Conversations with the Great Moviemakers of Hollywood's Golden Age at the American Film Institute George Stevens, Jr., 2009-05-27 ONE OF THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER'S 100 GREATEST FILM BOOKS OF ALL TIME The first book to bring together interviews of master moviemakers from the American Film Institute's renowned seminars Conversations with the Great Moviemakers offers an unmatched history of American cinema in the words of its greatest practitioners Here are the incomparable directors Frank Capra Elia Kazan King Vidor David Lean Fritz Lang I learned only from bad films William Wyler and George Stevens renowned producers and cinematographers celebrated screenwriters Ray Bradbury and Ernest Lehman as well as the immortal Ingmar Bergman and Federico Fellini Making a movie is a mathematical operation It's absolutely impossible to improvise Taken together these conversations offer uniquely intimate access to the thinking the wisdom and the genius of cinema's most talented pioneers The Problem of the Color[blind] Brandi Wilkins

Catanese, 2012-10-16 Catanese's beautifully written and cogently argued book addresses one of the most persistent sociopolitical questions in contemporary culture She suggests that it is performance and the difference it makes that complicates the terms by which we can even understand multicultural and colorblind concepts A tremendously illuminating study that promises to break new ground in the fields of theatre and performance studies African American studies feminist theory cultural studies and film and television studies Daphne Brooks Princeton University Adds immeasurably to the ways in which we can understand the contradictory aspects of racial discourse and performance as they have emerged during the last two decades An ambitious smart and fascinating book Jennifer DeVere Brody Duke University Are we a multicultural nation or a colorblind one The Problem of the Color blind examines this vexed question in American culture by focusing on black performance in theater film and television The practice of colorblind casting choosing actors without regard to race assumes a performing body that is somehow race neutral But where exactly is race neutrality located in the eyes of the spectator in the body of the performer in the medium of the performance In analyzing and theorizing such questions Brandi Wilkins Catanese explores a range of engaging and provocative subjects including the infamous debate between playwright August Wilson and drama critic Robert Brustein the film career of Denzel Washington Suzan Lori Parks's play Venus the phenomenon of postblackness as represented in the Studio Museum in Harlem's Freestyle exhibition the performer Ice Cube's transformation from icon of gangsta rap to family movie star and the controversial reality television series Black White Concluding that ideologies of transcendence are ahistorical and therefore unenforceable Catanese advances the concept of racial transgression a process of acknowledging rather than ignoring the racialized histories of performance as her chapters move between readings of dramatic texts films popular culture and debates in critical race theory and the culture wars

Movies and Methods Bill Nichols, 1976 VOLUME 2 Movies and Methods Volume II captures the developments that have given history and genre studies imaginative new models and indicates how feminist structuralist and psychoanalytic approaches to film have achieved fresh valuable insights In his thoughtful introduction Nichols provides a context for the paradoxes that confront film studies today He shows how shared methods and approaches continue to stimulate much of the best writing about film points to common problems most critics and theorists have tried to resolve and describes the internal contradictions that have restricted the usefulness of post structuralism Mini introductions place each essay in a larger context and suggest its linkages with other essays in the volume A great variety of approaches and methods characterize film writing today and the final part conveys their diversity from statistical style analysis to phenomenology and from gay criticisms to neoformalism This concluding part also shows how the rigorous use of a broad range of approaches has helped remove post structuralist criticism from its position of dominance through most of the seventies and early eighties Publisher description

