Studies In Symbolic Interaction Volume 23:

Studies in Symbolic Interaction Norman K. Denzin, 2008-10-23 Contains five papers which examine the future of symbolic interaction This work features additional essays that offer theoretical developments in the areas of social work race media identity and politics

Festschrift in Honor of Norman K. Denzin Shing-Ling S. Chen, 2022-10-17 Due to his major contributions in qualitative inquiries Norman K Denzin is regarded as the Father of Qualitative Inquiries Volume 55 of Studies in Symbolic Interaction is a compilation of writings published in his honor

Handbook of Interview Research Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, 2002 The Handbook of Interview Research is the most ambitious attempt yet at examining the place of the interview in contemporary society Interviewing is the predominant mode of research in the social sciences It is also the stock in trade of information seekers in organizations and institutions of all kinds as well as in the mass media Across the board interviews provide today's leading window on the world of experience The Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the interview at the cutting edge of information technology Drawing upon leading experts from a wide range of professional disciplines this book addresses conceptual and technical challenges that confront both academic researchers and interviewers with more applied goals From interview theory to the nuts and bolts of the interview process the coverage is impressively broad and authoritative The Handbook of Interview Research is both encyclopedic and thematic As an encyclopedia it provides extensive discussions of the methodological issues now surrounding interview practice offering a multi faceted assessment of what has become the method of choice for obtaining personal information in today's society But the Handbook also is a story which spins a particular tale of interviewing one that moves from the commonly recognized individual interview to what is called the interview society The gist of the presentation is that we can no longer regard the interview as simply an instrument for gathering data but must now also view it as an integral part of society

Postmodern Interviewing Jaber F. Gubrium, 2003-03-21 Interview roles are less clear than they once were and in some cases the roles are even exchanged to promote new opportunities for understanding the shape and evolution of selves and experience Postmodern Interviewing offers readers an exploration of the postmodern interview a conversation with diverse purposes in which the communicative format is constructed as much within the interview conversation as it stems from predesignated research interests It provides cutting edge discussions of emerging horizons featuring reflexivity poetics and power along with discussions of new ways of gathering experiential knowledge Employing concepts from anthropology family studies history and sociology the contributors present the ambitious new directions in which the interview has gone such as How the interview process is refracted through the lens of language knowledge culture and difference How the dividing line between fact and fiction is blurred to promote richer understanding How standardized representation has given way to representational invention By exploring these exciting developments readers will be exposed to the engaging opportunities for understanding the shape and evolution of selves and social worlds that are made possible through changes in the interview process This volume is comprised of chapters from the Handbook of Interview Research Gubrium and Holstein SAGE 2001 The companion volume Inside Interviewing SAGE 2003 is also comprised of chapters from the Handbook

The SAGE Handbook of Interview Research Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, Amir B. Marvasti, Karyn D. McKinney, 2012-02-11 The second edition of this landmark volume emphasizes the dynamic interactional and reflexive dimensions of the research interview Contributors highlight the myriad dimensions of complexity that are emerging as researchers increasingly frame the interview as a communicative opportunity as much as a data gathering format The book begins with an overview of the history and conceptual transformations of the interview which is followed by chapters that discuss the main components of interview practice Taken together the contributions to the handbook encourage readers to simultaneously learn the frameworks and technologies of interviewing and reflect on the epistemological foundations of the interview craft The handbook has been updated to address recent developments especially in qualitative interviewing Twenty six chapters are completely new the remaining twelve chapters have been substantially revised to give readers access to the state of the art of interview research Three entirely new sections include Logistics of Interviewing Self and Other in the Interview and Ethics of the Interview

Structure and Agency in Everyday Life Gil Richard Musolf, 2003 Structure and Agency in Everyday Life outlines the major concepts of interactionism through its leading theoreticians from William James to Erving Goffman to contemporary writers The text underscores the dynamic relationship between the structures or social forces of constraint and humans ability to act self reflexively and constitute meaning in their lives through everyday action The major foci of interactionism emotions deviance childhood socialization gender the negotiated order and the self are covered in depth The text presents a history of the interactionist perspective

Interpretive Ethnography Norman K. Denzin, 1997 Norman K Denzin ponders the prospects problems and forms of ethnographic interpretive writing in the twenty first century He argues that postmodern ethnography is the moral discourse of the contemporary world and that ethnographers can and should explore new types of experimental texts to form a new ethics of inquiry

Researching the Vulnerable Pranee Liamputtong, 2007 This book takes as its starting point the particular considerations and sensitivities of being a researcher faced with a subject group at the margins of society and explores the ethical practical and methodological implications of working with such groups Author Pranee Liamputtong explores qualitative methods using examples drawn from around the world and from the wide variety of contexts that might count as researching the vulnerable Numerous salient points for the conduct of research within vulnerable groups of people including ethical and moral issues are considered and discussed in the context of sensitive and innovative research methods

