A Sociological History of Christian Worship Martin D. Stringer, 2005-07-14 In this book the 2000 year history of Christian worship is viewed from a sociological perspective Martin Stringer develops the idea of discourse as a way of understanding the place of Christian worship within its many and diverse social contexts Beginning with the Biblical material the author provides a broad survey of changes over 2000 years of the Christian church together with a series of case studies that highlight particular elements of the worship or specific theoretical applications Stringer does not simply examine the mainstream traditions of Christian worship in Europe and Byzantium but also gives space to lesser known traditions in Armenia India Ethiopia and elsewhere Offering a contribution to the ongoing debate that breaks away from a purely textual or theological study of Christian worship this book provides a greater understanding of the place of worship in its social and cultural context

Divine Liturgies - Human Problems in Byzantium, Armenia, Syria and Palestine Robert F. Taft, 2024-10-28 In obedience to Jesus command Do this in remembrance of me the ritual repetition of the Lord's Supper down through the ages and across multiple Christian cultures in the liturgies of East and West has given rise inevitably to innumerable diversities of shape, text, cultural context and theological interpretation as well as to debates sometimes heated among modern experts as to the methodologies for resolving the problems arising from these differences. The problems of cultural history, structural historical and textual reconstruction, theological interpretation and method involved in the modern scholarly debate on these issues are the object of the studies in this volume dedicated to the liturgies of Byzantium, Armenia, Syria and Palestine. L'extirpation de l'Arianisme en Italie du Nord et en Occident Yves-Marie Duval, 2024-10-28. The context of this second volume by Professor Duval is the trinitarian controversies of the later 4th century. His work presents a detailed analysis of the reconquest of Northern Italy and Illyricum from the homeist dogmas put in place by Constant II and affirmed by the Council of Rimini in 359-60. Milan occupies a central place first as a bastion of Arianism then as the see of Ambrose who eventually oversaw the victory of orthodoxy as these studies show the process was not straightforward and even after the Council of Aquileia in 381 remained imperilled by the turbulent politics of the Empire. The final item hitherto unpublished gives a critical account of some recent work on Ambrose. Liturgical Calendars, Saints and Services in Medieval England Richard W. Pfaff, 2024-10-28. This book includes four hitherto unpublished papers together with a substantial introductory historiographical and bibliographical overview. Many of the studies concern the liturgical views of figures like Lanfranc, St Hugh of Lincoln and William of Malmesbury. An edition of William's Abbreviatio Amalarii is included and the ways Thomas Becket and the Venerable Bede were viewed liturgically. Others reveal the achievement of an 11th-century Canterbury scribe lay out a hagiographical puzzle as to the saints venerated on the 19th January, ask why calendars come to be attached to psalters, demonstrate that monks at Canterbury Cathedral were still reading Old English homilies in the 1180s and present a fascinating previously misunderstood psalter owned by bishop Ralph Baldock c. 1300. Two final papers deal with Sarum services in late medieval parish churches and with the devotional practice called St Gregory's Trental. Eucharistic Origins, Revised Edition Paul F. Bradshaw, 2023-06-20. Eucharistic Origins was published a number of years ago. This revised edition continues to incorporate the work of the latest liturgical scholars in establishing that the earliest Christian celebrations arose out of varied forms of their ritual meals and not out of the Last Supper. The custom of centering Christian practice in ritual meals seems to have lasted for about one hundred and fifty years before it began to be replaced by morning meetings at which the sacrament was distributed and subsequently by a complete celebration of the Eucharist. It is here in the third and fourth centuries and not in the distant Jewish past that the forms of the classical eucharistic prayers emerged and developed. The most important of these are presented in full and their theology discussed. Spirit Epicleses in the Acts of Thomas Susan E. Myers, 2010. Susan E. Myers concentrates on two prayers strikingly similar in style and content found in the third-century Acts of Thomas. Each prayer is located in the context of Christian initiation and each is addressed to a feminine deity.

