Study of Europe in the U.S. Christopher J. Makins, 1999-06 European Studies and Europe: Twenty Years of Euroculture Janny de Jong, Marek Neuman, Senka Neuman Stanivuković, Margriet van der Waal, 2020 In 1998 the Master's programme Euroculture started with the aim to offer amid the many existing programmes that focused on European institutional developments a European studies curriculum that puts the interplay of culture society and politics in Europe at the heart of the curriculum Among other topics the programme focused on how Europe and European integration could be contextualised and what these concepts meant to European citizens In June 2018 Euroculture celebrated its twentieth anniversary with a conference to discuss not only the changes within the MA Euroculture itself but also to reflect upon the changes in the field of European studies over the last two decades writ large This volume brings together the main findings of this conference Since its start Euroculture has engaged with European studies by providing a space for cooperation between more mainstream oriented research on the one hand and a variety of sociological historiographical post structuralist and post colonial perspectives on Europe on the other This has enabled Euroculture to contextualise the emergence and development of European institutions historically and in relation to broader socio political and cultural processes Its methodology that treats theoretical and analytical work classroom teaching and engaged practice as integral parts of critical inquiry has significantly contributed to its ability to continuously enhance scholarly discussions The volume is divided into two parts which are intrinsically linked The first part contains reflections on the field of European studies and on concepts analytical perspectives and methodologies that have emerged through interdisciplinary dialogues in Euroculture European studies The second part contains contributions that reflect upon the Euroculture programme itself discussing both changes and continuities in the curriculum and didactic methods outlining possible venues for further developing the educational and research programme that is firmly embedded in a network of partners that have been closely cooperating over a span of no less than two decades

New Perspectives on Turkey-EU Relations Chris Rumford, 2014-10-29 This book makes the case for looking afresh at Turkey EU relations in order to appreciate the richness and complexity of a relationship which is now more than 50 years old and is still not close to reaching fulfilment The contributors challenge conventional attempts to understand Turkey EU relations revealing that EU integration studies has been rather poor at understanding the global context within which Turkey EU developments take place More surprising perhaps EU integration studies has also struggled to give sufficient weight to the potential of Turkey's domestic politics to shape EU enlargement The volume attempts to correct these imbalances by offering both a global context and new perspectives on the drivers of domestic politics It represents a shift from a narrow EU integration enlargement agenda Turkey's position vis a vis the EU cannot be adequately captured by simplistic notions of conditionality harmonization and an uncritical interpretation of Europeanization A more rounded view of Turkey EU relations is advanced based upon a broader context of European and global transformations The contributions collected here offer an interpretation of Turkey EU relations from a novel perspective utilize a new framework of theory and draw upon insights and perspectives from disciplines underrepresented in mainstream study of Turkey EU relations This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary European Studies

European Multiplicity Didem Buhari-Gulmez,Chris Rumford,2014-06-30 European Multiplicity does not conform to the expectations of a narrow EU studies agenda wherein European integration is seen as the destiny for the continent each country including non members being compelled to seek a place in an unfolding order united in diversity Rather the book demonstrates the benefits of an agenda shift away from an overriding concern with integration towards a consideration of the possibility that a singular Europe may not exist and that the multiplicity of Europe is all around us As the chapters in this volume highlight multiplicity reveals itself across the range of EU studies as a key dimension in Europe s transformation Multiplicity is evident both in cases where official EU policy exists labour migration citizenship regional policy and in areas which are central to European life more generally multiculturalism multilingualism the public sphere Euroscepticism The idea of European multiplicity also challenges the established notion that plurality can be accounted for in terms of identity politics Moreover it confronts the tendency to see Europe in terms of binaries such as East West old new North South core periphery Christian Muslim EU members non members and top down bottom up A core feature of this book is the establishment of the viability of an approach to studying Europe which does not rely on the binaries upon which thinking about identity is all too often based Many Europes is one of the growing issues in EU scholarship no longer confined to the margins of European Studies The book makes a compelling case for the idea that Europe is best understood in terms of its inherent multiplicity

Islam, Religious Liberty and Constitutionalism in Europe Mark Hill KC,Lina Papadopoulou,2024-02-08 For centuries since the Roman Empire s adoption of Christianity the continent of Europe has been perceived as something of a Christian fortress Today the increase in the number of Muslims living in Europe and the prominence of Islamic belief pose questions not only for Europe s religious traditions but also for its constitutional make up This book examines these challenges within the legal and political framework of Europe The volume s contributors range from academics at leading universities to former judges and politicians Its 19 chapters focus on constitutional challenges human rights with a focus on religious freedom and securitisation and Islamophobia while adopting supranational and comparative approaches This book will appeal not merely to academics and law students in the UK and the EU but to anyone involved in diplomacy and international relations including political scientists lobbyists and members of NGOs It explores these contested relationships to open up new spaces in how we think about religious freedom and co existence in Europe and the crucial role that Islam has had and continues to have in its development

The European Union Munir Hussain, 2016-12-17 This book outlines the foreign and security policy of the European Union as envisaged under the Common Foreign and Security Policy CFSP Since establishing the CFSP in the 1990s the European Union EU has showed its enthusiasm for global leadership empowering European citizenship and developing its international standing as an economic and political supranational organization In particular the book examines the EU s peacekeeping and conflict resolution dynamics in order to analyze the political and security dimensions of the EU It argues that due to the loose collective foreign policy and inter bloc dilemmas the EU has failed to perform as an actor of substance in international politics However at the regional level the EU s peacekeeping efforts have enjoyed considerable success The book further explains the dynamics of successful regional and unsuccessful extra regional peacekeeping and conflict resolution efforts on the part of the EU with the help of a case study The case study assesses two key hypotheses that the stronger an EU member state s collective Europeanization approach is the higher the success of the EU is in inter bloc disputes and that the weaker an EU member state s execution of the CFSP on international disputes is the less successful the EU is in the context of international peacekeeping
