Studies In Folk Life Essays In Honour Of Iorwerth C Peate:

Studies in Folk Life (RLE Folklore) Geraint Jenkins, 2015-02-11 This collection first published in 1969 presents essays written by twenty of the most eminent scholars from the British Isles and Europe on aspects of folk life studies The essays are written in honour of Dr Iorwerth C Peate Curator of the Welsh Folk Museum and doyen of folk life studies in Britain to mark his retirement as the first President of the Society for Folk Life Studies In the present book all the various aspects of folk life from linguistics to sociology from architecture to agrarian history are covered reflecting the wide interests of Dr Peate and his valuable contribution to the development of the study of traditional life in Britain Studies in Folk Life Iorwerth

Cyfeiliog Peate, 1969 Studies in Folk Life Iorwerth Cyfeiliog Peate, John Geraint Jenkins, 1977-01-01 Studies in Folk Life John Geraint Jenkins, 1969 Folklore and Folklife Richard M. Dorson, 1972 Describes the characteristics of folk cultures and discusses the procedures used by social scientists to study folklife Man, Myth and Museum Eurwyn Wiliam, 2023-07-15 This is the first book to critically examine the professional work of the pioneer of open air museums in Britain and the self proclaimed founder of the Welsh Folk Museum at St Fagans and a major figure in Welsh cultural life This book places Peate's life in the context of Welsh history and assesses his impact on helping to create a particular view of Welsh culture placing great emphasis on the importance of the Welsh speaking rural craftsman and ignoring the contribution of industry to Welsh life It makes extensive use of quotation synopsis and translation for the first time giving non Welsh speakers access to his Welsh language publications about museums and folk life Constructing Industrial Pasts Stefan

Berger, 2019-09-01 Since the 1960s nations across the developed world have been profoundly shaped by deindustrialization In regions in which previously dominant industries faced crises or have disappeared altogether industrial heritage offers a fascinating window into the phenomenon's cultural dimensions As the contributions to this volume demonstrate even as forms of industrial heritage provide anchors of identity for local populations their meanings remain deeply contested as both radical and conservative varieties of nostalgia intermingle with critical approaches and straightforward apologies for a past that was often full of pain exploitation and struggle An Introduction To Scottish Ethnology Alexander Fenton, Margaret A. Mackay, 2013-08-06 The publication of An Introduction to Scottish Ethnology sees the completion of the fourteen volume Scottish Life and Society series originally conceived by the eminent ethnologist Professor Alexander Fenton The series explores the many elements in Scottish history language and culture which have shaped the identity of Scotland and Scots at local regional and national level placing these in an international context Each of the thirteen volumes already published focuses on a particular theme or institution within Scottish society This introduction provides an overview of the discipline of ethnology as it has developed in Scotland and more widely the sources and methods for its study and practical guidance on the means by which it can be examined within its constituent genres based on the experience of those currently working with ethnological materials Theory and practice are presented in an accessible fashion making it an ideal companion for the student the scholar and the interested amateur alike Folk Housing in Middle Virginia Henry Glassie, 2025-03-14 In this fascinating analysis of eighteenth century vernacular houses of Middle Virginia Henry Glassie presents a revolutionary and carefully constructed methodology for looking at houses and interpreting from them the people who built and used them Glassie believes that all relevant historical evidence unwritten as well as written must be taken into account before historical truth can be found He is convinced that any study of man's past must make use of nonverbal and verbal evidence since written history the story of man as recorded by the intellectual elite does not tell us much about the everyday life thoughts and fears of the ordinary people of the past Such people have always been in the majority however and a way has to be found to include them in any valid history In Folk Housing in Middle Virginia Glassie admirably sets forth such a way The people who lived in Middle Virginia in the eighteenth century are almost unknown to history because so little has been written about them After Glassie selected the area roughly Goochland and Louisa counties for study he selected a representative part of the countryside recorded all the older houses there developed a transformational grammar of traditional house designs and examined the area's architectural stability and change Comparing the houses with written accounts of the period he found that the houses became more formal and less related to their environment at the same time as the areas established political economic and religious institutions were disintegrating It is as though the builders of the houses were deliberately trying to impose order on the surrounding chaotic world Previous orthodox historical interpretations of the period have failed to note this Glassie has provided new insights into the intellectual and social currents of the period and has rescued a heretofore little known people from historiographical oblivion Combining a fresh perceptive approach with a broad interdisciplinary body of knowledge Glassie has made an invaluable breakthrough in showing the way to understand the people of history who have left their material things as their only legacy The Customs and Traditions of Wales Trefor M. Owen, 2016-04-20 Trefor M Owen's seminal work educates enlightens and entertains with a far reaching yet accessible text which paints a colourful and comprehensive portrait of a nation's rich folk culture The Customs and Traditions of Wales is an illuminating and engrossing insight into a subject that continues to unfold and develop in contemporary life Despite an increasingly globalised society that has transformed local communities folk customs are still practised and enjoyed the world over as people combine modern day and historical rituals and embrace opportunities to learn about their past and Owen's influential study has maintained its relevance as customs change and evolve The Irish Folklore Commission 1935-1970 Mícheál Briody, 2008-06-16 Between 1935 and 1970 the Irish Folklore Commission Coimisi n B aloideas ireann under funded and at great personal cost to its staff assembled one of the world's largest folklore collections This study draws on the extensive government files on the Commission in the National Archives of Ireland and on a wide variety of other primary and secondary sources in order to recount and assess the work and achievement of this world famous institute The cultural linguistic political and ideological factors that had a bearing on the establishment and making permanent of the Commission and that impinged on many aspects of its work are here elucidated The genesis of the Commission is traced and the vision and mission of its Honorary Director Samus Duilearga James Hamilton Delargy is outlined The negotiations that preceded the setting up of the Commission in 1935 as well as protracted efforts from 1940 to 1970 to place it on a permanent foundation are recounted and examined at length All the various collecting programmes and other activities of the Commission are described in detail and many aspects of its work are assessed and in some cases reassessed This study also deals with the working methods and conditions of employment of the Commission's field and Head Office staff as well with Samus Duilearga's direction of the Commission