SAGE Visual Methods Jason Hughes, 2012-07-23 In contemporary Western societies the visual domain has come to assume a hitherto unprecedented cultural centrality Daily life is replete with a potentially endless stream of images and other visual messages from the electronic and paper based billboards of the street to the TV and Internet feeds of the home The visual has become imbued with a symbolic potency a signifying power that seemingly eclipses that of all other sensory data The central aim of this four volume collection is to explore key approaches to visual research methods and to consider some of the core principles issues debates and controversies surrounding the use of visual techniques in relation to three key enterprises 1 documentation and representation 2 interpretation and classification and 3 elicitation and collaboration Volume One Principles Issues Debates and Controversies in Visual Research serves as a theoretical backdrop to the field as a whole It introduces core epistemological ethical and methodological debates that effectively cut across the four volume collection as a whole Volume Two Documentation and Representation illustrates approaches to visual documentation and representation from classical documentaries to contemporary state of the art modes of visual anthropology and ethnography Volume Three Interpretation and Classification examines core debates surrounding and approaches to visual analysis Volume Four Elicitation and Collaboration explores participative approaches to visual inquiry

Creating Deviance Daniel L. Dotter, 2004-08-20
 Creating Deviance is a basic text introductory text for deviance studies Dotter identifies the convergences between social deviance the interactionist tradition and the construction of cultural meaning He provides an in depth analysis of the significant theoretical contribution of interactionism to the study of deviant behavior and crime examining the works of George Herbert Mead Herbert Blumer Howard S Becker Edwin Shur and Norman Denzin among others Dotter applies this framework to a number of specific scenarios such as the persistence of gender inequality the formation of youth subcultures the contemporary politicization of race in the criminal justice system and media generated public representations of stigmatization His text will be a valuable resource in any introductory course to the study of deviance and crime the sociology of deviance and social control and introductory criminology courses

The Routledge Research Companion to Popular Romance Fiction Jayashree Kamblé, Eric Murphy Selinger, Hsu-Ming Teo, 2020-08-11 Popular romance fiction constitutes the largest segment of the global book market Bringing together an international group of scholars The Routledge Research Companion to Popular Romance Fiction offers a ground breaking exploration of this global genre and its remarkable readership In recognition of the diversity of the form the Companion provides a history of the genre an overview of disciplinary approaches to studying romance fiction and critical analyses of important subgenres themes and topics It also highlights new and understudied avenues of inquiry for future research in this vibrant and still emerging field The first systematic comprehensive resource on romance fiction this Companion will be invaluable to students and scholars and accessible to romance readers

Information Theory , Critical Theory , Dwelling in Mobile Times Sybille Frank, Lars Meier, 2019-05-16 In an era of increasing mobilities places of residence are still vital Unlike commuting migrating or travelling dwelling usually evokes at least in modern Western thought the idea of an immobile private place to rest This book explores the places spaces and practices of dwelling in mobile times and considers dwelling under the umbrella of broader transformations in society The manifestations of these transformations are carved out on the level of everyday practices and experiences Bringing together eight case studies from Europe the USA and Asia on subjects such as gentrification homelessness and displaced persons multi local and diasporic lifeworlds professional elites and tourism the book explores various and complex entanglements of mobilities and dwelling in detail In doing so the contributors critically analyse who may be or has to be mobile under which circumstances at present This book thus demonstrates that mobility is more than movement between localities and that to dwell is more than to be at a locality Instead mobilities and dwelling are both shaped and challenged by strong but shifting power relations and are thus deeply contested This book was originally published as a special issue of Cultural Studies

Investigating Subjectivity Carolyn Ellis, 1992-03-10 Much has been missed by social researchers in their attempt to understand the human experience as a series of rational cognitive choices What comes under the rubric of lived experience fits no researcher's model other than in the words of one of the volume's contributors one damned thing after another Human subjectivity in lived experience both that of the subject and of the researcher is the topic of Investigating Subjectivity an important corrective to the cool disdainful stance of most previous social research The dozen contributors examine various aspects of subject the emotions the gendered nature of experiences the body mind relationship perceptions of time place and setting understanding of the self and how these elements provide a fuller understanding of the human condition incorporating subjectivity into research requires a new set of methods systematic introspection self ethnography staged readings poetry stories many of which are demonstrated in the book It also requires a focus on mundane minor ailments media images hobbies and extraordinary exotic trips earthquakes abortion experience elements which make up the bulk of lived experience and how people react to these life events Investigating Subjectivity stands out from any other books in the field because the emphasis is on research rather than theory or conceptualization This outstanding volume is quality reading for academicians and undergraduate and graduate students in sociology cultural studies qualitative methods and communication especially those interested in emotions narration textual analysis and symbolic interaction
