Josephus and Modern Scholarship (1937-1980) Louis H. Feldman, 2015-11-27 No detailed description available for Josephus and Modern Scholarship 1937 1980

Josephus's Interpretation of the Bible Louis H. Feldman, 1999-01-18 Josephus A D 37 100 a pro Roman Jew closely associated with the emperor Titus is the earliest systematic commentator on the Bible as well as one of the foremost historians of the beginning of the Christian era Politically Josephus was pro Roman and although he had no sympathy for extreme Jewish nationalism he was a zealous defender of Jewish religion and culture Louis H Feldman examines the principles that guided Josephus in his understanding of the Bible investigating his creative contribution in the rewriting of biblical accounts This comprehensive study evaluates Josephus as a historian and demonstrates the originality and consistency of his work as an author The first part of Feldman s work attempts to understand Josephus s purposes and techniques in retelling the Bible The second part reviews Josephus s treatment of twelve key biblical figures In addition to its reevaluation of an important early historian this unique compendium provides a mine of information on the reassessment of the most important biblical figures

Selected Studies in Pseudepigrapha and Apocrypha with Special Reference to the Armenian Tradition Michael Stone, 2024-03-11 This work contains selected essays dealing with the Jewish Literature of the Second Temple period focusing around central themes of recent research Stone s varied interests are reflected in this book gathered around four main themes Under the title Enoch and the Testaments are assembled studies which present and draw the implications from recent discoveries including the Dead Sea Scrolls as they modify the view of these two pivotal documents of ancient Judaism Another focus of Stone s work has been 4 Ezra or 2 Esdras a work reflecting the situation of Judaism and especially to the understanding of apocalypticism form a third section of the present work while the particular development of apocryphal literature in Armenian is its fourth division This work presents a range of significant studies in areas standing at the forefront of the study of Ancient Judaism

Victim and Victimizer Yiu-Wing Fung, 2000-06-01 This book attempts an interesting exercise in character analysis It scrutinizes the speeches of Joseph in such a way as to expose the problematic nature of his claims to know God s intentions While Judah is forced by Joseph s test to choose slavery for the sake of his father s survival the ironic reversal of Judah s role from victimizer to victim is undercut by the rationale by which he had Joseph sold in order to save him Unwittingly Joseph mistakes this rationale as a divine principle that undergirds his suffering and he dreams of domination for the same purpose of survival He is unaware of Judah s real predicament and this double blindness calls into doubt the coalescence of perspectives of Joseph and the narrator

Biblical Figures Outside the Bible Michael E. Stone, Theodore A. Bergren, 2002-11-01 1999 Biblical Archaeology Society Publication Award for the category Best Book

Relating to the Old Testament Explores the evolution of the biographical traditions of some fifteen biblical figures Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire J Edward Ellis, 2007-06-08 Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire refutes the argument put forward by some scholars that Paul in his sexual ethics is in partial agreement with a current of thought in the Greco Roman world that condemns sexual desire and advocates the elimination of such desire from marital sex Ellis argues against not only this line of thought but also the attendant notion that this way of thinking underlies Paul's comments on homosexual activity in Romans 1 Through close analysis of numerous ancient passages relating to sexual desire Ellis demonstrates that ancient thinkers tend to condemn not sexual desire in itself but excessive sexual desire and lack of self control Furthermore he contends that ancient auditors would have been unlikely to see condemnation of sexual desire in Paul's words in 1 Thessalonians 4 or 1 Corinthians 7

The Jewish Novel in the Ancient World Lawrence M. Wills, 2015-03-11 Lawrence M Wills here traces the literary evolution of popular Jewish narratives written during the period 200 BCE 100 CE In many ways these narratives were similar to Greek and Roman novels of the same era as well as to popular novels of indigenous peoples within the Roman Empire Yet as a group they demonstrated a variety of novelistic innovations the inclusion of adventurous episodes passages of description and of dialogue concern with psychological motivation and the introduction of female characters Wills focuses on five novels Greek Esther Greek Daniel Judith Tobit and Joseph and Aseneth Drawing on a wide range of theoretical works he delineates the techniques and motifs of the Jewish novel shows how the genre both initiated and distanced itself from nonfictional prose such as historical and philosophical writing discusses its relation to Greco Roman romance and describes the social conditions governing its emergence and reception Wills also places the novels in historical context situating them between the Hebrew Bible on the one hand and subsequent developments in Jewish and Christian literature on the other Wills sees the Jewish novel as a popular form of writing that provided amusement for an expanding audience of Jewish entrepreneurs merchants and bureaucrats In an important sense he maintains it was a product of the novelistic impulse the impulse to transfer oral stories to a written medium to reach a more literate audience

The Provenance of the Pseudepigrapha James R. Davila, 2005 This book analyzes a substantial corpus of Old Testament pseudepigrapha proposing a methodology for understanding them first in the social context of their earliest Christian manuscripts and inferring still earlier Jewish or other origins only as required by positive evidence

The Great Controversy Tom de Bruin, 2014-12-10 The Testaments of the Twelve Patriarchs T12P one of the longest texts of the so called Old Testament Pseudepigrapha presents the fictitious farewell speeches that the twelve sons of Jacob held on their respective deathbeds Tom de Bruin examines these twelve monologues as literary products in order to understand the function of the text for the setting in which it was composed He approaches T12P from three directions an analysis of the paraenetic parts a discussion of the anthropology and a comparative examination of other contemporaneous works documenting a world view similar to T12P These three approaches merge into a detailed discussion about the reasoning behind the admonition in T12P and identifies the fundamental message of the text namely that each person stands between the forces of good and evil and that this person is called to constantly decide which way to follow Though T12P is still familiar with the apocalyptic origin and plays with the cosmological implications of this great controversy the text clearly puts the emphasis on the battle inside each individual It is thereby an important witness for reinterpreting and reapplying apocalyptic traditions through ethicizing them and focusing on the individual Such an individualistic application of the great controversy theme can be found in a number of other mostly Christian works revealing a similar understanding of mankind s existence and development as in T12P The analysis of the ethical reappropriation of apocalyptic traditions in T12P provides important insights into the foundations of early Christian ethics ancient anthropology and the Jewish and Christian understanding of the struggle between good and evil

Reading and Teaching Ancient Fiction Sara R. Johnson, Rubén R. Dupertuis, Christine Shea, 2018-03-23 The third volume of research on ancient fiction This volume includes essays presented in the Ancient Fiction and Early Christian and Jewish Narrative section of the Society of Biblical Literature Contributors explore facets of ongoing research into the interplay of history fiction and narrative in ancient Greco Roman Jewish and Christian texts The essays examine the ways in which ancient authors in a variety of genre and cultural settings employed a range of narrative strategies to reflect on pressing contemporary issues to shape community identity or to provide moral and educational guidance for their readers Not content merely to offer new insights this volume also highlights strategies for integrating the fruits of this research into the university classroom and beyond Features Insight into the latest developments in ancient Mediterranean narrative Exploration of how to use ancient texts to encourage students to examine assumptions about ancient gender and sexuality or to view familiar texts from a new perspective Close readings of classical authors as well as canonical and noncanonical Jewish and Christian texts
