Studies In The Islamic Exact Sciences:

Studies on the Exact Science in Medieval Islam 'Alī 'Abd Allāh Daffā', John J. Stroyls, 1984-11-08 A self contained volume surveying current research in the history of medieval eastern mathematics Fills the gap in the historical literature by presenting material on medieval numerical analysis Will be of interest to all historians of mathematics and science

Studies in the Islamic Exact Sciences Edward Stewart Kennedy, 1983 Studies in the Islamic Exact Sciences Edward Stewart Kennedy, 1983 Studies in the Exact Sciences in Medieval Islam Ali A. Daffa, John J. Stroyls, From Bagdad to Barcelona. Studies in the Islamic Exact Sciences , 1996 Studies in the History of the Exact Sciences in Honour of David Pingree Jan P. Hogendijk, Kim Plofker, Michio Yano, Charles Burnett, 2004-02-01 This collection of essays reflects the wide range of David Pingree's expertise in the scientific texts above all concerning astronomy and astrology of Ancient Mesopotamia Greece India Persia and the medieval Arabic Hebrew and Latin traditions Both theoretical aspects and the practical applications of the exact sciences in time keeping prediction of the future and the operation of magic are dealt with The book includes several critical editions and translations of hitherto unknown or understudied texts and a particular emphasis is on the diffusion of scientific learning from one culture to another and through time Above all the essays show the variety and sophistication of the exact sciences in non Western societies in pre modern times Medieval Science, Technology, and Medicine Thomas F. Glick, Steven Livesey, Faith Wallis, 2014-01-27 Medieval Science Technology and Medicine details the whole scope of scientific knowledge in the medieval period in more than 300 A to Z entries This resource discusses the research application of knowledge cultural and technology exchanges experimentation and achievements in the many disciplines related to science and technology Coverage includes inventions discoveries concepts places and fields of study regions and significant contributors to various fields of science There are also entries on South Central and East Asian science This reference work provides an examination of medieval scientific tradition as well as an appreciation for the relationship between medieval science and the traditions it supplanted and those that replaced it For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Routledge Encyclopedias of the Middle Ages website The Mathematics of the Heavens and the Earth Glen Van Brummelen, 2021-08-10 The Mathematics of the Heavens and the Earth is the first major history in English of the origins and early development of trigonometry Glen Van Brummelen identifies the earliest known trigonometric precursors in ancient Egypt Babylon and Greece and he examines the revolutionary discoveries of Hipparchus the Greek astronomer believed to have been the first to make systematic use of trigonometry in the second century BC while studying the motions of the stars The book traces trigonometry's development into a full fledged mathematical discipline in India and Islam explores its applications to such areas as geography and seafaring navigation in the European Middle Ages and Renaissance and shows how trigonometry retained its ancient roots at the same time that it became an important part of the foundation of modern mathematics The Mathematics of the Heavens and the Earth looks at the controversies as well

including disputes over whether Hipparchus was indeed the father of trigonometry whether Indian trigonometry is original or derived from the Greeks and the extent to which Western science is indebted to Islamic trigonometry and astronomy The book also features extended excerpts of translations of original texts and detailed yet accessible explanations of the mathematics in them No other book on trigonometry offers the historical breadth analytical depth and coverage of non Western mathematics that readers will find in The Mathematics of the Heavens and the Earth Studies in the Making of Islamic Science: Knowledge in Motion Muzaffar Iqbal, 2017-05-15 Situated between the Greek Indian and Persian scientific traditions and modern science the Islamic scientific tradition received enriched transformed and then bequeathed scientific knowledge to Europe The articles selected for this volume explore the fascinating process of knowledge in motion between different civilizations Studies in Islamic Civilization Ahmed Essa, Othman Ali, Othman Ali, 2010-01-01 Studies in Islamic Civilization draws upon the works of Western scholars to make the case that without the tremendous contribution of the Muslim world there would have been no Renaissance in Europe For almost a thousand years Islam was arguably one of the leading civilizations of the world spanning a geographic area greater