Gender and War in Twentieth-Century Eastern Europe Nancy M. Wingfield,Maria Bucur,2006-05-09 This volume explores the role of gender on both the home and fighting fronts in eastern Europe during World Wars I and II By using gender as a category of analysis the authors seek to arrive at a more nuanced understanding of the subjective nature of wartime experience and its representations While historians have long equated the fighting front with the masculine and the home front with the feminine the contributors challenge these dichotomies demonstrating that they are based on culturally embedded assumptions about heroism and sacrifice Major themes include the ways in which wartime experiences challenge traditional gender roles postwar restoration of gender order collaboration and resistance the body and memory and commemoration Gendering Global Humanitarianism in the Twentieth Century Esther Möller,Johannes

Paulmann,Katharina Stornig,2020-08-24 This volume is interesting both because of its global focus and its chronology up to the present it covers a good century of changes It will help define the field of gender studies of humanitarianism and its relevance for understanding the history of nation building and a political history that goes beyond nations Glenda Sluga Professor of International History and ARC Kathleen Laureate Fellow at the University of Sydney Australia This volume discusses the relationship between gender and humanitarian discourses and practices in the twentieth century It analyses the ways in which constructions norms and ideologies of gender both shaped and were shaped in global humanitarian contexts The individual chapters present issues such as post genocide relief and rehabilitation humanitarian careers and subjectivities medical assistance community aid child welfare and child soldiering They give prominence to the beneficiaries of aid and their use of humanitarian resources organizations and structures by investigating the effects of humanitarian activities on gender relations in the respective societies Approaching humanitarianism as a global phenomenon the volume considers actors and theoretical positions from the global North and South from Europe to the Middle East Sub Saharan Africa South and South East Asia as well as North America It combines state and non state humanitarian initiatives and scrutinizes their gendered dimension on local regional national and global scales Focusing on the time between the late nineteenth century and the post Cold War era the volume concentrates on a period that not only witnessed a major expansion of humanitarian action worldwide but also saw fundamental changes in gender relations and the gradual emergence of gender sensitive policies in humanitarian organizations in many Western and non Western settings Homefront Catherine Lutz,2001 From secret training operations that use civilians as mock enemies and allies to the low wage satellite economy of the town Lutz s history of Fayetteville reveals the burdens that military preparedness has created for all of us throughout the twentieth century Her portrait of the town poses the provocative question Are we all military dependents BOOK JACKET