Global Film Color Sarah Street, Joshua Yumibe, 2024 Global Film Color The Monopack Revolution at Midcentury explores color filmmaking around the world during the mid century era when color came to dominate global film production As Eastmancolor Agfacolor Fujicolor and other film stocks became broadly available and affordable national film industries increasingly converted to color transforming the look and feel of global cinema Orange Coast Magazine, 1987-05 Orange Coast Magazine is the oldest continuously published lifestyle magazine in the region bringing together Orange County's most affluent coastal communities through smart fun and timely editorial content as well as compelling photographs and design Each issue features an award winning blend of celebrity and newsmaker profiles service journalism and authoritative articles on dining fashion home design and travel As Orange County's only paid subscription lifestyle magazine with circulation figures guaranteed by the Audit Bureau of Circulation Orange Coast is the definitive guidebook into the county's luxe lifestyle Jumping the Color Line Susie Trenka, 2021-02-02 From the first synchronized sound films of the late 1920s through the end of World War II African American music and dance styles were ubiquitous in films Black performers however were marginalized mostly limited to appearing in specialty acts and various types of short films whereas stardom was reserved for Whites Jumping the Color Line discusses vernacular jazz dance in film as a focal point of American race relations Looking at intersections of race gender and class the book examines how the racialized and gendered body in film performs challenges and negotiates identities and stereotypes Arguing for the transformative and subversive potential of jazz dance performance onscreen the six chapters address a variety of films and performers including many that have received little attention to date Topics include Hollywood's first Black female star Nina Mae McKinney male tap dance class acts in Black cast short films of the early 1930s the film career of Black tap soloist Jeni LeGon the role of dance in the Soundies jukebox shorts of the 1940s cinematic images of the Lindy hop and a series of teen films from the early 1940s that appealed primarily to young White fans of swing culture With a majority of examples taken from marginal film forms such as shorts and B movies the book highlights their role in disseminating alternative images of racial and gender identities as embodied by dancers images that were at least partly at odds with those typically found in major Hollywood productions

Cinematic Landscapes Linda C. Ehrlich, David Desser, 1994 On Chinese and Japanese art and cinema Color Chart Ann Temkin, 2008 Color Chart celebrates a paradox the lush beauty that results when contemporary artists assign colour decisions to chance readymade source or arbitrary system Midway through the 20th century long held convictions regarding the spiritual truth or scientific validity of particular colours gave way to an excitement about colour as a mass produced and standardized commercial product The Romantic quest for personal expression instead became Andy Warhol's I want to be a machine the artistry of mixing pigments was eclipsed by Frank Stella's Straight out of the can it can't get better than that This book and the exhibition it accompanies is the first devoted to this pivotal transformation and features work by some forty artists ranging from Ellsworth Kelly and Gerhard Richter to Sherrie Levine and Damien Hirst The Film Daily Directors' Annual and Production Guide, 1929 A Cultural History of Color in the Modern Age Anders Steinvall, Sarah Street, 2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Color in the Modern Age covers the period 1920 to the present a time of extraordinary developments in colour science philosophy art design and technologies The expansion of products produced with synthetic dyes was accelerated by mass consumerism as artists designers architects writers theater and filmmakers made us a color conscious society This influenced what we wore how we chose to furnish and decorate our homes and how we responded to the vibrancy and chromatic eclecticism of contemporary visual cultures The volume brings together research on how philosophers scientists linguists and artists debated color's polyvalence its meaning to different cultures and how it could be measured manufactured manipulated and enjoyed Color shapes an individual's experience of the world and also how society gives particular spaces objects and moments meaning The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Color examines how color has been created traded used and interpreted over the last 5000 years The themes covered in each volume are color philosophy and science color technology and trade power and identity religion and ritual body and clothing language and psychology literature and the performing arts art architecture and interiors and artefacts Anders Steinvall is Senior Lecturer in English Linguistics at Ume University Sweden Sarah Street is Professor of Film at the University of Bristol UK Volume 6 in the Cultural History of Color set General Editors Carole P Biggam and Kirsten Wolf The Hollywood Colored Eric Ware, 2003 Luke and Benny are two best friends with big dreams in the wrong place and time Braxton Alabama The 1920s Benny's the sexy blues singer who does as he pleases Luke's the odd genius a film maker in the rough whose qualities go unappreciated in his limited environment A racist attack forces them to flee to Hollywood for fame and revenge In Living Color Bernadette Giacomazzo, 2023-02-15 An entertaining yet candid examination of the popular sketch show In Living Color When the pilot for In Living Color aired for the first time on April 15 1990 America had never seen anything like it And they loved it Over five seasons the show broke racial cultural and comedy boundaries creating unforgettable sketches that dealt almost exclusively with Black subject matter In Living Color A Cultural History celebrates the iconic show and its creators while also providing a conscientious examination of the sketches themselves Bernadette Giacomazzo reveals how the show successfully tackled topics that are still salient today from diversity in Hollywood and workplace racism to mass incarceration and blackfishing while other sketches have not aged quite so well Giacomazzo also looks at how the show helped break the careers of Jamie Foxx Jim Carrey and David Alan Grier amongst others and how its most infamous sketches such as Fire Marshall Bill Homey the Clown East Hollywood Squares and Men on Film helped shape comedy in the twenty first century In Living Color was one of the few sketch shows of the 1990s that effectively tackled racial and social issues with humor It did so more successfully than Saturday Night Live ever did because unlike the long standing late night show In Living Color had a largely Black writer s room This cultural history finally gives the influential show and its creators the recognition they deserve for their role in changing the face of television

