Six On The Black Art:

African American Literature of the Twenty-First Century and the Black Arts Stephen Casmier, 2021-06-24 For nearly 50 years a trend in African American literary history quarantined the Black Arts era of the 1960s and 1970s separating it from the brilliantly creative and aesthetically experimental writing that took off in the 1980s According to that history the new literature discarded and distanced the anti aesthetic posture of the Black Arts moment which emphasized racial tension strident polemics and romantic solidarity with the Black underclass Yet according to the author the six novels that John Edgar Wideman wrote from 1987 to 2017 complicate this reductive characterization of the black arts They overflow with the criminal element accused rapists and murderers victims of unsanctioned lynching and sanctioned executions As they engage in aesthetic experimentation they express continuities with a spirit of restless invention and improvisation that derive from an ongoing engagement with African or Black Atlantic cosmology They thus enable reassessment of the black arts legacy entering the world on their own terms producing their own reality and working through the black arts notion of functional art They are the result of a magical Black Atlantic craft that brings writing beyond written representation transforming the novel itself into a functional tool a charm of protection and healing

Black Art: A Cultural History (Third) (World of Art) Richard J. Powell, 2021-10-26

This groundbreaking study explores the visual representations of Black culture across the globe throughout the twentieth century and into the twenty-first. The African diaspora, a direct result of the transatlantic slave trade and Western colonialism, has generated a wide array of artistic achievements, from blues and reggae to the paintings of the pioneering American artist Henry Ossawa Tanner and the music videos of Solange. This study concentrates on how these works, often created during times of major social upheaval and transformation, use Black culture both as a subject and as context. From musings on the souls of Black folk in late nineteenth-century art to questions of racial and cultural identities in performance media and computer-assisted arts in the twenty-first century, this book examines the philosophical and social forces that have shaped Black presence in modern and contemporary visual culture. Renowned art historian Richard J. Powell presents Black art drawn from across the African diaspora, with examples from the Americas, the Caribbean, and Europe. Black Art features artworks executed in a broad range of media, including film, photography, performance art, conceptual art, advertising, and sculpture. Now updated and expanded, this new edition helps to better understand how the first two decades of the twenty-first century have been a transformative moment in which previous assumptions about race and identity have been irrevocably altered, with art providing a useful lens through which to think about these compelling issues. Encyclopedia of the Black Arts Movement Verner D. Mitchell, Cynthia Davis, 2019-05-15

The Black Arts Movement (BAM) encompassed a group of artists, musicians, novelists, and playwrights whose work combined innovative approaches to literature, film, music, visual arts, and theatre. With a heightened consciousness of Black agency and autonomy, along with the radical politics of the civil rights movement, the Black Muslims and the Black Panthers, these figures represented a collective effort to defy the status quo of American life and culture. Between the late 1950s and the end of the 1970s, the movement produced some of America's most original and controversial artists and intellectuals. In Encyclopedia of the Black Arts Movement, Verner D. Mitchell and Cynthia Davis have collected essays on the key figures of the movement, including Maya Angelou, James Baldwin, Amiri Baraka, Nikki Giovanni, Larry Neal, Sun Ra, Sonia Sanchez, Ntozake Shange, and Archie Shepp. Additional entries focus on Black Theatre, magazine, the Negro Ensemble Company, lesser-known individuals including Kathleen Collins, Tom Dent, Bill Gunn, June Jordan, and Barbara Ann Teer, and groups such as AfriCOBRA and the New York Umbra Poetry Workshop. The Black Arts Movement represented the most prolific expression of African American literature since the Harlem Renaissance of the 1920s. Featuring essays by contemporary scholars and rare photographs of BAM artists, Encyclopedia of the Black Arts Movement is an essential reference for students and scholars of twentieth-century American literature and African American
