Studies Of Christianity:

Studies of Christianity ... James Martineau, 1875      Studies of Christianity James Martineau, 1882      Studies in Christianity Borden Parker Bowne, 1909 This essay has been written solely to relieve some of the difficulties under which popular religious thought labors because of misunderstanding Indeed the entire volume might be described as an aid to progressive orthodoxy or as an attempt to combine the new theology with the old religion The old religion while remaining true to type is gradually freeing itself from the crudities of early thought manifesting its essential nature and building itself into its ideal form To help toward this consummation is the purpose of this book Preface PsycINFO Database Record c 2010 APA all rights reserved      Studies of Christianity James Martineau, 2016-12-14 We have called this volume Studies of Christianity simply as a convenient indication of the general character of its contents In justice to the author it should be borne in mind that the separate papers were prepared to meet various occasions without a suspicion that they would ever be brought together to form a book Of course they do not express his complete views of the mighty subject which they fragmentarily treat The relative order and rank of his convictions the interpretation of Christianity from its inner side appear much better in his Endeavors after the Christian Life by far the richest and noblest series of sermons in the English language Still a kind of unity pervades the different pieces composing this collection One Christ like strain of sentiment breathes through them all The same consecrating fealty to truth presides over them all The same grand outline of principles and unvarying standard of judgment are constantly evident The same marvellous acumen breadth of learning and exquisite culture everywhere appear Each article is more or less directly an illustration of Christianity as something moral spiritual vital dynamic to be practically assimilated by the soul in distinction from the common exposition of it as something sacerdotal dogmatic formal forensic once enacted and now to be mimetically observed The energetic patience of labor the deterrent intellect the unalloyed devoutness of spirit the telescopic range both of faculty and equipment revealed even in these wayside products awaken in us an unappeasable desire for a more purposed and systematic work from the same mind now in its fullest maturity In the mean time we will express our grateful appreciation of the contributions already furnished by giving them further circulation assured that no truly pious and intelligent person free from bigotry and shackles can peruse them without receiving equal measures of delight and profit Mr Martineau is so thoroughly acquainted with the processes and results of spiritual experience with the sciences of nature and with the whole realm of metaphysical philosophy and his own wealthy faculties are so tenacious in their activity and freshness that every subject he touches receives novelty light and ornament He is emphatically a teacher for the teachers a greater guide and master for the common guides and masters Traversing the whole domain of human contemplation with the defining lines of analysis clothing the severe materials of science with the colors of sthetic art he sheds on every theme the illumination of intellectual genius and transfuses every thought with the distinctive sentiments of piety Thus is afforded that rarest of all spectacles and the one now most needed by the cultivated religious world of a man who is greatly endowed at once as philosopher poet and Christian and who with simultaneous earnestness in each capacity is devoted by the whole labors of his life to the instruction of mankind William R Algeria CONTENTS Introductory Thoughts from Mr Martineau s Writings Distinctive Types of Christianity Christianity without Priest and without Ritual Inconsistency of the Scheme of Vicarious Redemption Mediatorial Religion Five Points of Christian Faith Creed and Heresies of Early Christianity The Creed of Christendom The Ethics of Christendom The Restoration of Belief One Gospel in Many Dialects St Paul and his Modern Students Sin What it is What it is not The Duties of Christians in an Age of Controversy      Studying Christianity William H. Brackney,2010-04-01 An introduction to the study of Christian foundations scripture community religious values theology ethics and much more      Studies of Christianity James Martineau,2015-06-25 Excerpt from Studies of Christianity Or Timely Thoughts for Religious Thinkers A Series of Papers Amid lesser varieties critical or logical I indulge the hope that no breach of moral continuity will be found but the same desire at the end as at the beginning to harmonise the outer and the inner the natural and the supernatural witness of Divine truth and good Two or three of the following papers while disquisitional in substance are controversial in form Though defending under certain aspects a Unitarian interpretation of Christianity they make no pretension to a representative character but express purely personal convictions I am anxious that no one for whom they may concede too much or claim too little should be compromised by them To define to himself and at proper times explain to others with unreserved distinctness and simplicity the nature and grounds of the faith in which he lives is the indispensable duty of every Christian teacher and the natural impulse of every earnest man But in this task of exposition I have never been able or indeed anxious to suppress a certain secondary sympathy with the very beliefs from which I dissent a perception that they too catch by side lights an aspect of the infinite truth No one possessed with this feeling can dare unconditionally to identify his own conviction with the absolute truth which it represents He will look for ultimate unity not from the world s coming round to him while he stands still but from a converging movement of thought affecting all faithful men towards a centre of repose as yet invisible The present Volume mainly produced under the influence of such a hope goes forth to trace for a little way should the privilege be allowed it one of these lines of Christian approximation About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      Studies of Christianity: Or, Timely Thoughts for Religious Thinkers Martineau James,2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the

