Dhamm The Perfection of Wisdom in First Bloom Bhikkhu Analayo, 2025-07-01 See the formative years of Mahayana Buddhist literature through the lens of the Perfection of Wisdom expertly analyzed by the venerable scholar monk Bhikkhu Analayo In this work we have a rare perspective on the early history of Mahayana Buddhism and the Perfection of Wisdom Prajnaparamita as far as this is still accessible in surviving texts With his characteristic clarity and precision Bhikkhu Analayo critically analyzes early Perfection of Wisdom literature based on the earliest extant versions of the Astasahasrika Prajnaparamita or the Perfection of Wisdom in Eight Thousand Lines one in Chinese and the other in Gandhari one of the oldest surviving Mahayana manuscripts discovered to date In reading this text from the viewpoint of early Buddhist literature the author shows that what has generally been considered a sharp rupture in the formation of the Mahayana turns out to be more of a gradual evolution With his command of the languages of the ancient Buddhist world scholar monk Bhikkhu Analayo sifts through the layers of history and unveils new perspectives on the ideas and figures in early Perfection of Wisdom and Mahayana literature covering such topics as the rhetoric of emptiness and the emerging bodhisattva ideal as well as the status of women and the practice of self immolation In doing so Bhikkhu Analayo reveals fresh insights into the gradual development that informs the emergence of early Perfection of Wisdom literature This is a rare opportunity to peer through a window at the beginnings of Mahayana thought before the traditions had coalesced into the familiar forms we see today

The Past Before Us Romila Thapar, 2013-10-14 The claim that India uniquely among civilizations lacks historical writing distracts us from a more pertinent question how to recognize the historical sense of societies whose past is recorded in ways very different from European conventions Romila Thapar a distinguished scholar of ancient India guides us through a panoramic survey of the historical traditions of North India revealing a deep and sophisticated consciousness of history embedded in the diverse body of classical Indian literature The history recorded in such texts as the Ramayana and the Mahabharata is less concerned with authenticating persons and events than with presenting a picture of traditions striving to retain legitimacy amid social change Spanning an epoch from 1000 BCE to 1400 CE Thapar delineates three strains of historical writing an Itihasa Purana tradition of Brahman authors a tradition composed mainly by Buddhist and Jaina monks and scholars and a popular bardic tradition The Vedic corpus the epics the Buddhist canon and monastic chronicles inscriptional evidence regional accounts and literary forms such as royal biographies and drama are all scrutinized afresh not as sources to be mined for factual data but as genres that disclose how Indians of ancient times represented their own past to themselves Studies in History of Buddhism A. K. Narain, 1980 Perspectives on Satipatthana

Analayo, 2014-03-01 In this new book Analayo builds on his earlier ground breaking work Satipatthana The Direct Path to Realization Here he enlarges our perspective on this seminal teaching by exploring the practices of mindfulness as presented in both the Pali and Chinese versions of this important discourse The brilliance of his scholarly research combined with the depth of his meditative understanding provides an invaluable guide to the liberating practices of the Buddha s teaching

Studies on Buddhism in Honour of Professor A.K. Warder A. K. Warder, University of Toronto. Centre for South Asian Studies, 1993 Reconstructing Early Buddhism Roderick S. Bucknell, 2022-10-20 Buddhist origins and discussion of the Buddha s teachings are amongst the most controversial and contested areas in the field This bold and authoritative book tackles head on some of the key questions regarding early Buddhism and its primary canon of precepts Noting that the earliest texts in Pali Sanskrit and Chinese belong to different Buddhist schools Roderick S Bucknell addresses the development of these writings during the period of oral transmission between the Buddha s death and their initial redaction in the first century BCE A meticulous comparative analysis reveals the likely original path of meditative practice applied and taught by Gautama Fresh perspectives now emerge on both the Buddha himself and his Enlightenment Drawing on his own years of meditative experience as a Buddhist monk the author offers here remarkable new interpretations of advanced practices of meditation as well as of Buddhism itself It is a landmark work in Buddhist Studies The Maha-Bodhi , 1892