Peat and Peat Cutting Ian Rotherham, 2011-11-20 For thousands of years peat was the main fuel that warmed houses all over the British Isles and the mark of the peat cutter is written deep in the landscape This book is a celebration of a cultural history that extended from the Iron Age to the twentieth century It tells the story of the use of peat for fuel in the British Isles and the people who cut it It also examines the methods of cutting the tools that were used and the organization of cutting It chronicles the beginning of commercial extraction and the exhaustion of this precious resource Killing Tradition Simon J. Bronner, 2008-11-21 Across the country and around the world people avidly engage in the cultural practice of hunting Children are taken on rite of passage hunting trips where relationships are cemented and legacies are passed on from one generation to another Meals are prepared from hunted game often consisting of regionally specific dishes that reflect a community's heritage and character Deer antlers and bear skins are hung on living room walls decorations and relics of a hunter's most impressive kills Only 5 percent of Americans are hunters but that group has a substantial presence in the cultural consciousness Hunting has spurred controversy in recent years inciting protest from animal rights activists and lobbying from anti cruelty demonstrators who denounce the custom But hunters have responded to such criticisms and the resulting legislative censures with a significant argument in their defense the claim that their practices are inextricably connected to a cultural tradition Further they counter that they as representatives of the rural lifestyle pioneer heritage and traditional American values are the ones being victimized Simon J Bronner investigates this debate in Killing Tradition Inside Hunting and Animal Rights Controversies Through extensive research and fieldwork Bronner takes on the many questions raised by this problematic subject Does hunting promote violence toward humans as well as animals Is it an outdated activity unnecessary in modern times Is the heritage of hunting worth preserving Killing Tradition looks at three case studies that are at the heart of today's hunting debate Bronner first examines the allegedly barbaric rituals that take place at deer camps every late November in rural America He then analyzes the annual Labor Day pigeon shoot of Hegins Pennsylvania which brings animal rights protests to a fever pitch Noting that these aren't simply American concerns and that the animal rights movement in America is linked to British animal welfare protests Bronner examines the rancor surrounding the passage of Great Britain's Hunting Act of 2004 the most comprehensive and divisive anti hunting legislation ever enacted The practice of hunting is sure to remain controversial as it continues to be touted and defended by its supporters and condemned and opposed by its detractors With Killing Tradition Bronner reflects on the social psychological and anthropological issues of the debate reevaluating notions of violence cruelty abuse and tradition as they have been constructed and contested in the twenty first century