Hollywood's African American Films Ryan Jay Friedman,2011 In 1929 and 1930 during the Hollywood studios conversion to synchronized sound film production white controlled trade magazines and African American newspapers celebrated a vogue for Negro films Hollywood s African American Films argues that the movie business turned to black musical performance to both resolve technological and aesthetic problems introduced by the medium of talking pictures and at the same time to appeal to the white Broadway audience that patronized their most lucrative first run theaters Capitalizing on highbrow associations with white slumming in African American cabarets and on the cultural linkage between popular black musical styles and natural acoustics studios produced a series of African American cast and white cast films featuring African American sequences Ryan Jay Friedman asserts that these transitional films reflect contradictions within prevailing racial ideologies arising most clearly in the movies treatment of African American characters decisions to migrate Regardless of how the films represent these choices they all prompt elaborate visual and narrative structures of containment that tend to highlight rather than suppress historical tensions surrounding African American social mobility Jim Crow codes and white exploitation of black labor

Color by Fox Kristal Brent Zook,1999-05-13 Following the overwhelming success of The Cosby Show in the 1980s an unprecedented shift took place in television history white executives turned to black dollars as a way of salvaging network profits lost in the war against video cassettes and cable T V Not only were African American viewers watching disproportionately more network television than the general population but as Nielsen finally realized they preferred black shows As a result African American producers writers directors and stars were given an unusual degree of creative control over shows such as The Fresh Prince of Bel Air Roc Living Single and New York Undercover What emerged were radical representations of African American memory and experience Offering a fascinating examination of the explosion of black television programming in the 1980s and 1990s this book provides for the first time ever an interpretation of black TV based in both journalism and critical theory Locating a persistent black nationalist desire a yearning for home and community in the shows produced by and for African Americans in this period Kristal Brent Zook shows how the Fox hip hop sitcom both reinforced and rebelled against earlier black sitcoms from the sixties and seventies Incorporating interviews with such prominent executives producers and stars as Keenen Ivory Wayans Sinbad Quincy Jones Robert Townsend Charles Dutton Yvette Lee Bowser and Ralph Farquhar this study looks at both production and reception among African American viewers providing nuanced readings of the shows themselves as well as the sociopolitical contexts in which they emerged While black TV during this period may seem trivial or buffoonish to some Color by Fox reveals its deep rooted ties to African American protest literature and autobiography and a desire for social transformation Hollywood's New Yorker Marc Raymond,2013-03-13 When Martin Scorsese finally won an Academy Award in 2007 for The Departed it was widely viewed as the crowning achievement of a remarkable film career But what it also represented was an acceptance by Hollywood of a man who became a prestigious auteur precisely because of his status as an outsider from New York For someone with a high culture reputation like Scorsese s this middlebrow sign of respectability was not about cultural standing rather it was about using and even sacrificing his distinctive outsider status for a greater share of industry authority within the world of Hollywood In Hollywood's New Yorker Marc Raymond offers a fresh look at Scorsese s career in relation to the critical and social environment of the past fifty years He traces Scorsese s career and films through his association with various cultural institutions from his role as a student and instructor at New York University to his move to Hollywood and his relationship with the studio system to his relationship with prestigious institutions like the Museum of Modern Art This sociological approach to film authorship provides analysis of previously overlooked Scorsese projects particularly his documentary work and gives importance to the role his extracurricular activities in the film preservation movement have played in the rise of his reputation Hollywood's New Yorker places Scorsese and his films firmly within the various time periods of his career and compares the director with his peers from fellow New Yorkers like Brian De Palma and Woody Allen to New Hollywood movie brats such as Francis Ford Coppola and Steven Spielberg The result is a complete picture of Scorsese and the post World War II American film culture he has both shaped and been shaped by Film Year Book ,1938
