Studies in Anglo-French Cultural Relations Ceri Crossley, 1988-06-18      Studies in Anglo-French Cultural Relations Ceri Crossley, 1988      Cultural Exchange in Seventeenth-Century France and England Gesa Stedman, 2016-12-05
Gesa Stedman's ambitious new study is a comprehensive account of cross channel cultural exchanges between seventeenth century France and England and includes discussion of a wide range of sources and topics Literary texts garden design fashion music dance food the book market and the theatre as well as key historical figures feature in the book Importantly Stedman concentrates on the connection between actual material transfer and its symbolic representation in both visual and textual sources investigating material exchange processes in order to shed light on the connection between actual and symbolic exchange Individual chapters discuss exchanges instigated by mediators such as Henrietta Maria and Charles II and textual and visual representations of cultural exchange with France in poetry restoration comedies fashion discourse and in literary devices and characters Well written and accessible Cultural Exchange in Seventeenth Century France and England provides needed insight into the field of cultural exchange and will be of interest to both literary scholars and cultural historians      Franco-British Cultural Exchanges, 1880-1940 Andrew Radford, Victoria Reid, 2012-06-28 This volume focuses on the literary connotations of the Channel Packet and sets forth lively dialogues between French and British culture at a key period of artistic innovation and exchange between high and popular art forms      French Literature, Thought and Culture in the Nineteenth Century Brian Rigby, 1992-11-10 This volume adopts a varied approach to the study of the material world in the French literature thought and visual arts of the 19th century Contributors look not only at the Romantic and Realist transcendence of the Neo classical heritage of abstraction and idealism but also adopt modern critical perspectives to analyse central themes such as urbanisation fetishism and the representation of the female body      Film and Community in Britain and France Margaret Butler, 2004-08-27 Relations between France and Britain have always been uneasy and ambivalent But in cinema WWII changed all that for a time Although the two countries wartime fortunes differed post war both were busy reintegrating returning servicemen and prisoners of war and accommodating the changed aspirations of women Margaret Butler examines these subjects and more in her comparative study of the cinemas of Britain and France during and after the war Using the concept of continuity she shows how cinema dealt directly with ideas of belonging and alienation inclusion and exclusion unity and division She also draws on contemporary debates and offers a perceptive reading of key films to reveal the meaning and appeal of French classics like Les Enfants du Paradis and notable British productions like Waterloo Road      Comparative Criticism: Volume 13, Literature and Science E. S. Shaffer, 1992-02-13 Topics covered in this volume include literary Chinese as a language for science the history and principles of scientific translation in Europe the theatrical panorama in the 19th century and its roots in optical theory and experiment and an alternative perspective on Gerard Manley Hopkins      Transitions in Middlebrow Writing, 1880 - 1930 K. Macdonald, C. Singer, 2015-03-22 This book examines the connections evident between the simultaneous emergence of British modernism and middlebrow literary culture from 1880 to the 1930s The essays illustrate the mutual influences of modernist and middlebrow authors critics publishers and magazines

Jacques Derrida (Routledge Revivals) William Schultz, Lewis L.B. Fried, 2016-06-17 First published in 1992 this book represents the first major attempt to compile a bibliography of Derrida's work and scholarship about his work It attempts to be comprehensive rather than selective listing primary and secondary works from the year of Derrida's Master's thesis in 1954 up until 1991 and is extensively annotated It arranges under article type a huge number of works from scholars across numerous fields reflecting the interdisciplinary and controversial nature of Deconstruction The substantial introduction and annotations also make this bibliography in part a critical guide and as such will make a highly useful reference tool for those studying his philosophy

Propaganda, Gender, and Cultural Power Charlotte Faucher, 2022-04-21 Propaganda Gender and Cultural Power tells the story of the gendered methods policies and institutions that contributed to the making of French cultural diplomacy in Britain against the backdrop of war changing Franco British relations European tensions and the global transformation of what foreign affairs meant to states