Clutton-Brock,2014-07-22 Studies in Christianity by A Clutton Brock is made up of five illuminating essays on Christianity and Absolute Values The Christian Doctrine of Love Christ and the Christian The Grace of God and The Future of Christianity They represent the positive beliefs of an independent Christian in an endeavor to differentiate the permanent factors from the passing ones and to lay stress on the fundamental truths which Christ taught not as his own but as the word of God Only those says the author at whose minds truth has never knocked or who have never recognized the knocking suppose that they can express the truth perfectly or that any past expression of it is perfect Again he says The churches when they think are not taken seriously because they think officially because they seem to be tied by the leg to certain dogmas however long their tether may be The Bookseller Newsdealer and Stationer Volume 48 Christianity as a World Religion Sebastian Kim,Kirsteen Kim,2016-11-03 Now in its second edition Christianity as a World Religion locates Christianity within its global context Structured by geographical region it covers Asia Africa Europe Latin America and the Caribbean North America and Oceania It deals with four dimensions of Christianity in each context Christian history churches and society interreligious relations and distinctive worship and theology Study questions and further reading suggestions are provided in each chapter Fully updated throughout this second edition now includes A new chapter covering Christianity in Oceania Further analysis of the early growth of Christianity in Asia and Africa Coverage of research trends in migration theologies of prosperity and the role of local agents in evangelization Coverage of global interconnections and networks new movements global Catholicism Christian political engagement and persecution of Christian communities A thorough revision of the conclusion including reflection on the discipline of world Christianity and its implications for theology 40 images and maps Chapter summaries Extra resources online including a timeline and Clutton-Brock,2015-07-06 Excerpt from Studies in Christianity I am often told by my friends that Christianity is nothing but a set of statements about supernatural history which no one now can honestly believe When I deny this they ask me what Christianity is and if I try to tell them they reply That is not Christianity at all but certain beliefs which were held by men before Christ was born and may be held by them after his name has been forgotten But all the while I am convinced that there is a body of belief not concerned with supernatural history which is Christian that it began with the teaching of Christ as Platonism began with the teaching of Plato that it has been enlarged and enriched with the experience of nineteen centuries and yet has remained itself I am not anxious to prove the originality of Christ in detail It may be that he said no single thing which had not been said before him The originality of a great teacher consists not in particular sayings or doings but in his power of giving life to an idea so that it continues to live in other men s minds and is enriched with other men s thought The greatest ideas are not those which remain peculiar to their authors About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Studies in Christianity Arthur Clutton-Brock,1918 China and Christianity Stephen Uhalley,Xiaoxin Wu,2000-12-31 On the basis of a broad review of the past and the present relationship of China and Christianity the focus of this volume shifts to the future and its potential for both great promise and pitfalls Christianity in India Clara A.B. Joseph,2019-03-07 By studying the history and sources of the Thomas Christians of India a community of pre colonial Christian heritage this book revisits the assumption that Christianity is Western and colonial and that Christians in the non West are products of colonial and post colonial missionaries Christians in the East have had a difficult time getting heard let alone understood as anti colonial This is a problem especially in studies on India where the focus has typically been on North India and British colonialism and its impact in the era of globalization This book analyzes texts and contexts to show how communities of Indian Christians predetermined Western expansionist goals and later defined the Western colonial and Indian national imaginary Combining historical research and literary analysis the author prompts a re evaluation of how Indian Christians reacted to colonialism in India and its potential to influence ongoing events of religious intolerance Through a rethinking of a postcolonial theoretical framework this book argues that Thomas Christians attempted an anti colonial turn in the face of ecclesiastical and civic occupation that was colonial at its core A novel intervention this book takes up South India and the impact of Portuguese colonialism in both the early modern and contemporary period It will be of interest to academics in the fields of Renaissance Early Modern Studies Postcolonial Studies Religious Studies Christianity and South Asia The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non

The Future of Hindu-Christian Studies Francis Clooney, 2017-07-14 The field of Hindu Christian studies revives theology as a particularly useful interreligious discipline Though a sub division of the broader Hindu Christian dialogue it is also a distinct field of study proper to a smaller group of religious intellectuals At its best it envisions a two sided mutual conversation grounded in scholars knowledge of their own tradition and of the other Based on the Westcott Teape Lectures given in India and at the University of Cambridge this book explores the possibilities and problems attendant upon the field of Hindu Christian Studies the reasons for occasional flourishing and decline in such studies and the fragile conditions under which the field can flourish in the 21st century The chapters examine key instances of Christian Hindu learning highlighting the Jesuit engagement with Hinduism the modern Hindu reception of Western thought and certain advances in the study of religion that enhance intellectual cooperation This book is a significant contribution to a sophisticated understanding of Christianity and Hinduism in relation It presents a robust defense of comparative theology and of Hindu Christian Studies as a necessarily theological discipline It will be of wide interest in the fields of Religious Studies Theology Christianity and Hindu Studies
