Stuff It The Art Of Creating Filled Food:

Stuff It! Tamara Milstein, 1998 Narratives in the Making Mary Beattie, 2003-01-01 At Corktown Community High School in Toronto importance is placed on the education of the whole person An alternative secondary school it emphasizes the development of self knowledge and responsiveness to others creative and critical thought and connectedness through the self the school community and society Narratives in the Making is based on a research project carried out at the school as part of a large scale national research study The Exemplary Schools Project Corktown a pseudonym was selected as a participant in this study because of its unusually high rate of student retention student engagement achievement and success Using narrative accounts of classroom and school practices profiles of teachers and students and language that is accessible to both practitioners and academics Mary Beattie provides insights and explanations of the meaning of success as it is understood by Corktown teachers students parents alumni and school administrators She shows how the whole person concept is incorporated into the school environment and why relationships are at the heart of teaching and learning

Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer, 2014-01-17 Taste perhaps the most intimate of the five senses has traditionally been considered beneath the concern of philosophy too bound to the body too personal and idiosyncratic Yet in addition to providing physical pleasure eating and drinking bear symbolic and aesthetic value in human experience and they continually inspire writers and artists In Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer explains how taste came to occupy so low a place in the hierarchy of senses and why it is deserving of greater philosophical respect and attention Korsmeyer begins with the Greek thinkers who classified taste as an inferior bodily sense she then traces the parallels between notions of aesthetic and gustatory taste that were explored in the formation of modern aesthetic theories She presents scientific views of how taste actually works and identifies multiple components of taste experiences Turning to taste's objects food and drink she looks at the different meanings they convey in art and literature as well as in ordinary human life and proposes an approach to the aesthetic value of taste that recognizes the representational and expressive roles of food Korsmeyer's consideration of art encompasses works that employ food in contexts sacred and profane that seek to whet the appetite and to keep it at bay her selection of literary vignettes ranges from narratives of macabre devouring to stories of communities forged by shared eating discussing not so much food or its preparation as its portrayal in any number of art forms such as popular music crime novels film theatre literature and fine art There are also some papers which concentrate on the art of food or art relating to food an instance is the art of tissue paper orange wrappers a recondite but riveting item My impression when this subject was first mooted was that all contributions would revolve around paintings and high arts I was mistaken there is a remarkable spread the arrangement of 18th century desserts cookery and the Cuban Santeria religion drink in 19th century English fiction food in film noir the cook as artist in 18th century England architectural food design in France and Italy popcorn poetry food and eating in Bronte novels and much more These volumes are sometimes indigestible fricassees if swallowed at once but think of them as platters of oysters each may contain a pearl By the finish a bracelet at least perhaps a necklace is the consequence

Art, Farming and Food for the Future Barbara L. Benish,Nathalie Blanc,2022-09-30 This book explores the impact of artistic experiments in inspiring people to turn away from current food consumerism and take an active role in preserving sustaining and protecting the environment As artists are expanding their practice into social justice and community concerns erasing traditional forms of expression and integrating others the culture around food and its production has been added to a new vocabulary of experiential art The authors measure the impact of such experiments on local food consumption and production focusing on education and youth both in the surrounding community and culture at large They suggest how these projects can be up scaled to further encourage sustainable solutions for our environment and communities The book explores the reflections and motivations of case study practitioners in urban and rural areas and through interviews engages with artists who are pioneering a new trend to create hubs of activity away from traditional art spaces in cities to follow a non hierarchal practice that is de centralized and communally based This book will be of great interest to academic readers concerned with issues related to environmental aesthetics eco design eco criticism culture heritage memory and identity and those interested in the current debates on the place of aesthetics and culture in sustainability Art Teaching George

The Ante-Nicene Fathers Alexander Roberts,2007-05-01 One of the first great events in Christian history was the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD convened to organize Christian sects and beliefs into a unified doctrine The great Christian clergymen who wrote before this famous event are referred to as the Ante Nicenes and the Apostolic Fathers and their writings are collected here in a ten volume set The Ante Nicenes lived so close to the time of Christ that their interpretations of the New Testament are considered more authentic than modern voices But they are also real and flawed men who are more like their fellow Christians than they are like the Apostles making their words echo in the ears of spiritual seekers In Volume IV of the 10 volume collected works of the Ante Nicenes first published between 1885 and 1896 readers will find the writings of Tertullian a Christian apologist and influential Latin Christian thinker Minucius Felix known for his dialog Octavius Commodianus a Latin poet who converted to Christianity Origen a prolific writer and theologian

Disrupting Whiteness in Social Work Sonia M. Tascón,Jim Ife,2019-11-27 Focussing on the epistemic the way in which knowledge is understood constructed transmitted and used this book shows the way social work knowledge has been constructed from within a white western paradigm and the need for a critique of whiteness within social work at this epistemic level Social work emerging from the western Enlightenment world has privileged white western knowledge in ways that have been until recently largely unexamined within its professional discourse This imposition of white western ways of knowing has led to a corresponding marginalisation of other forms of knowledge Drawing on views from social workers from Asia the Pacific region Africa Australia and Latin America this book also includes a glossary of over 40 commonly used social work terms which are listed with their epistemological assumptions identified Opening up a debate about the received wisdom of much social work language as well as challenging the epistemological assumptions behind conventional social work practice this book will be of interest to all scholars and students of social work as well as practitioners seeking to develop genuinely decolonised forms of practice