Radical Art and the Formation of the Avant-Garde David Cottington, 2022-03-08 An authoritative re definition of the social cultural and visual history of the emergence of the avant garde in Paris and London Over the past fifty years the term avant garde has come to shape discussions of European culture and modernity ubiquitously taken for granted but rarely defined This ground breaking book develops an original and searching methodology that fundamentally reconfigures the social cultural and visual context of the emergence of the artistic avant garde in Paris and London before 1915 bringing the material history of its formation into clearer and more detailed focus than ever before Drawing on a wealth of disciplinary evidence from socio economics to histories of sexuality bohemia consumerism politics and popular culture David Cottington explores the different models of cultural collectivity in and presumed hierarchies between these two focal cities while identifying points of ideological influence and difference between them He reveals the avant garde to be at once complicit with resistant to and a product of the modernizing forces of professionalization challenging the conventional wisdom on this moment of cultural formation and offering the means to reset the terms of avant garde studies

Mutual (In)Comprehensions Rosemary Mitchell, 2013-07-26 This collection of essays by French and British humanities scholars explores the complex relationship between the two nations in the long nineteenth century Both countries contemplated the other with admiration and anxiety using their best enemy to shape their own national identities Mutual In Comprehensions is unique in the range of its coverage which includes artistic literary economic educational social and historical interpretations interactions and appropriations British railway engineers consider the character of the French railway worker a French illustrator portrays with disturbing insight the social divisions of Victorian London British agricultural writers find cause for reflection in the condition of the French peasantry and an English Anglo Catholic considers the lessons for her church in the history of post Reformation French Catholicism

French architects discover something to admire in the British Gothic Revival while geographical societies on both sides of the Channel exhibit a spirit of international co operation Including the work of both established academics and young scholars the collection demonstrates the significance of Franco British interactions over the long nineteenth century and shows that as ever British culture can only be fully understood within a Continental framework and vice versa This volume will appeal to scholars of Victorian culture in particular French and British nineteenth century literature and art as well as to academics interested in the development of national identities and international cultural relations

Art, Politics and Society in Britain (1880-1914) Trevor Harris, 2009-10-02 The oldest word in politics is new The oldest word in the writing of history may well be modern it is without doubt one of the most overworked adjectives in the English language But the indeterminacy is perhaps just another way of saying that the difficulties raised are of a kind which simply will not go away This collection of eight essays on aspects of modernity and modernism takes up the challenge of examining the complex but fascinating convergence of aesthetics politics and a quasi spiritual dimension which is perhaps typical of British modernist thinking about modernity This may have produced figures whom we now dismiss as eccentrics or aesthetes it none the less produced figures whom many still think of as in some sense embodying the national identity what after all could be more English than a William Morris wallpaper design Rather than towards socialism in any of its scientific guises what the British modernist approach to modernity may have been pushing at was yet another mutation of liberalism a libertarian humanitarian hybrid in which indigenous radical and Evangelical legacies keep scientific socialism in check where fellowship and domesticity edge out a larger scale more abstract fraternity and where citoyennet or civisme give way to what George Orwell was later to define simply as decency

Modernism and Cultural Conflict, 1880-1922 Ann L. Ardis, 2002-10-31 In Modernism and Cultural Conflict Ann Ardis questions commonly held views of the radical nature of literary modernism She positions the coterie of writers centred around Pound Eliot and Joyce as one among a number of groups in Britain intent on redefining the cultural work of literature at the turn of the twentieth century Ardis emphasizes the ways in which modernists secured their cultural centrality she documents their support of mainstream attitudes toward science their retreat from a supposed valuing of scandalous sexuality in the wake of Oscar Wilde's trials in 1895 and the conservative cultural and sexual politics masked by their radical formalist poetics She recovers key instances of opposition to modernist self fashioning in British socialism and feminism of the period Ardis goes on to consider how literary modernism's rise to aesthetic prominence paved the way for the institutionalization of English studies through the devaluation of other aesthetic practices

Multicultural Writers from Antiquity to 1945 Alba Amoia, Bettina L. Knapp, 2001-10-30 The final decades of the 20th century have seen an explosion of interest in multiculturalism But multiculturalism is more than an awareness of the different cultures comprising contemporary societies For centuries people from around the world have come in contact with cultures other than their own and their exposure to multiple cultures has fostered their creativity and ability to make lasting contributions to civilization

The effects of multiculturalism are especially apparent in literature since writers tend to be particularly aware of their environments and record their experiences This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries for more than 100 world writers from antiquity to 1945 who were significantly influenced by cultures other than their own Included are entries for major canonical Ancient and Modern writers of the Western and Eastern worlds Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of multicultural themes and contexts a summary of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies By illuminating the shaping influence of multiculturalism on these writers the volume points to the lasting value of multiculturalism in the contemporary world     Under English Eyes

