The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 4, The Eighteenth Century George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 This comprehensive 1997 account of eighteenth century literary criticism is now available in paperback The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 4, The Eighteenth Century H. B. Nisbet, Claude Rawson, 2005-12-08 This is a comprehensive 1997 account of the history of literary criticism in Britain and Europe between 1660 and 1800 Unlike previous histories it is not just a chronological survey of critical writing but a multidisciplinary investigation of how the understanding of literature and its various genres was transformed at the start of the modern era by developments in philosophy psychology the natural sciences linguistics and other disciplines as well as in society at large In the process modern literary theory at first often implicit in literary texts themselves emancipated itself from classical poetics and rhetoric and literary criticism emerged as a full time professional activity catering for an expanding literate public The volume is international both in coverage and in authorship Extensive bibliographies provide guidance for further specialised study

Diderot Studies Otis Fellows, 1967 Female Friends and the Making of Transatlantic Quakerism, 1650-1750 Naomi Pullin, 2018-05-24 Quaker women were unusually active participants in seventeenth and eighteenth century cultural and religious exchange as ministers missionaries authors and spiritual leaders Drawing upon documentary evidence with a focus on women's personal writings and correspondence Naomi Pullin explores the lives and social interactions of Quaker women in the British Atlantic between 1650 and 1750 Through a comparative methodology focused on Britain and the North American colonies Pullin examines the experiences of both those women who travelled and preached and those who stayed at home The book approaches the study of gender and religion from a new perspective by placing women's roles relationships and identities at the centre of the analysis It shows how the movement's transition from sect to church enhanced the authority and influence of women within the movement and uncovers the multifaceted ways in which female Friends at all levels were active participants in making and sustaining transatlantic Quakerism The Extraterrestrial Life Debate, 1750-1900 Michael J. Crowe, 2012-05-04 Detailed scholarly study examines the ideas that developed between 1750 and 1900 regarding the existence of intelligent extraterrestrial life including those of Kant Herschel Voltaire Lowell many others 16 illustrations Geometry and Monadology Vincenzo de Risi, 2007-08-08 This book reconstructs from both historical and theoretical points of view Leibniz's geometrical studies focusing in particular on the research Leibniz carried out in his final years The work's main purpose is to offer a better understanding of the philosophy of space and in general of the mature Leibnizean metaphysics This is the first ever comprehensive historical reconstruction of Leibniz's geometry Ideas of poverty in the Age of Enlightenment Niall O'Flaherty, Robin Mills, 2024-04-16 This collection of essays examines the ways in which poverty was conceptualised in the social political and religious discourses of eighteenth century Europe It brings together experts with a wide range of expertise to offer pathbreaking discussions of how eighteenth century thinkers thought about the poor Because the theme of poverty played important roles in many critical issues in European history it was central to some of the key debates in Enlightenment political thought throughout the period including the controversies about sovereignty and representation public and private charity as well as questions relating to crime and punishment The book examines some of the most important contributions to these debates while also ranging beyond the canonical Enlightenment thinkers to investigate how poverty was conceptualised in the wider intellectual culture as politicians administrators and pamphlet writers grappled with the issue

Berkeley and Irish Philosophy David Berman, 2005-08-20 The first essay in David Berman's new collection examines the full range of Berkeley's achievement looking not only at his classic works of 1709 1713 but also Alciphron 1732 and his final book the enigmatic Siris 1744 Item two examines a key problem in Berkeley's New Theory of Vision 1709 why does the moon look larger on the horizon than in the meridian The third item criticizes the view still uncritically accepted by many that Berkeley's attacks on materialism are levelled against Locke Part 2 opens with Berman's two essays of 1982 the first to show that Berkeley came from a rich and coherent Irish philosophical background Next comes a discussion of the link between Berkeley and Francis Hutcheson and particularly their answers to the Molyneux problem which Berman takes to be the root problem of Irish philosophy The fourth essay looks at the impact of the golden age Irish philosophy on eighteenth century American philosophy where again Berkeley has a central position The last item examines Berkeley's influence on Samuel Beckett Part 3 shows the many sidedness of Berkeley's career which is missed by those who concentrate exclusively on his work of 1709 1713 Each item here presents new material on Berkeley's life or on his works and thought most of these are new letters not included in the Luce Jessop edition of the Works of Berkeley This section therefore can be seen a supplement to volumes 8 and 9 of the Works and also to Luce's Life of Berkeley

