Marx on Capitalism James Furner,2018-09-24 In Marx on Capitalism James Furner offers a new answer to the fundamental question of Marxism can a thesis connecting capital the state and classes with the desirability of socialism be developed from an analysis of the commodity The Interaction Recognition Antinomy Thesis is anchored in a systematic retranslation of Marx s writings It provides an antinomy based strategy for grounding the value of social humanity in working class agency facilitates a dialectical derivation of political representation and condemns capitalism as unjust without appeal to rights Managing the Human Service "system": what Have We Learned from Services Integration? DeWitt John,Project Share,1977 The Human Immunodeficiency Virus Emilio Emini,2021-04-13 The past few years have witnessed an explosive increase in our collective knowledge of the biology of the human immunodeficiency virus HIV. Researchers have acquired new understanding of the virus's biochemistry, molecular biology, pathogenesis, genetics, and immunobiology. Resulting therapeutic advances have significantly prolonged the lives of thousands. Yet the need to develop better therapies is ever more acute, and given the virus's continued spread through the human population, the need for an effective vaccine is urgent. These goals can be accomplished only through the experienced synthesis of information from the many disciplines participating in HIV research and through the insights of new investigators. This volume is designed to lower the barriers imposed on investigators by the sheer volume of available information, information that often can be found only in far-flung and specialized journals. It provides in a single resource an in-depth overview of the diverse areas that constitute HIV research. The result is a broad introduction for students and researchers new to the field as well as an integrated overview for researchers specialized in particular areas of HIV investigation. The volume will also benefit those seeking technical understanding of the virus's biology, including physicians treating HIV-infected patients. Each chapter is a comprehensive presentation of one area of current AIDS research, including work on the virus life cycle, epidemiology, genetics, protease and reverse transcriptase inhibitors, receptor and co-receptor interactions, therapeutic targets, clinical treatment, immunobiology, and vaccines, written by a leading researcher in that area. The contributors are: Jon P. Anderson, Jan Balzarini, Elana Cherry, Thomas J. Coates, Chris Collins, Jon H. Condra, Mark B. Feinberg, Richard B. Gaynor, Matthias G. G. Daria, J. Hazuda, Spyros Kalams, Nathaniel R. Landau, Gerald H. Learn, Norman L. Letvin, James I. Mullins, Will Scott E. Naugler, David Nickle, Matthew Rain, Allen G. Rodrigo, Daniel Shriner, Shalom Spira, Mario Stevenson, Todd Summers, Catherine Ulich, Joseph P. Vacca, Mark A. Wainberg, Bruce D. Walker, and Yang Wang.

Human Evolutionary Biology Michael P. Muehlenbein, 2010-07-29. Wide-ranging and inclusive, this text provides an invaluable review of an expansive selection of topics in human evolution, variation, and adaptability for professionals and students in biological anthropology, evolutionary biology, medical sciences, and psychology. The chapters are organized around four broad themes, with sections devoted to phenotypic and genetic variation within and between human populations, reproductive physiology and behavior, growth and development, and human health from evolutionary and ecological perspectives. An introductory section provides readers with the historical, theoretical, and methodological foundations needed to understand the more complex ideas presented later. Two hundred discussion questions provide starting points for class debate and assignments to test student understanding.
