Kinnahan, 2005-05 Lyric Interventions explores linguistically innovative poetry by contemporary women in North America and Britain whose experiments give rise to fresh feminist readings of the lyric subject The works discussed by Linda Kinnahan explore the lyric subject in relation to the social an I as a product of social discourse and as a conduit for change Contributing to discussions of language oriented poetics through its focus on women writers and feminist perspectives this study of lyric experimentation brings attention to the cultural contexts of nation gender and race as they significantly shift the terms by which the experimental is produced defined and understood This study focuses upon lyric intervention in distinct but related spheres as they link public and ideological norms of identity Firstly lyric innovations with visual and spatial realms of cultural practice and meaning particularly as they naturalize ideologies of gender and race in North America and the post colonial legacies of the Caribbean are investigated in the works of Barbara Guest Kathleen Fraser Erica Hunt and M Nourbese Philip Secondly experimental engagements with nationalist rhetorics of identity marking the works of Carol Ann Duffy Denise Riley Wendy Mulford and Geraldine Monk are explored in relation to contemporary evocations of self in Britain And thirdly in discussions of all of the poets but particularly accented in regard to Guest Fraser Riley Mulford and Monk formal experimentation with the lyric I is considered through gendered encounters with critical and avant garde discourses of poetics Throughout the study Kinnahan seeks to illuminate and challenge the ways in which visual and verbal constructs function to make readable the subjectivities historically supporting white male centered power within the worlds of art poetry social locations or national policy The potential of the feminist innovative lyric to generate linguistic surprise simultaneously with engaging risky strategies of social intervention lends force and significance to the public engagement of such poetic experimentation This fresh energetic study will be of great interest to literary critics and womens studies scholars as well as poets on both sides of the Atlantic A History of

The Political Poetess Tricia Lootens,2019-12-03 The Political Poetess challenges familiar accounts of the figure of the nineteenth century Poetess offering new readings of Poetess performance and criticism In performing the Poetry of Woman the mythic Poetess has long staked her claims as a creature of separate spheres one exempt from emerging readings of nineteenth century women's political poetics Turning such assumptions on their heads Tricia Lootens models a nineteenth century domestic or private sphere whose imaginary apolitical heart is also the heart of nation and empire and as revisionist histories increasingly attest is traumatized and haunted by histories of slavery Setting aside late Victorian attempts to forget the unfulfilled sentimental promises of early antislavery victories The Political Poetess restores Poetess performances like Julia Ward Howe's Battle Hymn of the Republic and Emma Lazarus's The New Colossus to view and with them the vitality of the Black Poetess within African American public life Crossing boundaries of nation period and discipline to connect the dots of Poetess performance Lootens demonstrates how new histories and ways of reading position poetic texts by Felicia Dorothea Hemans Elizabeth Barrett Browning Dinah Mulock Craik George Eliot and Frances E W Harper as convergence points for larger engagements ranging from Germaine de Staël to G W F Hegel Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bishop Alice Walker and beyond

Networking the Nation Alison Chapman, 2015-07-16 How did nineteenth century women's poetry shift from the poetess poetry of lyric effusion and hyper femininity to the muscular epic of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh Networking the Nation rewrites women's poetic traditions by demonstrating the debt that Barrett Browning's revolutionary poetics owed to a circle of American and British women poets living in Florence and campaigning in their poetry and in their salons for Italian Unification These women poets Isa Blagden Elizabeth Kinney Eliza Ogilvy and Theodosia Garrow Trollope formed with Barrett Browning a network of poetry sociability and politics which was devoted to the mission of campaigning for Italy as an independent nation state In their poetic experiments with the active lyric voice in their forging of a transnational persona through the periodical press in their salons and spiritualist séances the women poets formed a network that attempted to assert and perform an independent unified Italy in their work Networking the Nation maps the careers of these expatriate women poets who were based in Florence in the key years of Risorgimento politics racing their transnational social and print communities and the problematic but schismatic shift in their poetry from the conventional sphere of the poetess In the fraught and thrilling engagement with their adopted nation's revolutionary turmoil and in their experiments with different types of writing agency the women poets in this book offer revolutions of other kinds revolutions of women's poetry and the very act of writing

Encyclopedia of Postcolonial Studies John Charles Hawley, 2001-09-30 The collapse of empires has resulted in a remarkable flourishing of indigenous cultures in former colonies The end of the colonial era has also witnessed a renaissance of creativity in the postcolonial world as modern writers embrace their heritage The experience of postcoloniality has also drawn the attention of academics from various disciplines and has given rise to a growing body of scholarship This reference work overviews the present state of postcolonial studies and offers a refreshingly polyphonic treatment of the effects of globalization on literary studies in the 21st century The volume includes more than 150 alphabetically arranged entries on postcolonial studies around the world Entries on individual authors provide brief biographical details but primarily examine the author's handling of postcolonial themes So too entries on theoreticians offer background information and summarize the person's contributions to critical thought. Entries on national literatures explore the history of postcoloniality and the ways in which writers have broadly engaged their legacy while those on important topics discuss the theoretical origin and current ramifications of key concepts in postcolonial studies. Cross references and cited works for further reading are included while a comprehensive bibliography concludes the volume.

With the Face of the Enemy Katharina Motyl, 2024-11-20 With the Face of the Enemy focuses on the writings of Arab American authors between 2001 and 2011. Positioned as Arab Americans in the post 9/11 U.S., this underexamined group of writers projects unique insights into both the Western and Arab worlds. Using the lens of postcolonial literary theory, Katharina Motyl explores how the War on Terror turned Arab Americans into enemies within their own country. Countering the master narrative of a clash of civilizations between the Islamic world and the West, the fictional and poetic texts discussed in this book alternate between deconstructing neo-Orientalist stereotypes and critiquing U.S. neocolonialism in the Greater Middle East. On the one hand, and critically examining Arab culture for instance its patriarchal outlook, on the other, Motyl pays special attention to texts written by Arab American women who have radically advocated for self-determination in areas like sexuality and mode of dress, thus rejecting the stereotype of Arab women as oppressed victims. With the Face of the Enemy takes a serious look at how the aesthetics of Arab American literature negotiates the many psychosocial consequences the domestic War on Terror and the U.S. wars in Iraq and Afghanistan have had on the Arab American community.
