Race and Crime

Racialization of Crime: defining crime by race → overrepresentation

→ Traditional Racism: being explicitly racist and discriminatory

- justifies racism
- e.g. Jim Crow Laws and Residential Schools

→ Symbolic Racism: racism hidden in language and symbols

- e.g. shooting only black people in a supermarket (racist attack)

→ Systemic Racism: racism rooted in social institutions

- invisible / hard to detect
- can be seen in schools, medical field, criminal justice

Relationship:
Racialization of Crime leads to Criminalization of Race

Criminalization of Race: thinking that someone's race causes crimes → black people commit crimes because they're black

→ Racial Profiling: suspecting someone of being a threat based on racial stereotypes

- e.g. Trayvon Martin was murdered while on the way to seeing his girlfriend because a white guy thought he was a criminal

Disproportionate Offending: certain groups of people committing crimes more than others

→ Reasons for Disproportionate Offending

1. Stages of Colonization

→ Annihilation: erasing people and their culture

→ e.g. destroying food, medicine, removing indigenous culture

→ Assimilation: including people into a new culture (adding them to a new group)

→ e.g. stole indigenous people's culture and then trying to make them apart of 'white culture'

• Slavery: treating racialized people as less than white people and using them against their will → black history

→ segregation: separating racial groups from white people

2. Social, Economic and Political Marginalization

→ Social, Economic and Political reasons for disproportionate offending

→ e.g. low education, poverty, drug / alcohol abuse, high unemployment rates

3. Community Disorder and Boonies

→ feeling helpless, no normal and can be seen in self-destructive behaviour

→ sense of collective identity was erased (don't feel special)

Lack of Race - Crime Data / Statistics in Canada

Canada doesn't have data on the race-crime link because:

- how people should be categorized based on race isn't always clear
- misinterpretation: might reinforce stereotypes
- justify racial profiling and lead to more of it happening
- could overrepresent certain groups (black + indigenous)

→ people still deny systemic racism even when there is plenty of proof

George Floyd Case Rodney King Case Problems

• Decontextualized the evidence

→ passed and analyzed the video in bits and pieces, which lead to inaccurate conclusions

• Dehumanization of the Offender

→ made Rodney seem like an animal

→ "bull grunting, grunting, bear"

• Sympathizing with the police

→ police played the victim

It's hard to define and quantify racism in the CJS, but we have:

- Personal Accounts (people telling their racial profiling stories)
- Case Studies
 - Police Violence (George Floyd, Rodney King)
 - Wrongful Convictions (Robert Carter)
- Commissions and Inquiries ✗
- Research on Police and Courts (CJS treats white people better than racialized groups)

Rodney King Case + Strategies Officers Used to get the Court on their side

- Decontextualization of the Incident: breaking the video apart
- Dehumanization of the Offender: made Rodney King seem like an animal or less human
- Identification with Police: made us sympathize with the cops
