Studies In Personality Contributed In Ho:

An Analysis of Karen Z. Ho's Liquidated Rodolfo Maggio,2017-07-05 Liquidated is a work of anthropology that treats an unusual despised subculture that of the Wall Street banker much as anthropologists have traditionally treated remote savage tribes But using the techniques of ethnography including interviews analysis of daily lives and fieldwork to investigate a modern western culture is not original what sets Ho s work apart and gives it value is her mastery of the critical thinking skills of problem solving and creative thinking to reconceptualize the way in which we understand the bankers mindset Ho s great achievement is to ask productive questions most obviously in drawing a distinction between bankers self image as capitalist warriors freeing up value for themselves and shareholders by increasing the liquidity of the assets they invest in and the social consequences of what they do As Ho points out not only is Wall Street institutionally inclined to embrace risk in order to maximise profit it is also prone to assume that increased liquidity most often achieved by breaking up and selling off the parts of a large corporation is a good in itself irrespective of the outcomes for the workers actually involved in these disposals Considering alternative possibilities and generating fresh solutions Ho determines that the capitalist principles that underpin Wall Street are myths not the expression of some natural economic law Handbook on the State of the Art in Applied Psychology Peter Graf,David J. systematic meta analysis of the international literature by 40 German scientists who convened to evaluate the research and discarded all but the highest quality data on psychological aspects of coronary heart disease The result is a collection that synthesizes the most significant findings and indicate productive avenues for intervention and further research Advances in Research on Age in the Workplace and Retirement Cort W. Rudolph, Hannes Zacher, Susanne Scheibe, 2018-01-16 Shifts in the age composition of the workforce coupled with dynamic definitions of retirement represent important issues that influence work processes and more generally the experience of working across one's career For example redefinitions of careers and the changing nature of working have contributed to the emergence of distinct forms and patterns of work experiences across the prototypical work lifespan Likewise older individuals are increasingly delaying retirement in favor of longer term labor force participation The study of age and work and work and retirement by industrial work and organizational IWO psychologists and scholars of human resources management and organizational behavior HR OB has recently proliferated in part as a result of such trends along with the recognition that age related processes are important indicators of various proximal e.g. job attitudes work behaviors work motives and wellbeing and distal outcomes e.g. sustainable employability climates for aging and firm performance at various levels of abstraction in modern work environments Recent theoretical advances have suggested that age along with individual psychological factors and various contextual influences can jointly influence work outcomes that contribute to long term employment success including work performance job attitudes work orientations and motivations Similar theoretical developments concerning retirement have postulated individual and contextual elements that drive success in the transition from career and work roles to non work and leisure as well as post retirement bridge employment roles In this Research Topic we aim to curate a collection of papers that are representative of current trends and advances in thinking about and investigating the role of age in workplace processes and the changing nature of retirement Our hope is to showcase various contemporary ideas and rigorous empirical studies as a means to inform broader thinking and to support enhanced theorizing and organizational practice regarding these processes
