Studying Hunger Bernadette Mayer:

Studying Hunger Journals Bernadette Mayer, 2011 Poetry Literary Nonfiction In 1972 Bernadette Mayer began this project as an aid to psychological counseling writing in parallel journals so that as she wrote in one in bed on subways at parties etc her psychiatrist read the other Using colored pens to color code emotions she recorded dreams events memories and reflections in a language at once free ranging and precise a work that creates its own poetics She sought a workable code or shorthand for the transcription of every event every motion every transition of her own mind and to perform this process of translation on herself in the interest of evolving an innovative inquiring language STUDYING HUNGER

JOURNALS registers this intention within a body of poetry John Ashbery has called magnificent A Bernadette Mayer Reader Bernadette Mayer, 1992 She writes as if Everything were still possible in the work of a lifetime at the coincidence of all the turvy moments Better that she s read without a thought to stop Best so this world is found changed Clark Coolidge

Leaving Lines of Gender Ann Vickery, 2000 The most significant contribution to the literary history of Language writing to date Studying Hunger Bernadette Mayer, 1975 The Poetics of Information Overload Paul Stephens, 2015-07-30 Information overload is a subject of vital ubiquitous concern in our time The Poetics of Information Overload reveals a fascinating genealogy of information saturation through the literary lens of American modernism Although technology has typically been viewed as hostile or foreign to poetry Paul Stephens outlines a countertradition within twentieth and twenty first century literature in which avant garde poets are centrally involved with technologies of communication data storage and bureaucratic control Beginning with Gertrude Stein and Bob Brown Stephens explores how writers have been preoccupied with the effects of new media since the advent of modernism He continues with the postwar writing of Charles Olson John Cage Bern Porter Hannah Weiner Bernadette Mayer Lyn Hejinian and Bruce Andrews and concludes with a discussion of conceptual writing produced in the past decade By reading these works in the context of information systems Stephens shows how the poetry of the past century has had as a primary focus the role of data in human life 0 to 9 and the New York Avant-Garde Ross Hair, 2025-09-08 Edited and self published by Bernadette Mayer and Vito Acconci from 1967 to 1969 0 to 9 not only documented some of the most compelling examples of intermedia performance contemporary poetry and post formalist art of the period but also pioneered new ways of conceiving and using the magazine as medium and instrument 0 to 9 and the New York Avant Garde Publishing by Numbers examines how the magazine both responded to and helped shape key developments in New York s often fractious avant garde communities The book pays particular attention to the ways in which Mayer and Acconci foregrounded the material and generic qualities of the magazine and conceived their periodical as a means of generating as well as documenting art and poetry 0 to 9 and the New York Avant Garde considers the ways in which 0 to 9 interacted with other artistic movements and theoretical concerns of the period including cybernetics Pop Art structuralism and information theory Arguing for the enduring importance of the magazine and its unique position in the history of New York's experimental art and literary scenes this study contends that 0 to 9 was both a swan song of 1960s idealism and a precursor for the directions that avant garde art would take in the decades that followed the magazine's demise

The Golden Book of Words Bernadette Mayer, 2025-05-27 Here at last is a new edition of a famous early work by Bernadette Mayer one of the most beloved radical and witty American poets This landmark early book its original printing by Angel Hair Books was 750 copies and they are now extremely rare by the late great Bernadette Mayer is finally available again both as a tribute and a joy to read Mayer was a marvelous poet in every stage of her long and prolific writing life but many fans most admire her restless powerful sexy and erudite early work One of her signal elements is a certain deadpan wit on full display here with classics such as Lookin Like Areas of Kansas or What Babies Really Do or the marvelous Essay I guess it's too late to live on the farm I guess it's too late to move to a farm I guess it's too late to start farming I guess farming is not in the cards now I guess farming is really out I don't want to be a farmer but my mother was right I should never have tried to rise out of the proletariat Unless I can convince myself as Satan argues with Eve That we are among a proletariat of poets of all the classes Each ill paid and surviving on nothing Or on as little as one needs to survive Steadfast as any farmer and fixed as the stars Tenants of a vision we rent out endlessly

