Taxation In A Global Economy Theory And Evidence:

Taxation in a Global Economy Andreas Haufler, 2001-08-23 The increasing international mobility of capital firms and consumers has begun to constrain tax policies in most OECD countries playing a major role in reforming national tax systems Haufler uses the theory of international taxation to consider the fundamental forces underlying this process covering both factor and commodity taxes as well as their interaction Topics include a variety of different international tax avoidance strategies capital flight profit shifting in multinational firms and cross border shopping by consumers Situations in which tax competition creates conflicting interests between countries are given particular consideration Haufler addresses the complex issue of coordination in different areas of tax policy with special emphasis on regional tax harmonization in the European Union Also included is a detailed introduction to recent theoretical literature Taxing Profit in a Global Economy Michael P. Devereux, Alan J. Auerbach, Michael Keen, Paul Oosterhuis, John Vella, Wolfgang Schön, 2020-09-29 1 Introduction 2 Key issues in taxing profit 3 The current international tax system 4 Fundamental reform options 5 Basic choices in considering reform 6 Residual profit allocation by income 7 Destination based cash flow taxation Handbook on the Political Economy of Social Policy Bent Greve, Amílcar Moreira, Minna van Gerven, 2024-05-02 Research in social policy has been greatly influenced by the emergence of modern political economy in the late 1970s The Handbook on the Political Economy of Social Policy offers a systematic yet comprehensive framework for understanding how concepts theoretical standpoints and methodological approaches stemming from political economy have been applied to the study of social policies and models of welfare provision The authors also signpost current developments and discuss their likely impact on future research The American Economic Review , 1911 Fiscal Policies and Growth in the World Economy Jacob A. Frenkel, 1996 Journal of Economic Literature , 2003 Multinational Firms in the World Economy Giorgio Barba Navaretti, Anthony J. Venables, Frank Barry, 2004 Presenting a debate on multinationals that is grounded in sound economic arguments the authors explain their conclusion that multinational enterprises are generally a force for the promotion of prosperity in the world economy Fiscal Decentralization and Local Finance in Developing Countries Roy Bahl, Richard M. Bird, 2018-03-30 This book draws on experiences in developing countries to bridge the gap between the conventional textbook treatment of fiscal decentralization and the actual practice of subnational government finance The extensive literature about the theory and practice is surveyed and longstanding problems and new questions are addressed It focuses on the key choices that must be made in decentralizing on how economic and political factors shape the choices that countries make and on how by paying more attention to the need for a more comprehensive approach and the critical connections between different components of decentralization reform everyone involved might get more for their money OECD Tax Policy Studies , 2000 The X Tax in the World Economy David F. Bradford, 2004 This paper considers the treatment of multinational business in the system known as an X Tax The focus is on the choice between origin and destination treatments of transborder transactions The destination principle approach sidesteps the transfer pricing problem It remains in the origin principle approach which however presents fewer challenges of monitoring imports obviates the tourism problem whereby people can reduce their taxes by consuming in a low tax jurisdiction and avoids transition effects associated with introduction of the tax and subsequent tax rate changes The paper suggests special rules for transborder transactions between related parties to deal with the transfer pricing problem NBER website

Financial Markets and Capital Income Taxation in a Global Economy Paolo Roberti, 1998 The book describes the developments and the evidence the problems and the interrelationships among problems the outlook and the intricate balance between the national and the international dimensions of the policy issues faced by tax administrations in OECD countries in the field of financial markets and capital income taxation in the wake of profound technological change and market globalization The book provides a broad perspective of the problems comparing thoughts on how the problems may be best dealt with and using lessons from experience with theoretical and policy developments in a number of countries including the EU North America and Australia The book focuses on the following topics bull falling barriers increased capital mobility and the challenges of capital market globalization bull the implications for capital income taxation of technological innovation and new financial products bull tax distortions and international market pressures for national tax system conformity bull questions of national tax sovereignty and the constraints imposed on governments by tax competition bull the growing need for tax cooperation bull emerging national and international capital taxation issues including the premise that international cooperation may be key to solving or at least alleviating the existing and predicted tax problems

Macroeconomics in the Global Economy Jeffrey Sachs, 1993 This textbook is written for the core intermediate macroeconomics course which forms an essential part of all economics degrees The authors reflect the continually changing debate in macroeconomics by stressing the great variety of possible macroeconomic outcomes rather than a single theory More importantly the book reflects a new revolution in macroeconomics that an open economy approach is essential to the study of the subject The previously ascendant closed economy approaches have ignored the fact that for many countries trade and capital flows between countries are a dominant if not the dominant influence on the national economy