than any other It eliminated social distinctions between classes and races made clear that people should enjoy the bounties of the earth provided they did not ignore morals and ethics and rescued knowledge that would have been lost if not forever then at least for centuries The genius of its scholars triggered the intellectual tradition of Europe and for over seven hundred years its language Arabic was the international language of science Strange then that its legacy lies largely ignored and buried in time In the words of Aldous Huxley Great is truth but still greater from a practical point of view is silence about truth By simply not mentioning certain subjects propagandists have influenced opinion much more effectively than they could have by the most eloquent denunciations Studies in Islamic Civilization is a compelling attempt to redress this wrong and restore the historical truths of a golden age that ushered in the Islamic renaissance and as a by product that of the West In doing so it gives a bird's eye view of the achievements of a culture that at its height was considered the model of human progress and development De Bagdad a Barcelona, 1996 Islamic Science and the Making of the European Renaissance George Saliba, 2011-01-21 The rise and fall of the Islamic scientific tradition and the relationship of Islamic science to European science during the Renaissance The Islamic scientific tradition has been described many times in accounts of Islamic civilization and general histories of science with most authors tracing its beginnings to the appropriation of ideas from other ancient civilizations the Greeks in particular In this thought provoking and original book George Saliba argues that contrary to the generally accepted view the foundations of Islamic scientific thought were laid well before Greek sources were formally translated into Arabic in the ninth century Drawing on an account by the tenth century intellectual historian Ibn al Naidm that is ignored by most modern scholars Saliba suggests that early translations from mainly Persian and Greek sources outlining elementary scientific ideas for the use of government departments were the impetus for the development of the Islamic scientific tradition He argues further that there was an organic relationship between the Islamic scientific thought that developed in the later centuries and the science that came into being in Europe during the Renaissance Saliba outlines the conventional accounts of Islamic science then discusses their shortcomings and proposes an alternate narrative Using astronomy as a template for tracing the progress of science in Islamic civilization Saliba demonstrates the originality of Islamic scientific thought He details the innovations including new mathematical tools made by the Islamic astronomers from the thirteenth to sixteenth centuries and offers evidence that Copernicus could have known of and drawn on their work Rather than viewing the rise and fall of Islamic science from the often narrated perspectives of politics and religion Saliba focuses on the scientific production itself and the complex social economic and intellectual conditions that made it possible Handbook of Medieval Studies Albrecht Classen,2010-11-29 This interdisciplinary handbook provides extensive information about research in medieval studies and its most important results over the last decades The handbook is a reference work which enables the readers to quickly and purposely gain insight into the important research discussions and to inform themselves about the current status of research in the field The handbook consists of four parts The first large section offers articles on all of the main disciplines and discussions of the field The second section presents articles on the key concepts of modern medieval studies and the debates therein The third section is a lexicon of the most important text genres of the Middle Ages The fourth section provides an international bio bibliographical lexicon of the most prominent medievalists in all disciplines A comprehensive bibliography rounds off the compendium The result is a reference work which exhaustively documents the current status of research in medieval studies and brings the disciplines and experts of the field together The Enterprise of Science in Islam J. P. Hogendijk,A. I. Sabra,2003 Recent historical research and new perspectives on the Islamic scientific tradition Islam and Science Robert Morrison,2007-09-10 This book is the first rigorous attempt to explain the cross fertilization of scientific and religious thought in Islamic civilization Winner of the Iranian World Prize for Book of the Year in Islamics Studies 2009 Light from the East John Freely,2010-12-18 Long before the European Renaissance while the western world was languishing in what was once called the Dark Ages the Arab world was ablaze