The House At Tegwani:

The House at Tegwani Kathryn Blair,1950 The House at Tegwani Blair, Kathryn,1980 End of empire and the English novel since 1945 Rachael Gilmour,Bill Schwarz,2015-07-01 Available in paperback for the first time this first book length study explores the history of postwar England during the end of empire through a reading of novels which appeared at the time moving from George Orwell and William Golding to Penelope Lively Alan Hollinghurst and Ian McEwan Particular genres are also discussed including the family saga travel writing detective fiction and popular romances All included reflect on the predicament of an England which no longer lies at the centre of imperial power arriving at a fascinating diversity of conclusions about the meaning and consequences of the end of empire and the privileged location of the novel for discussing what decolonization meant for the domestic English population of the metropole The book is written in an easy style unburdened by large sections of abstract reflection It endeavours to bring alive in a new way the traditions of the English novel Love, Language, Place, and Identity in Popular Culture María Ramos-García,Laura Vivanco,2020-01-31 Love Language Place and Identity in Popular Culture Romancing the Other explores the varied representations of Otherness in romance novels and other fiction with strong romantic plots Contributors approaches range from sociolinguistics to cultural studies and the texts analyzed are set on four continents with particular emphasis on Caribbean and Atlantic islands What all the essays have in common is the exploration of representations of the Other be it in an inter racial or inter cultural relationship Chapters are divided into two parts the first examines place travel history and language in 20th century texts while the second explores tensions and transformations in the depiction of Otherness mainly in texts published in the early 21st century This book reveals that even at the end of the 20th century these texts display neocolonialist attitudes towards the Other While more recent texts show noticeable changes in attitudes these changes can often fall short as stereotypes and prejudices are often still present just below the surface in popular novels The understudied field of popular romance in which the Other is frequently present as a love interest proves to be a fruitful area in which to explore the potential and the realities of the treatment of Otherness in popular culture Scholars of literature communication romance and rhetoric will find this book particularly useful At Home and Abroad ,1911 The Clique ,1956 The English Catalogue of Books Published from January, 1835, to January, 1863 ,1864 Canadiana ,1965 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1968 The Book Exchange ,1950 Whitaker's Five-year Cumulative Book List ,1968 Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1968 Twentieth-century Romance and Historical Writers Lesley Henderson,D. L. Kirkpatrick,1990 An encyclopedic biographical survey of the genre The entry for each writer consists of a biography a complete list of separately published books and a signal critical essay In addition living entrants were invited to comment on their work Series characters and locales have been indicated Also included are notations of available bibliographies manuscript collections and critical studies Acidic paper Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR A History