Human Nature, Cultural Diversity, and the French Enlightenment Henry Vyverberg, 1989-08-17 In this work Henry Vyverberg traces the evolution and consequences of a crucial idea in French Enlightenment thought the idea of human nature Human nature was commonly seen as a broadly universal unchanging entity though perhaps modifiable by geographical social and historical factors Enlightenment empiricism suggested a degree of cultural diversity that has often been underestimated in studies of the age Evidence here is drawn from Diderot's celebrated Encyclopedia and from a vast range of writing by such Enlightenment notables as Voltaire Rousseau and d'Holbach Vyverberg explains not only the age's undoubted fascination with uniformity in human nature but also its acknowledgment of significant limitations on that uniformity He shows that although the Enlightenment's historical sense was often blinkered by its notions of a uniform human nature there were also cracks in this concept that developed during the Enlightenment itself

Evolutionism in Eighteenth-century French Thought Mary Efosini Gregory, 2008 This book examines how eighteenth century French theorists Maillet Montesquieu La Mettrie Buffon Maupertuis Diderot Rousseau and Voltaire addressed evolutionism Each thinker laid down a building block that would eventually open the door to the mutability of species and a departure from the long held belief that the chain of beings is fixed This book describes how the philosophes established a triune relationship among contemporary scientific discoveries random creationism propelled by the motive and conscious properties of matter and the notion of the chain of being along with its corollaries plenitude and continuity Also addressed is the contemporary debate over whether apes could ever be taught to speak as well as the issue of race and the family of man Voluptuous Philosophy Natania Meeker,2006 In 18th century France matter itself in forms ranging from atoms to anatomies became a privileged object of study This book defines what is at stake in the emergence of an enlightened secular materialism by showing how questions of figure are consistently located at the very heart of 18th century debates on the nature of material substance

Revolutionary Love in Eighteenth- and Early Nineteenth-Century France Allan H. Pasco,2016-12-05 In this innovative study the author carves out a new field a sociology of literature in which he offers insightful commentary about the nexus of literature and society Calling on history sociology and psychology as well as literature as points of reference Allan Pasco examines the conceptual shift in the ideal of love in eighteenth century France Pasco explores the radical though gradual changes that occurred during the Enlightenment with respect to how the emotion of love was viewed Earlier love had been subordinate to the demands of family king and deity passion was dangerous and to be avoided But over time individual happiness became the greatest good and passion the measure of love Authors as diverse as Marivaux Marmontel Rousseau Baculard d Arnaud Pigault Lebrun and Madame de Sta l make it clear that the ideal of rapturous love did not live up to its billing it did not last and it brought destructive fantasies an epidemic of disease the scourge of divorce and considerable anguish Still as Pasco points out passion became and remained the ideal and the Romantics were left to plumb its nature

The Rise of the French Novel Martin Turnell,1978 Martin Turnell s The Rise of the French Novel is a successor to his highly praised earlier books The Novel in France 1951 and The Art of French Fiction 1959 His aim now however is somewhat different as can be seen from the title It is well known that the reputations of many writers novelists especially diminish for a period following their deaths Although in the eighteenth century Marivaux Cr billon fils and Rousseau all enjoyed a great deal of popularity during their lifetimes it is only recently that they have been subject to truly searching studies Yet they remain little read in English speaking countries Turnell emphasizes that in spite of the hostility of French critics and the fact that the novel did not reach its supremacy even in France until the nineteenth century the beginning of its great rise was indeed with such writers as these Their strong influence led such nineteenth century novelists as Stendhal and Flaubert to all kinds of changes related to style the enormous increase in the range of subject matter and the marked development of language Flaubert is the most striking example It was pointed out some time ago by Eisenstein that Madame Bovary anticipates cinematic technique One of Turnell s most interesting chapters explores the connections between the novel and film in general and Madame Bovary in particular In our own time two of the most popular French novelists in both the United States and England are Alain Fournier and Radiguet They are given enthusiastic appreciations in Turnell s thoughtful book