with the knowledge invention and creativity of its Golden Age This is the story of how Islamic science which began with the translation of Greek manuscripts into Arabic in eighth century Baghdad preserved and enhanced the knowledge acquired from Greece Mesopotamia India and China Through the astrologers physicians philosophers mathematicians and alchemists of the Muslim world this knowledge was carried from Samarkand and Baghdad to Cordoba and beyond influencing western thinkers from Thomas Aquinas and Copernicus and helping to inspire the cultural phenomenon of the Renaissance John Freely tells this spellbinding story against a background of the melting pot of cultures involved and concludes with the decline of Islam s Golden Age which led the West to forget the debt it owed to the Muslim world and the influence of medieval Islamic civilisation in forging the beginnings of modern science New Perspectives on the History of Islamic Science Muzaffar Iqbal, 2017-05-15 Recent studies in the history of Islamic science based on the discovery and study of new primary texts and instruments have substantially revised the views of nineteenth century historians of science This volume presents some of these ground breaking studies as well as articles which shed new light on the ongoing academic debate surrounding the question of the decline of Islamic scientific tradition Astronomy and Astrology in al-Andalus and the Maghrib Julio Samsó, 2023-05-31 This new volume of papers by Julio Samsó deals with the development of astronomy and astrology in al Andalus and the Maghrib between the 10th and the 19th centuries Opening with a survey of the social history of the exact sciences in al Andalus the book then looks at astronomical tables the first stages of the introduction of al Khwarizmi s and al Battani s tables through the school of Maslama al Majriti the development of Ibn al Zargalluh Azarquiel s theories in Maghribi zijes Ibn al Banna and Ibn Azzuz and the abandonment of this tradition towards the end of the 14th century From this period onwards new Eastern zijes Muhyi al Din al Maghribi Ibn al Shatir Ulugh Beg are introduced in the Maghrib and towards the beginning of the 17th century a translation of Abraham Zacut and Jos Vizinho s Almanach Perpetuum end of the 15th century becomes well known in the whole Islamic world from Morocco to the Yemen As well as zijes themselves the author also deals with theoretical astronomy the use of an elliptical deferent for Mercury in Ibn al Zargalluh s equatorium and the criticisms of Ibn al Haytham and Jabir b Aflah on Ptolemy s determination of the parameters of the same planet and with the use of zijes for the calculation of horoscopes and an experimental astrological method for the correction of mean motion planetary tables Ibn Azzuz The Taifa Kingdoms, 2025-07-09 The 11th century has traditionally been regarded as a turning point in the evolution of medieval Iberia The dismantling of the Umayyad Caliphate of Córdoba gave way to a process of political and territorial fragmentation that contributed to weakening Islamic power vis a vis the incipient Northern Christian kingdoms and ultimately leading up to the establishment of the Almoravid dynasty The Taifa Kingdoms Reconsidering 11th century Iberia gathers contributions from a diverse group of Medieval Historians Arabists Art Historians and Archaeologists seeking to explore new approaches to understand one of the most complex and fascinating moments in al Andalus From political history to socio economic organization and artistic and scientific activities the book covers a wide range of topics and issues from fresh perspectives Contributors Javier Albarrán Xavier Ballester Amira K Bennison Pascal Buresi Elsa Cardoso Carlos de Ayala Carolina Domenech Belda Maribel Fierro Miquel Forcada Alejandro García Sanjuán Teresa Garulo Adday Hernández López Carlos Laliena Eneko López Martínez de Marigorta María Marcos Cobaleda María Antonia Martínez Neza Aurélien Montel Julián Ortega Alejandro Peláez Martínez Mayte Penelas Víctor Rabasco Julio Samsó Bilal Sarr Philippe Sarrac and Bruna Soravia Convivencia and Medieval Spain Mark T. Abate, 2018-11-14 This volume is a collection of essays on medieval Spain written by leading scholars on three continents that celebrates the career of Thomas F Glick Using a wide array of innovative methodological approaches these essays offer insights on areas of medieval Iberian history that have been of particular interest to Glick irrigation the history of science and cross cultural interactions between Jews Christians and Muslims By bringing together original research on topics ranging from water management and timekeeping to poetry and women s history this volume crosses disciplinary boundaries and reflects the wide ranging gap bridging work of Glick himself a pivotal figure in the historiography of medieval Spain
