A History Of Textiles Kax Wilson, 2021-11-28 Originally published in 1979 this volume acts as a reference for the history of textiles. It asks questions on the effect of technology on textiles: how did particular historical periods and locations expand or limit the possibilities for the manufacture of fabrics and how the textile history related to politics and economics, sociology and psychology, art and engineering, anthropology and archaeology, chemistry and physics. Addressing these questions, the author surveys the development of the technical components of fabrics and discusses the textiles of selected places and times. She uses prose drawings and more than 130 photographs to show how each era of textile production reflects its age. This book is designed to serve as a college text and as a reference work for museum researchers. With sections including illustrations and diagrams, key terminology, spinning wool, spinning and raw materials, single ply and cord and fabric construction.

The Dyer's Handbook Dominique Cardon, 2016-08-31 Persian blue, pomegranate, flower, spiny lobster, wine, soup, pale flesh, dove, breast, golden wax, grass, green, green sand, rotten olive, modest plum, agate, rich French, gray, gunpowder of the English, just some of the color names of old fabric to fire the imagination.

Memoirs on Dyeing concerns a unique manuscript from the eighteenth century, a dyer's memoirs from Languedoc containing recipes for dyes with corresponding color samples. It is an exceptional document, hugely rare and of great significance, not only to textile historians but dyers and colorists today, as thanks to the information in the manuscript, the colors can be reproduced exactly with the same ingredients or reproduced using modern techniques by matching the color samples. To the English translation of the text, together with facsimile pages reproduced in color from the original manuscript, are added essays meant to situate it in its historical, economic and technological contexts. For those historians who have long been fascinated by the change in scale and the amount of innovation that occurred in woollen cloth production in Europe during the 17th and 18th centuries, the Memoirs on Dyeing bring firsthand insight into the daily preoccupations and tasks of a key actor in the success story of the Languedocian broadcloth production, specially devised for export to the Levant. Even non-specialists may be interested in understanding the clever management and technical organization that made it possible for the author to produce dye, finish, pack and export up to 1 375 pieces of superfine broadcloth per year, representing nearly 51 km of cloth.
