Once children hit adolescence it seems as if overnight I love you becomes leave me alone and any question from a parent can be dismissed with one word: fine. She illuminates the rapid neurological developments of a teen's brain along with their new complex emotions and offers strategies for disciplining unsafe actions constructively and empathetically. Apter includes up to the moment case studies that shed light on the anxieties and vulnerabilities that today's teens face and she thoughtfully explores the positives and pitfalls of social media. With perceptive conversation exercises that synthesize research from more than thirty years in the field, Apter illustrates how teens signal their changing needs and identities and how parents can interpret these signals and see the world through their teens' eyes.
