new introduction by the author The Eighteenth Century Kevin L Cope, Robert C Leitz, 2003 This reference work provides bibliographic details for students of 18th century studies

Utopia Stéphanie Roza, 2025-07-01 Until the Age of Enlightenment utopia was a popular literary genre but without concrete political effects However in the decades leading up to 1789 its status gradually changed from an entertaining thought experiment to a socialist project Imagining the ideal city took on the task of articulating revolutionary transformation of society towards equality and social justice In Utopia Stphanie Roza explores the nascent ideal of a community of property and labour not yet called communism and the thinkers who engaged with it in the lead up to the French Revolution These philosophers included tienne Gabriel Morelly a fierce critic of private property and the mysterious author of the Code de la Nature the Abb de Mably a radical republican and interlocutor of Rousseau and Gracchus Babeuf who from the 1780s onwards defended the natural right to subsistence and dreamed of a more fraternal world Together they laid the foundations for modern socialist movements In the crucible of the French Revolution real equality became the goal of a handful of conspirators gathered around Babeuf who had meanwhile become the tribune of the people The Conspiracy of Equals was considered by Marx to be the first active communist party the hopes and questions that ran through the group prefigured those of the militants of later periods including today

Ideas of poverty in the Age of Enlightenment Niall O'Flaherty, Robin Mills, 2024-04-16 This collection of essays examines the ways in which poverty was conceptualised in the social political and religious discourses of eighteenth century Europe It brings together experts with a wide range of expertise to offer pathbreaking discussions of how eighteenth century thinkers thought about the poor Because the theme of poverty played important roles in many critical issues in European history it was central to some of the key debates in Enlightenment political thought throughout the period including the controversies about sovereignty and representation public and private charity as well as questions relating to crime and punishment The book examines some of the most important contributions to these debates while also ranging beyond the canonical Enlightenment thinkers to investigate how poverty was conceptualised in the wider intellectual culture as politicians administrators and pamphlet writers grappled with the issue

Comparative Criticism: Volume 4, The Language of the Arts E. S. Shaffer, 1982-11-11 Addresses literary theory and criticism comparative studies in terms of theme genre movement and influence and interdisciplinary perspectives

Epic Performances from the Middle Ages into the Twenty-First Century Fiona Macintosh, Justine McConnell, Stephen Harrison, Claire Kenward, 2018-10-26 Greek and Roman epic poetry has always provided creative artists in the modern world with a rich storehouse of themes Tim Supple and Simon Reade s 1999 stage adaptation of Ted Hughes Tales from Ovid for the RSC heralded a new lease of life for receptions of the genre and it now routinely provides raw material for the performance repertoire of both major cultural institutions and emergent experimental theatre companies This volume represents the first systematic attempt to chart the afterlife of epic in modern performance traditions with chapters covering not only a significant chronological span but also ranging widely across both place and genre analysing lyric film dance and opera from Europe to Asia and the Americas What emerges most clearly is how anxieties about the ability to write epic in the early modern world together with the ancient precedent of Greek tragedy s reworking of epic material explain its migration to the theatre This move though was not without problems as epic encountered the barriers imposed by neo classicists who sought to restrict serious theatre to a narrowly defined reality that precluded its broad sweeps across time and place In many instances in recent years the fact that the Homeric epics were composed orally has rendered reinvention not only legitimate but also deeply appropriate opening up a range of forms and traditions within which epic themes and structures may be explored Drawing on the expertise of specialists from the fields of classical studies English and comparative literature modern languages music dance and theatre and performance studies as well as from practitioners within the creative industries the volume is able to offer an unprecedented modern and dynamic study of epic content and form across myriad diverse performance arenas

