Art Education in Israel Sigal Barkai, David Pariser, 2025-06-11 This book describes unique aspects of the education system in Israel specifically focusing on art education and its role in fostering social change and diversity. It delves into art-based research, autobiographical methodologies, and interviews showcasing the transformative potential of qualitative research in capturing authentic experiences and promoting social engagement through art education. It shows how practitioner-researchers navigate the complexities of art education, shaping and refining their teaching methodologies to effectively meet the needs of their students. By exhibiting viewpoints from secular and religious Jewish Israelis, Palestinian citizens of Israel, as well as diverse gender and ethnic communities within Israeli society, it encapsulates the vibrant texture of the country's educational landscape. It also highlights the actions of women as educators and activists who resist oppression wherever it may exist. The book demonstrates a multifaceted perspective on the potential for healing that can be harnessed through art education within specific societal and contextual settings. This vision can be applied and adapted to various other locations worldwide. This book offers rich descriptions of the concerns and dynamics that characterize Israeli art education projects as a model for other places around the world dealing with similar issues of ethnic and national diversity, political conflicts, violent extremism, and migration. It is beneficial to readers who aim to improve social dimensions such as recognizing a diversity of cultures and developing innovation in teaching methods with art education as the catalyst.

Teaching Artistic Research Ruth Mateus-Berr, Richard Jochum, 2020-05-05. With artistic research becoming an established paradigm in art education, several questions arise: How do we train young artists and designers to actively engage in the production of knowledge and aesthetic experiences in an expanded field? How do we best prepare students for their own artistic research? What comprises a curriculum that accommodates a changed learning-making and research landscape? And what is the difference between teaching art and teaching artistic research? What are the specific skills and competences a teacher should have? Inspired by a symposium at the University of Applied Arts Vienna in 2018, this book presents a diversity of well-reasoned answers to these questions.

Artful Teaching David M. Donahue, Jennifer B. Stuart, 2024. Both a practitioner's guide and a school reform model, the new edition of this popular book shares exemplary arts integration practices across the K-8 curriculum. Rather than providing formulas or scripts to be followed, each chapter carefully describes how the arts offer an entry point for gaining insight into why and how students learn to assist teachers in developing their own philosophy and practice This updated second edition features scholarship and art at the forefront of contemporary practice and addresses social justice issues such as racial climate and economic justice Chapter authors provide concrete ideas along with lively examples of public school teachers integrating visual arts music drama and dance with subject matter that includes English social studies science and mathematics The book s narrative approach makes arts integration accessible and understandable to novice and experts alike Readers of this new edition will come away with a deeper understanding of why and how to use the arts every day in every school to reach every child Book Features Explains how arts integration across the K 8 curriculum contributes to student learning Features examples of how integrated arts education functions in classrooms when it is done well Introduces historical and contemporary artists whose work is transdisciplinary Brings together and speaks to diverse stakeholders including classroom teachers teaching artists school administrators and teacher educators Explores intensive teacher education and principal training programs now underway in several higher education institutions A thorough guide to integrating art into other disciplinary subjects recommended SchoolArts for first edition

Handbook of the Cultural Foundations of Learning Na'ilah Suad Nasir, Carol D. Lee, Roy Pea, Maxine McKinney de Royston, 2020-05-01 Edited by a diverse group of expert collaborators the Handbook of the Cultural Foundations of Learning is a landmark volume that brings together cutting edge research examining learning as entailing inherently cultural processes Conceptualizing culture as both a set of social practices and connected to learner identities the chapters synthesize contemporary research in elaborating a new vision of the cultural nature of learning moving beyond summary to reshape the field toward studies that situate culture in the learning sciences alongside equity of educational processes and outcomes With the recent increased focus on culture and equity within the educational research community this volume presents a comprehensive innovative treatment of what has become one of the field s most timely and relevant topics The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Funded by The Spencer Foundation
