politics of research gender publishing undergoing vivas and presenting at conferences This book will therefore be a valuable companion to researchers and research students from the start of their career onwards The Narrative Study of Lives: Exploring identity and gender, 1993 Situating Children of Migrants across Borders and Origins Claudio Bolzman, Laura Bernardi, Jean-Marie Le Goff, 2017-10-25 This open access wide ranging collation of papers examines a host of issues in studying second generation immigrants their life courses and their relations with older generations Tightly focused on methodological aspects both quantitative and qualitative the volume features the work of authors from numerous countries from differing disciplines and approaches A key addition in a corpus of literature which has until now been restricted to studying the childhood adolescence and youth of the children of immigrants the material includes analysis of longitudinal and transnational efforts to address challenges such as defining the population to be studied and the difficulties of follow up research that spans both time and geographic space In addition to perceptive reviews of extant literature chapters also detail work in surveying the children of immigrants in Europe the USA and elsewhere Authors address key questions such as the complexities of surveying each generation in families where parents have migrated and left children in their country of origin and the epistemological advances in methodology which now challenge assumptions based on the Westphalian nation state paradigm The book is in part an outgrowth of temporal factors immigrants children are now reaching adulthood in more significant numbers but also reflects the added sophistication and sensitivity of social science surveys In linking theoretical and methodological factors it shows just how much the study of these second generations and their families can be enriched by evolving methodologies This book is open access under a CC BY license Just Methods Alison M. Jaggar, 2015-11-17 The supplemented edition of this important reader includes a substantive new introduction by the author on the changing nature of feminist methodology It takes into account the implications of a major new study included for the first time in this book on poverty and gender in equality and it includes an article discussing the ways in which this study was conducted using the research methods put forward by the first edition This article begins by explaining why a new and better poverty metric is needed and why developing such a metric requires an alternative methodological approach inspired by feminism Feminist research is a growing tradition of inquiry that aims to produce knowledge not biased by inequitable assumptions about gender and related categories such as class race religion sexuality and nationality Just Methods is designed for upper level undergraduate and graduate students in a range of disciplines Rather than being concerned with particular techniques of inquiry the interdisciplinary readings in this book address broad questions of research methodology They are designed to help researchers think critically and constructively about the epistemological and ethical implications of various approaches to research selection and research design evidence gathering techniques and publication of results A key theme running through the readings is the complex interrelationship between social power and inequality on the one hand and the production of knowledge on the other A second and related theme is the inseparability of research projects and methodologies from ethical and political values Lives of the English Poets: Swift-Lyttelton Samuel Johnson, 1905 The Narrative Study of Lives Ruthellen Josselson, Amia Lieblich, 1993-03-31 This volume is especially appealing in that it celebrates diversity and embraces disagreement The narrative scholar regardless of her his research tradition or field will most certainly benefit from the diversity and depth provided in The Narrative Study of Lives Editors Ruthellen Josselson and Amia Lieblich have admirably fulfilled their criteria of breadth coherence and aesthetic appeal for works included in this volume Moreover they have provided the necessary forum for the study of lives and life histories We can only hope to continue the conversation in future volumes Journal of Contemporary Ethnography Few questions have a longer deeper and livelier intellectual history than how we construct our lives and indeed how we create ourselves in the process But it is a question newly alive today for modern scholarship has brought challenging new perspectives to the study of life writing Literary theorists linguists legal scholars and even political activists are bringing new and powerful insights to bear The Narrative Study of Lives provides a needed forum for the debates now in progress and should attract a loyal and numerous band of readers Jerome Bruner New York University For those psychologists searching for new approaches to the study of lives this volume takes an important step toward the editors promise of filling this gaping hole in psychology The Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease How do we derive concepts from stories and then use these concepts to understand people What would have to be added to transform story material from the journalistic or literary to the academic and theoretically enriching Addressing these and other such issues as the interface between life as lived and the social times this group of distinguished contributors from six different countries and four different disciplines explores this emerging new field Beginning with the philosophical framework that underlies the study of narrative the book covers such questions as What makes people want to preserve the stories of their past What methods can be used to deconstruct a narrative text Can what we learn from people s narratives of their past be used to account for their current psychological functioning What happens if people lose their ability to narrate their story Can people s narrative accounts tell us something about identity and its development Useful to researchers and students of human development and behavior The Narrative Study of Lives provides rich stories and analysis of narrative approaches to life history Public Faces, Private Lives Mattison Mines, 1994-12-19 Individuality is often viewed as an exclusively Western value In non Western societies collective identities seem to eclipse those of individuals These generalities however have overlooked the importance of personal uniqueness volition and achievement in these cultures This book weaves together personal life stories historical description and theoretical analysis to define individuality in South Asia and to distinguish it from its Western counterpart Narrative Research Amia Lieblich, Rivka Tuval-Mashiach, Tamar Zilber, 1998-05-27 A concise volume aimed at researchers and academics in sociology anthropology psychology and interpersonal communication The Status of Religious Instruction for Children Under Sixteen Years of Age Sister Josefita Marie, 1925 Introduction to Social Research

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors of America Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors of America,1923 Legacies of Christian Language and Literacies in American Education Mary M. Juzwik, Jennifer C. Stone, Kevin J. Burke, Denise Dávila, 2019-10-23 Because spiritual life and religious participation are widespread human and cultural phenomena these experiences unsurprisingly find their way into English language arts curriculum learning teaching and teacher education work Yet many public school literacy teachers and secondary teacher educators feel unsure how to engage religious and spiritual topics and responses in their classrooms This volume responds to this challenge with an in depth exploration of diverse experiences and perspectives on Christianity within American education Authors not only examine how Christianity the historically dominant religion in American society shapes languaging and literacies in schooling and other educational spaces but they also imagine how these relations might be reconfigured From curricula to classroom practice from narratives of teacher education to youth coming to faith chapters vivify how spiritual lives beliefs practices communities and religious traditions interact with linguistic and literate practices and pedagogies In relating legacies of Christian languaging and literacies to urgent issues including White supremacy sexism and homophobia and the politics of exclusion the volume enacts and invites inclusive relational configurations within and across the myriad American Christian sub cultures coming to bear on English language arts curriculum teaching and learning This courageous collection contributes to an emerging scholarly literature at the intersection of language and literacy teaching and learning religious literacy curriculum studies teacher education and youth studies It will speak to teacher educators scholars secondary school teachers and graduate and postgraduate students among others Education's Prisoners Ken McGrew, 2008 Education s Prisoners sheds light on the complicated relationship among the educational system the political economy and the prison industrial system in the United States Working within the tradition of critical theory this critical ethnography posits a more than accidental connection among these phenomena and engages in a debate with existing literature within critical theory related to structure and agency The life stories of the participants and their perspectives on their social circumstances provide a tool for deepening and questioning our understandings of these matters In addition to its substantive findings this book allows us to see in human terms how structures and forces in society contribute to the outcomes of school failure and incarceration that are usually measured in percentages and correlations It suggests ways of improving classroom experiences and improving the life chances of young people The Massachusetts Teacher ,1870
