Meyer, 2013-11-30 From the beginning of the twentieth century to World War II farm wife May Lyford Davis kept a daily chronicle that today offers a window into a way of life that has all but disappeared May and her husband Elmo lived through two decades of prosperity the Great Depression and two World Wars in their Midwestern farming community Like many women of her time Davis kept diaries that captured the everyday events of the family farm she also kept meticulous farming accounts In doing so she left an extraordinary record that reflects not only her own experiences but also the history of early twentieth century American agriculture May and Elmo s story engagingly told by Carrie A Meyer showcases the large scale evolution of agriculture from horses to automobiles and tractors a surprisingly vibrant family and community life and the business of commercial farming Details such as what items were bought and sold what was planted and harvested the temperature and rainfall births and deaths and the direction of the wind are gathered to reveal a rich picture of a world shared by many small farmers With sustainable and small scale farming again on the rise in the United States Days on the Family Farm resonates with both the profound and mundane aspects of rural life past and present in the Midwest Early Days in the Forest Service United States. Forest Service, United States. Forest Service. Northern Region, 1944 Post Office Department Appropriation Bill for 1947 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations, 1946 The Great Depression Put to Music, Song and Dance June Bear Ritchie, 2011-08 The Great Depression is a part of real history that really did happen In 1929 was when it was really bad People were hungry there were no jobs and no money I was born the 1929 and the depression went all through the twenties and thirties and into the early forties but times were getting bad The depression was taking its toll on everything and everyone A little money went a long way but there was no money and to top everything off the stock market fell and everyone lost their money in the stock market the banks closed their doors no one could bet their money out My father had a friend that lost all of his money in the bank in 1929 If you didn't live in this time of history you can't imagine what life was like I watched my father walk 4 miles to work in a rock quarry carrying his lunch box then walk home after sledging rock all day My mother raised a vegetable garden and canned a lot of food so we would have food for the winter This is just a preview Now how did I come up with the name of my book The Great Depression Put to Music Song and Dance My father played violin and mother played piano Music My sister and I sang Song I grew up to teach dance Dance The Cornell Era ,1898 India Rubber & Tire Review ,1929
