

What is Criminal Justice?

- A system comprised of various components which exist on the federal, state and local government
- A process or way of handling people that break the law (commit offenses/ perpetrate crime)
- A perspective on how to handle the people that break the law
- A road map similar to the Waze App or Google Maps

Made up of three major components:

1. Policing
2. Courts
3. Corrections

What makes the system “a system”

The relationship between components

- Police, courts and the correctional systems function both in relationship to each other, and as their own entity.
- Each group makes decisions that ultimately impact other groups.
- BUT they also make decisions that only help themselves and the people that work for them
