A History of Islamic Societies Ira M. Lapidus, 2002-08-22 Ira Lapidus classic history of the origins and evolution of Muslim societies revised and updated for this second edition first published in 2002 The Formation of the Sunni Schools of Law Christopher Melchert, 1997 Melchert traces the emergence of jurisprudence by h ad th the personalization of the old regional schools in response and finally the emergence of the classical guild schools with regular means of forming students in the early tenth century Between God and the Sultan Knut S. Vikør, 2005 The contrast between religion and law has been continuous throughout Muslim history Islamic law has always existed in a tension between these two forces God who gave the law and the state the sultan representing society and implementing the law This tension and dynamic have created a very particular history for the law in how it was formulated and by whom in its theoretical basis and its actual rules and in how it was practiced in historical reality from the time of its formation until today That is the main theme of this book Knut S Vikor introduces the development and practice of Islamic law to a wide readership students lawyers and the growing number of those interested in Islamic civilization He summarizes the main concepts of Islamic jurisprudence discusses debates concerning the historicity of Islamic sources of dogma and the dating of early Islamic law describes the classic practice of the law in the formulation and elaboration of legal rules and practice in the courts and sets out various substantive legal rules on such vital matters as the family and economic activity The Beginnings of Islamic Law Lena Salaymeh, 2016-11-14 This is a major and innovative contribution to our understanding of the historical unfolding of Islamic law Scrutinizing its historical contexts Salaymeh proposes that Islamic law is a continuous intermingling of innovation and tradition The book s interdisciplinary approach provides accessible explanations and translations of complex materials and ideas Sexual Violation in Islamic Law Hina Azam, 2015-06-26 Centered on legal discourses of Islam s first six centuries this book analyzes juristic writings on the topic of rape The Formation of the Sunni Schools of Law, 9th-10th Centuries C.E. Christopher Melchert, 2024-01-08 The Sunni schools of law are named for jurists of the eighth and ninth centuries but they did not actually function so early. The main division at that time was rather between adherents of ra'y and ad-th. No school had a regular means of forming students. Relying mainly on biographical dictionaries, this study traces the constitutive elements of the classical schools and finds that they first came together in the early tenth century, particularly with the work of Ibn Surayj d. 306/918 al-Khallal d. 311/923 and a series of anaf teachers ending with al-Karkhi d. 340/952. Malikism prospered in the West for political reasons while the hir and Jarir schools faded out due to their refusal to adopt the common new teaching methods. In this book, the author fleshes out these historical developments in a manner that will be extremely useful to the field while at the same time developing some new and highly original perspectives.

Islamic Law in the Indian Ocean World Mahmood Kooria, Sanne Ravensbergen, 2021-09-23 This book explores the ways in which Muslim communities across the Indian Ocean world produced and shaped Islamic law and its texts, ideas and practices in their local, regional, imperial, national and transregional contexts. With a focus on the production and transmission of Islamic law in the Indian Ocean, the chapters in this book draw from and add to recent discourses on the legal histories and anthropologies of the Indian Ocean rim as well as to the conversations on global Islamic circulations. By doing so, this book argues for the importance of Islamic legal thoughts and practices of the so-called peripheries to the core and kernel of Islamic traditions and the urgency of addressing their long-existing role in the making of the historical and human experience of the religion. Islamic law was and is not merely brought to but also produced in the Indian Ocean world through constant and critical engagements. The book takes a long-term and transregional perspective for a better understanding of the ways in which the oceanic Muslims have historically developed their religious, juridical and intellectual traditions and continue to shape their lives within the frameworks of their religion. Transregional and transdisciplinary in its approach, this book will be of interest to scholars of Islamic Studies, Indian Ocean Studies, Legal History and Legal Anthropology, Area Studies of South and Southeast Asia and East Africa.