Sentimental Opera Stefano Castelvechi, 2013-10-24 Castelvechi presents a critical re evaluation of the operatic genre system and the cult of sensibility in the age of Mozart General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books, 1969 New Essays on the Political Thought of the Huguenots of the Refuge John Christian Laursen, 1995 After the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685 the Huguenot refugees who spread throughout Protestant Europe contributed greatly to the development of new political ideas and realities ranging from the theory and practice of freedom of the press through religious toleration and early modern economic discourse The essays in this volume throw new light on their work The History of the Book in the West: 1800-1914 Stephen Colclough, 2017-03-02 This collection of published papers on the development of the publishing cycle from author to reader includes work by many of the leading authorities on the history of the book in the nineteenth century including James Barnes Simon Eliot Kate Flint Elizabeth McHenry Robert Patten David Vincent and Ronald Zboray It contains examples of different approaches reflecting the fact that scholars come from a variety of disciplinary traditions such as bibliography typography literary studies library studies and the history of science The introduction provides an overview of both the historical context and recent work on the subject The volume is divided into five sections National Publishing Structures in America France and Russia International Trade Publishing Practices Distribution Reading The collection includes work in the tradition of French book history which has focussed on the systems and structures of the publishing industry and Anglo American book history characterised by detailed analyses of the publication of a specific title or the practices of an individual reader Biographical Memoirs of Fellows British Academy, 2004 Volume 124 of the Proceedings of the British Academy contains 19 obituaries of recently deceased Fellows of the British Academy Rousseau, the Age of Enlightenment, and Their Legacies Robert Wokler, 2012 Robert Wokler was one of the world's leading experts on Rousseau and the Enlightenment but some of his best work was published in the form of widely scattered and difficult to find essays This book collects for the first time a representative selection of his most important essays on Rousseau and the legacy of Enlightenment political thought These essays concern many of the great themes of the age including liberty equality and the origins of revolution But they also address a number of less prominent debates including those over cosmopolitanism the nature and social role of music and the origins of the human sciences in the Enlightenment controversy over the relationship between humans and the great apes These essays also explore Rousseau

s relationships to Rameau Pufendorf Voltaire and Marx reflect on the work of important earlier scholars of the Enlightenment including Ernst Cassirer and Isaiah Berlin and examine the influence of the Enlightenment on the twentieth century One of the central themes of the book is a defense of the Enlightenment against the common charge that it bears responsibility for the Terror of the French Revolution the totalitarian regimes of the twentieth century and the Holocaust

Evolutionism in Eighteenth-century French Thought Mary Efosini Gregory, 2008 This book examines how eighteenth century French theorists Maillet Montesquieu La Mettrie Buffon Maupertuis Diderot Rousseau and Voltaire addressed evolutionism Each thinker laid down a building block that would eventually open the door to the mutability of species and a departure from the long held belief that the chain of beings is fixed This book describes how the philosophes established a triune relationship among contemporary scientific discoveries random creationism propelled by the motive and conscious properties of matter and the notion of the chain of being along with its corollaries plenitude and continuity Also addressed is the contemporary debate over whether apes could ever be taught to speak as well as the issue of race and the family of man

Mozart and the Enlightenment Nicholas Till, 1995 In this illuminating new study of Mozart's operas Nicholas Till shows that the composer was not a divine idiot but an artist whose work was informed by the ideas and discoveries of his time Examining the dramatic emergence of a modern society in eighteenth century Austria Till reappraises the history and meaning of the Enlightenment and Mozart's role within it Book jacket

A Critical Bibliography of French Literature

V4 18th C Supplement Richard A. Brooks, Louis Sébastien Mercier Michael J. Mulryan, 2023-09-15 This book examines Louis Sébastien Mercier's impassioned representations of social injustice in Paris at the end of the eighteenth century Mercier's urban chronicles argue that society must enact Enlightenment values to educate the populace as a whole otherwise representative democracy and social equity are impossible to sustain and widespread fanaticism is impossible to prevent

The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker, 2011-05-02 In The Unfinished Enlightenment Joanna Stalnaker offers a fresh look at the French Enlightenment by focusing on the era's vast collective attempt to compile an ongoing and provisional description of the world Through a series of readings of natural histories encyclopedias scientific poetry and urban topographies the book uncovers the deep epistemological and literary tensions that made description a central preoccupation for authors such as Buffon Bernardin de Saint Pierre Diderot Delille and Mercier Stalnaker argues that Enlightenment description was the site of competing truth claims that would eventually resolve themselves in the modern polarity between literature and science By the mid nineteenth century the now habitual association between description and the novel was already firmly anchored in French culture but just a century earlier in the diverse network of articles on description in Diderot and d'Alembert's Encyclopédie and in the works derived from it there was not a single mention of the novel Instead we find articles on description in natural history geometry belles lettres and poetry Stalnaker builds on the premise that the tendency to view description as the inevitable and subservient partner of narration rather than as a universal tool for making sense of knowledge in all fields has obscured the central place of description in Enlightenment discourse As a result we have neglected some of the most original and experimental works of the eighteenth century The British Abroad Since the Eighteenth Century, Volume 1 Xavier Guégan,2013-11-19 This book considers the British travelling beyond their isles over the last three hundred years and through a range of interdisciplinary perspectives reflects on their taste for discovery and self discovery both through the exploration and exploitation of other lands and peoples