Lyric Shame Gillian White, 2014-10-13 Gillian White argues that the poetry wars among critics and practitioners are shaped by lyric shame an unspoken but pervasive embarrassment over what poetry is should be and fails to be Lyric is less a specific genre than a way to project subjectivity onto poems an idealized poem that is nowhere and yet everywhere

Slips of the Mind Jennifer Soong,2025-04-07 An audacious account of what happens when forgetting becomes a way of writing and writing becomes a way of forgetting In Slips of the Mind poet and critic Jennifer Soong turns away from forgetting s long standing associations with suppression privation and error to argue that the absence or failure of memory has often functioned as a generative creative principle Exploring forgetting not as the mere rejection of a literary past or a form of negative poetics Soong puts to the test its very aesthetic meaning What new structures forms of desires styles and long and short feelings do lapses in time allow What is oblivion s relationship to composition And how does the twentieth century poet come to figure as the quintessential embodiment of such questions Soong uncovers forgetting s influence on Gertrude Stein Lyn Hejinian Tan Lin Harryette Mullen Lissa Wolsak and New York School poets John Ashbery James Schuyler Bernadette Mayer and Ted Berrigan among others She reveals that forgetting s shapeshifting produces differences in poetic genre interest and degrees of intentionality and that such malleability is part of forgetting's nature. Most provocatively, Soong shows how losing track of things leaving them behind or finding them already gone resists overdetermination and causality in the name of surprise as poets leverage forgetting in order to replace identity with style. Slips of the Mind is the kind of literary criticism that will reward all readers of modern and contemporary poetry. Women, the New York School, and Other True Abstractions Maggie Nelson, 2007-12 Maggie Nelson provides the first extended consideration of the roles played by women in and around the New York School of poets from the 1950s to the present and offers unprecedented analyses of the work of Barbara Guest, Bernadette Mayer, Alice Notley, Eileen Myles, and abstract painter Joan Mitchell as well as a reconsideration of the work of many male New York School writers and artists from a feminist perspective. Attention Equals Life Andrew Epstein, 2016 Poetry has long been thought of as a genre devoted to grand subjects, timeless themes, and sublime beauty. Why then have contemporary poets turned with such intensity to documenting and capturing the everyday and mundane? Drawing on insights about the nature of everyday life from philosophy, history, and critical theory, Andrew Epstein traces the modern history of this preoccupation and considers why it is so much with us today. Attention Equals Life argues that a potent hunger for everyday life explodes in the post-1945 period as a reaction to the rapid, unsettling transformations of this epoch which have resulted in a culture of perilous distraction. Epstein demonstrates that poetry is an important and perhaps unlikely cultural form that has mounted a response and even a mode of resistance to a culture suffering from an acute crisis of attention. In this timely and engaging study, Epstein examines why a compulsion to represent the everyday becomes predominant in the decades after modernism and why it has so often sparked genre-bending, formal experimentation. With chapters devoted to illuminating readings of a diverse group of writers including poets associated with influential movements like the New York School, language poetry, and conceptual writing, the book considers the variety of forms contemporary poetry of everyday life has taken and analyzes how gender, race, and political forces all profoundly inflect the experience and the representation of the quotidian. By exploring the rise of experimental realism as a poetic mode and the turn to rule-governed everyday life projects, Attention Equals Life offers a new way of understanding a vital strain at the heart of twentieth and twenty-first century literature. It not only charts the evolution of a significant concept in cultural theory and poetry but also reminds readers that the quest to pay attention to the everyday within today's frenetic world of social media is an urgent and unending task. International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2004 Europa Publications, 2003 Accurate and reliable biographical information essential to anyone interested in the world of literature. The International Who's Who of Authors and Writers offers invaluable information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world, including many up-and-coming writers as well as established names. With over 8,000 entries, this updated edition features concise biographical information on novelists, authors, playwrights, columnists, journalists, editors, and critics.
