American Linguistics in Transition Frederick J. Newmeyer, 2022-06-16 This volume is devoted to a major chapter in the history of linguistics in the United States the period from the 1930s to the 1980s and focuses primarily on the transition from post Bloomfieldian structural linguistics to early generative grammar The first three chapters in the book discuss the rise of structuralism in the 1930s the interplay between American and European structuralism and the publication of Joos's Readings in Linguistics in 1957 Later chapters explore the beginnings of generative grammar and the reaction to it from structural linguists how generativists made their ideas more widely known the response to generativism in Europe and the resistance to the new theory by leading structuralists which continued into the 1980s The final chapter demonstrates that contrary to what has often been claimed generative grammarians were not in fact organizationally dominant in the field in the United States in the 1970s and 1980s

Afroasiatic Studies in Memory of Robert Hetzron Charles G. Häberl, 2009-05-27 Robert Hetzron first organized the North American Conference on Afroasiatic Linguistics NACAL at the University of California Santa Barbara in 1973 and passed away only six months after it had completed a quarter century of annual meetings He would undoubtedly have been pleased to know that NACAL is still going strong and that ten years after his passing it attracted no fewer than thirty six scholars from the United States Canada and eight other countries who presented on topics near and dear to his heart such as phonology morphology syntax language contact classification subgrouping and the history of scholarship in languages such as Amharic Arabic Aramaic Egyptian Hebrew Omotic and others as well as the groups to which they pertain Since he established it NACAL has served a unique role among the meetings of learned societies in North America Only a handful of organizations worldwide hold annual meetings dedicated to Afroasiatic linguistics and NACAL is one of a very small number of venues where linguists from all sub disciplines and schools of thought meet to share their research NACAL is also an academic nexus a unique node at which graduate students at the beginning of their careers rub shoulders with the native speakers of the languages which they study and with the titans of their fields men and women of an almost legendary stature such as Hetzron himself This volume contains sixteen contributions from these scholars on a broad cross section of topics within the field of Afroasiatic linguistics