Allegory, Space and the Material World in the Writings of Edmund Spenser Christopher Burlinson,2006 An examination of the way in which the material world is depicted in The Faerie Queene This book provides a radical reassessment of Spenserian allegory in particular of The Faerie Queene in the light of contemporary historical and theoretical interests in space and material culture It explores the ambiguous and fluctuating attention to materiality objects and substance in the poetics of The Faerie Queene and discusses the way that Spenser's creation of allegorical meaning makes use of this materiality and transforms it It suggests further that a critical engagement with materiality which has been so important to the recent study of early modern drama must come in the case of allegorical narrative through a study of narrative and physical space and in this context it goes on to provide a reading of the spatial dimensions of the poem quests and battles forests castles and hovels and the spatial characteristics of Spenser's other writings The book reaffirms the need to place Spenser in his historical contexts philosophical and scientific military and architectural in early modern England Ireland and Europe but also provides a critical reassessment of this literary historicism Dr CHRISTOPHER BURLINSON is a Research Fellow in English at Emmanuel College Cambridge

The Agrarian History of England and Wales: Volume 3, 1348-1500 Edward Miller,Joan Thirsk,1991-07-18 The third volume of The Agrarian History of England and Wales which was first published in 1991 deals with the last century and a half of the Middle Ages It concerns itself with the new demographic and economic circumstances created in large measure by endemic plague

Early Medieval Ireland, 400-1200 Daibhi O Croinin,2013-12-16 This impressive survey covers the early history of Ireland from the coming of Christianity to the Norman settlement 400 1200 AD Within a broad political framework it explores the nature of Irish society the spiritual and secular roles of the Church and the extraordinary flowering of Irish culture in the period Other major themes are Ireland's relations with Britain and continental Europe and Vikings and their influence the beginnings of Irish feudalism and the impact of the Viking and Norman invaders Splendid in sweep and lively in detail it launches the new Longman History of Ireland in fine style

The Irish tower house Victoria L. McAlister,2019-07-04 This book examines the social role of castles in late medieval and early modern Ireland It uses a multidisciplinary methodology to uncover the lived experience of this historic culture demonstrating the interconnectedness of society economics and the environment Of particular interest is the revelation of how concerned pre modern people were with participation in the economy and the exploitation of the natural environment for economic gain Material culture can shed light on how individuals shaped spaces around themselves and tower houses thanks to their pervasiveness in medieval and modern landscapes represent a unique resource Castles are the definitive building of the European Middle Ages meaning that this book will be of great interest to scholars of both history and archaeology

book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front The Battle of the Fields tells the story of rural community and authority in Britain during the Second World War by looking at the County War Agricultural Executive Committees From 1939 they were imbued with powers to transform British farming to combat the loss of food imports caused by German naval activity and initial European mainland successes Their powers were sweeping and draconian When fully exercised against recalcitrant farmers dispossession in part or whole could and did result This book includes the most detailed analysis of these dispossessions including the tragic case of Ray Walden the Hampshire farmer who was killed by police after refusing to leave his farmhouse in 1940 The committees were deemed successful by Whitehall as harbingers of modernity mechanization draining artificial fertilizers reclamation of heaths marshes and woodlands We now deplore some of these changes but Britain did not starve in large part thanks to their efforts This book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front It will also demonstrate to all who are anxious about food security in the modern age how this question was dealt with 70 years ago BRIAN SHORT is Emeritus Professor of Historical Geography at the University of Sussex and formerly Dean of School and Head of the Department of Geography The Archaeology of Medieval Ireland Terry B. Barry, 2002-11 An indispensable guide to the major monuments of the period earthen and stone castles moated sites villages towns cathedrals churches tower houses pottery kilns and mills Vernacular architecture in the Codroy Valley Richard MacKinnon, 2002-01-01 This book relates the story of a small Newfoundland community as told through its buildings From the addition of a kitchen to the construction of a new house the way people build and change their homes says a great deal about their histories and daily lives and the author's insights on the stories told in the architecture of the Codroy Valley are sure to encourage readers to look at their own communities in a new way Published in English
