M. Uhlenbeck, 1983 The Oxford Guide to the Malayo-Polynesian Languages of Southeast Asia Alexander Adelaar, Antoinette Schapper, 2024-06-27 This volume presents the most wide ranging treatment available today of the Malayo Polynesian languages of Southeast Asia and their outliers It offers a comprehensive account of the historical relations and typological diversity in the group including current debates in their prehistories and descriptive priorities for future A Grammar of Madurese William D. Davies, 2010-08-31 Madurese is a major regional language of Indonesia with study some 14 million speakers mainly on the island of Madura and adjacent parts of Java making it the fourth largest language of Indonesia after Indonesian Javanese and Sundanese There is no existing comprehensive descriptive grammar of the language with existing studies being either sketches of the whole grammar or detailed descriptions of phonology and morphology or some particular topics within these components of the grammar There is no competing work that provides the breadth and depth of coverage of this grammar in particular though not exclusively with regard to syntax The Austronesian Languages of Asia and Madagascar K. Alexander Adelaar, Nikolaus Himmelmann, 2005 An essential source of reference for this linguistic community as well as for linguists working on typology and syntax A Man of Indonesian Letters ,2022-07-11 This collective volume contains articles in honour of Professor A Teeuw The World's Major Languages Bernard Comrie, 2017-07-05 This volume features over fifty of the world's languages and language families. The featured languages have been chosen based on the number of speakers their role as official languages and their cultural and historical importance Each language is looked at in depth and the chapters provide information on both grammatical features and on salient features of the language's history and cultural role This second edition has been updated and revised Two new languages Amharic and Javanese have been included This accessible volume will appeal to anyone with an interest in linguistics Key features Attention is paid to both grammatical and sociolinguistic features Attention is concentrated on the world's major languagesDesigned to be accessible to all readers with an interest in language Productivity in English Word-formation Jesús Fernández Domínguez, 2009 This book is a contribution to the study of morphological productivity that is the property of word formation processes whereby new words are created to satisfy a naming need It presents an up to date picture of this phenomenon characterising its major attributes and addressing neighbouring theoretical concepts like availability profitability or lexicalisation Links are also established between those notions and N N compounding a word formation process regarded as very productive but traditionally overlooked in studies of this type Unlike other productivity surveys mostly directed at affixation a corpus of N N compounds is here compiled to which the mainstream models of productivity are applied This allows to detect the pros and cons of those proposals and to propose a model of productivity Two measures Indicator of Profitability and Trend of Profitability are introduced which can be applied across word formation processes and are able to compute their productivity based on semantic categories Linguistics in East Asia and South East Asia Chao Yuen Ren, Richard B. Noss, Joseph. K. Yamagiwa, 2019-04-01 No detailed description available for Linguistics Language, Migration, and Identity Zane Goebel, 2010-07-29 While much scholarship has in East Asia and South East Asia been devoted to the interplay between language identity and social relationships we know less about how this plays out interactionally in diverse transient settings Based on research in Indonesia this book examines how talk plays an important role in mediating social relations in two urban spaces where linguistic and cultural diversity is the norm and where distinctions between newcomers and old timers changes regularly How do people who do not share expectations about how they should behave build new expectations through participating in conversation Starting from a view of language society dynamics as enregisterment Zane Goebel uses interactional sociolinguistics and the ethnography of communication to explore how language is used in this contact setting to build and present identities expectations and social relations It will be welcomed by researchers and students working in the fields of linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics the anthropology of migration and Asian studies Charting the Shape of Early Modern Southeast Asia Anthony Reid, 2000-08-01 In this volume Anthony Reid positions Southeast Asia on the stage of world history He argues that the region not only had a historical character of its own but that it played a crucial role in shaping the modern world Southeast Asia s interaction with the forces uniting and transforming the world is explored through chapters focusing on Islamization Chinese Siamese Cham and Javanese trade Makasar's modernizing moment and slavery. The last three chapters examine from different perspectives how this interaction of relative equality shifted to one of an impoverished third world region exposed to European colonial Invariance, Markedness and Distinctive Feature Analysis Yishai Tobin, 1994-12-15 This volume provides a new kind of contrastive analysis of two unrelated languages English and Hebrew based on the semiotic concepts of invariance markedness and distinctive feature theory It concentrates on linguistic forms and constructions which are remarkably different in each language despite the fact that they share the same familiar classifications and labels Tobin demonstrates how and why traditional and modern syntactic categories such as grammatical number verb tense aspect mood and voice conditionals and interrogatives etc are not equivalent across languages It is argued that these so called universal concepts function differently in each language system because they belong to distinct language specific semantic domains which are marked by different sets of semantic features. The data used in this volume have been taken from a wide range of both spoken and written discourse and texts reflecting people's actual use of language presented in their relevant linguistic and situational contexts Proceedings of the Seventh International Conference on Austronesian Linguistics .2023-07-24 Types of Reduplication Veronika Mattes, 2014-08-19 The book systematically discusses the formal and functional properties as well as the rules of the manifold productive reduplication types of Bikol an Austronesian language of the Philippines Based on the author's own fieldwork this case study demonstrates the highly complex and grammaticized status of reduplication In addition the formal and semantic properties of unproductive reduplicative forms of the language are also investigated The Politics of Court Reform Melissa Crouch, 2019-09-19 Offers an analysis of the politics of court reform through a focused review of Indonesia's complex court system Comparative Austronesian Dictionary Darrell T. Tryon, 2011-06-01 No detailed description available for Comparative Austronesian Dictionary The Linguistics of Sitting, Standing and Lying John Newman, 2002-01-01 This volume explores properties of sit stand and lie verbs reflecting three of the most salient postures associated with humans An introductory chapter by the Editor provides an overview of directions for research into posture verbs These directions are then explored in detail in a number of languages Dutch Korean Japanese Lao Chantyal Magar Tibeto Burman Chipewyan Athapaskan Trumai spoken in Brazil Kxoe Khoisan Mbay Nilo Saharan Oceanic Enga Ku Waru Papuan Arrernte Pitjantjatjara Ngan gityemerri Australian The contributors discuss data relevant to many fields of linguistic inquiry including patterns of lexicalization e g simplex or complex verb forms morphology e g state vs action formations grammaticalization e g extension to locational predicates aspect markers auxiliaries copulas classifiers and figurative extension A final chapter reports on an experimental methodology designed to establish the relevant cognitive parameters underlying speakers judgements on the polysemy of English stand Taken together the chapters provide a wealth of cross linguistic data on posture verbs
