

The background of the entire page is a painting of a forest scene. Two women, dressed in late 19th-century attire, stand on a path in a sun-dappled forest. One woman wears a long purple dress and a wide-brimmed hat, while the other wears a blue dress and a similar hat. They appear to be in conversation. The forest is filled with tall trees, some with green leaves and others with autumnal yellow and orange foliage. The ground is covered in fallen leaves and patches of grass. The overall style is that of a 19th-century landscape painting.

This story of his life and work in the late 19th and early 20th centuries is an indispensable chapter in the art and cultural history of Indiana, the Midwest, and the nation.