Jopi Nyman, 2021-10-18 British fictions of the early twentieth century appear obsessed with Europe Various texts from E M Forster and D H Lawrence to Bram Stoker and the period's travel writing explore European spaces constructing the European as an Other threatening the position of the English What they constantly repeat is England's difference and the secondary role of European spaces whose representation resembles that of colonial lands By reading selected texts both canonized and popular published between 1894 and 1916 this study argues that this xenophobic construction is a sign of the pervading presence of concerns related to the maintenance of English national identity Englishness allegedly threatened by the European Other By drawing on current postcolonial theory the case studies in the volume show that the discourse on the Other produced in British writings on Europe contributes more than has been understood to the making and promoting of Englishness The authors studied include D H Lawrence Katherine Mansfield Anthony Hope Arnold Bennett Mrs Alec Tweedie Erskine Childers and Joseph Conrad The study will renew our understanding of the role of Europe in the period's cultural imagination showing that the identities of the English are formed in encounters with different internal and external Others

The Beardsley Industry Jane Haville Desmarais, 2019-07-23 First published in 1998 this is the first book to examine the critical reception accorded to Beardsley's work For most of his short working life fierce debate raged in Britain over the merit of Aubrey Beardsley's black and white drawings Applauded for their technical skill they were as often deplored for their slimy nastiness their fin de siècle decadence and their foreign styles There are tainted whiffs from across the channel which lodge the Gallic germs in our lungs Our Beardsleys have identical symptoms with Verlaine Degas Le Grand Forain and might quite well be sick from infection stormed Margaret Armour in the Magazine of Art Jane Haville Desmarais opens with an account of the English response exploring the fascinating interplay between Beardsley's exploitation of the new media to shape his public persona and promote his work and the critics use of his life and art to articulate the fears and anxieties of the English fin de siècle The second half of the book moves to France and deals with a different set of preoccupation The French perceived Beardsley as the natural inheritor of the mantle of Pre Raphaelitism His work remained current largely through the interest of the Symbolists and in particular Robert de Montesquiou who celebrated Beardsley's picturing of the fantasy realms of desire The intriguing study of two very different critical traditions casts light on key issues of art history and literary studies in particular the relationship between critical response and social perception With 21 black and white illustrations the book also has invaluable appendices which include a bibliography of criticism and comment on the work of Aubrey Beardsley between 1893 and 1914      The Criterion Jason Harding, 2002 In this detailed study of literary culture in the inter war period Jason Harding examines the standing of T S Eliot's journal the Criterion in relation to other literary periodicals and beyond that to the larger cultural networks of the time The Criterion may at first sight seem a well studied publication often dismissed as predictably conservative even proto Fascist However through his examination of insufficiently known archive material and interviews with living witnesses to the period Harding significantly alters our understanding of the journal and of Eliot's role as editor More than that by carefully resituating the journal in its relations of both competition and co operation with a range of other literary periodicals for the most part little studied themselves he shows himself an authoritative and discriminating guide to the often complex networks within which Eliot worked The Criterion Cultural Politics and Periodical Networks in Inter War Britain defends the journal against charges of Fascism and anti-Semitism it is an invaluable book for scholars of Eliot and an original and incisive exploration of difficult areas of literary cultural exchange

Franco-British Studies , 1988      Decentering European Intellectual Space , 2018-05-15 Decentering European Intellectual Space challenges the conventional view of intellectual history as a debate over the interpretation of a limited number of texts produced by a small group of prominent scholars writers and intellectuals from the cultural centers of Europe Addressing the question What is European intellectual space this collection of essays seeks to demonstrate how this space is shaped ordered and communicated between Europe's fluctuating cores and peripheries Focusing on the asymmetrical relations between large and small centers and peripheries cores and margins in scholarly and other forms of interaction and within Europe as well as globally the volume brings forth a variety of trajectories and strategies developed by intellectuals outside the culturally dominant centers Contributors are David Cottingham Narve Fuls's Tommaso Giordani Marja Jalava Zs fia L rand ukasz Miko ajewski Diana Mishkova Stefan Nyg rd Emilia Palonen Manolis Patiniotis Johanna Rainio Niemi Tore Rem Jos Mar a Rosales and Johan Strang