who is asked to come to be present in the ritual The prayers appeal to the feminine Spirit who is called Mother fellowship of the male and dove among other titles The author examines these prayers in their historical literary and liturgical contexts challenging some of the prevailing assumptions about Syriac speaking Christianity in general and the Acts of Thomas in particular Rhetoric and Philosophy from Greek into Syriac John W. Watt, 2024-12-11 Shortly after 500 CE the Syriac speaking priest and physician Sergius of Resh aina who had studied in Alexandria wrote the first known exposition of Aristotle in a Semitic language About four centuries later Abu Bishr Matta an alumnus of the monastic school of Dayr Qunna in Iraq completed in Baghdad the Arabic version of the Aristotelian Organon with translations from the Syriac and in a famous disputation argued the case for Greek logic as a theory of knowledge against rival claims of Arabic grammarians The articles collected in this volume are concerned with the transmission and development of the Greek achievement among Syriac scholars of the Fertile Crescent during these four centuries particularly in the fields of rhetoric and philosophy Some range broadly over general areas such as the Syriac appropriation of Greek liberal education or the educational curriculum in Syriac monastic schools while others focus on themes of particular interest including the influence of Aristotle s Rhetoric or the concept of the philosopher king Cumulatively they show how many aspects of Greek culture were received and elaborated in Syriac and contribute to understanding the ways in which that culture exercised a powerful influence on the medieval Near East and the burgeoning Islamic civilisation Orthodox Christianity Carl S. Tyne, 2003 The Orthodox Church is one of the three major branches of Christianity There are over 300 million adherents throughout the world The Orthodox Church is a fellowship of independent churches which split from the Roman Church over the question of papal supremacy in 1054 The Orthodox adherents include people in Greece Georgia Russia and Serbia There are an estimated one million members in the United States This Advanced book explains the basic principles of Orthodox Christianity and describes in detail the holidays observed by the Orthodox Church In addition relevant book literature is presented in bibliographic form with easy access provided by title subject and author indexes A Living Tradition David Andrew Pitt, Stefanos Alexopoulos, Christian McConnell, 2012 Seeking to bridge the distance between scholarship and praxis to be accessible to both pastoral ministers and academic theologians this volume is organized according to three categories liturgical year Christian initiation and Eucharist Within these categories the contributors are especially attentive to three important aspects of liturgical history the role that important figures in liturgical history played as liturgical pastors how liturgical history has been used in shaping contemporary liturgical rites and prayers how liturgical history informs contemporary understandings and beliefs Ultimately the book pays tribute to Maxwell Johnsons contributions to the life of the church by exploring ways that the study of liturgical history might help the church remain faithful to God and to the sacramental worldview that continues to define and characterize classic Christianity Cyril Of Jerusalem Jan Willem Drijvers, 2004-01-01 This volume deals with the episcopate of Cyril of Jerusalem 350 to 387 Its overall theme is the relationship between the city and its bishop and in particular Cyril's efforts to promote Jerusalem as the Christian city par excellence by employing Jerusalem's religious symbols the holy sites and the Cross Apart from chapters on Jerusalem in the fourth century C E and on the life and works of Cyril this study discusses important aspects and events of Cyril's episcopacy such as his pastoral work as an urban bishop of the Jerusalem Christian community Jerusalem's liturgy the rebuilding of the Temple giving a re interpretation of the Syriac letter ascribed to Cyril about this event and Jerusalem's and Palestine's religious landscape Issues in Eucharistic Praying in East and West Maxwell E. Johnson, 2011-01-01 This collection provides several state of the question essays on current research in a variety of Eucharistic prayers in the Churches of East and West including attention to other issues of Eucharistic praying and theology In addition to essays by already recognized scholars in the field this collection also introduces readers to a new generation of liturgiologists who are emerging within the academy as notable contributors to the field of liturgical studies For students and teachers of liturgy indeed for all who seek solid and up to date scholarship on Eucharistic liturgy and theology this volume offers an ecumenical guide from New Testament texts through Addai and Mari the so called Apostolic Tradition and Roman Canon through the diversity of Eastern and Oriental Orthodox anaphoras up to and including the sources for the prefaces of the Missal of Paul VI Close attention is also given to questions such as the origins of the Sanctus Eucharistic consecration as well as other historical and theological questions from within Eucharistic praying
