C. van Esch,2015-11-06 A steadfast misbelief in precision bombing evolved into the leading concept for US Army Air Force during the Second World War This concept envisioned the destruction of the German industrial and economic system as the swiftest path to victory However the belief in survivability of bombers through self defense proved incorrect and the Allies realized that the Luftwaffe had to be defeated first by attacking the German aircraft industry On 22 February 1944 Eighth Air Force conducted a mission as part of this offensive During this mission the bombers were recalled because of severe weather On the return trip the airmen decided not to abandon the mission outright but to attack targets of opportunity Because of navigational errors a section of 446 Bombardment Group misidentified the Dutch city Nijmegen as in Germany and bombed it Due to aiming errors the greater part of the bombs missed the designated marshalling yards by a kilometer and hit the city center instead The bombardment caused chaos on the ground It surprised the citizens ignorant by earlier faulty alarms and damage caused great difficulties for the provision of aid relief As a result the bombardment killed about 800 citizens and destroyed the historic city center The Western European and Mediterranean Theaters in World War II Donal Sexton,2011-10-06 The Western European and Mediterranean Theaters in World War II is a concise comprehensive guide for students teachers and history buffs of the Second World War With an emphasis on the American forces in these theaters each entry is accompanied by a brief annotation that will allow researchers to navigate through the vast amount of literature on the campaigns fought in these regions with ease Focusing on all aspects surrounding the U S

Air War Varsity Martin W. Bowman, 2017-10-30 Here Martin Bowman brings us the first book on Operation Varsity to include both British and US air and ground operations as well as the US British and Canadian paratroop and resupply missions all presented together in one ambitious volume Operation Varsity Plunder the last large scale Allied airborne operation of World War II was certainly no walk over Varsity was the airborne part whilst Plunder represented the British amphibious operations by the British Second Army The airlift consisted of 541 transport aircraft containing airborne troops and a further 1 050 troop carriers towing 1 350 gliders The American 17th Airborne Divisions C 46 Commando transports and Waco gliders joined the British 6th Airborne Division C 54s C 47 transport aircrafts Horsas and Hamilcar gliders to form an immense armada that stretched for more than 200 miles across the sky The successful air attack involved more than 10 000 Allied aircraft and was concentrated primarily on Luftwaffe airfields and the German transportation system The combination of the two divisions in one lift made this the largest single day airborne drop in history In this impressive account Martin Bowman weaves firsthand testimony and a compelling historical narrative together with a variety of photographic illustrations many of which have never been published before in order to create a complete and fascinating record of events as they played out in March 1945

Big Week Bill Yenne, 2014-02-04 In just six days the United States Strategic Air Forces changed the course of military offense in World War II During those six days they launched the largest bombing campaign of the war dropping roughly ten thousand tons of bombs in a rain of destruction that would take the skies back from the Nazis The Allies knew that if they were to invade Hitler's Fortress Europe they would have to wrest air superiority from the mighty Luftwaffe The plan of the United States Strategic Air Forces was extremely risky During the week of February 20 1944 and joined by the RAF Bomber Command the USAAF Eighth and Fifteenth Air Force bombers took on this vital mission They ran the gauntlet of the most heavily defended air space in the world to deal a death blow to Germany's aircraft industry and made them pay with the planes already in the air In the coming months this Big Week would prove a deciding factor in the war Both sides were dealt losses but whereas the Allies could recover damage to the Luftwaffe was irreparable Thus Big Week became one of the most important episodes of World War II and coincidentally one of the most overlooked until now
