civilizations notably those of the ancient Near East and of the classical world Islam also developed its own distinctive vocabulary of signs and symbols Accordingly questions of iconography and meaning bulk large among the studies gathered together in the present volume These studies written over a period of almost thirty years and taken from a wide variety of published sources deal with aspects of the decorative arts from Spain to India and from the 7th to the 17th century They focus in turn upon ceramics and metalwork on coins carpets and calligraphy and on carving in wood and ivory They are arranged under three headings The first comprises general surveys of the field covering the content of these arts and confronting the challenges they present such as the Islamic approach to three dimensional sculpture The second deals with questions of iconography and meaning while the third comprises a series of studies devoted to specific media such as ivory woodwork and numismatics This volume therefore offers not only a general introduction to some of the problems posed by Islamic art but also readings of key objects in an attempt to explore their meaning and finally an in depth focus on individual objects representing specific genres and media

Poverty and Charity in Middle Eastern Contexts Michael David Bonner, Mine Ener, Amy Singer, 2003-07-17 Addresses the ideals and institutions through which Middle Eastern societies have confronted poverty and the poor Offering insights and analysis in a field that has only recently come into existence this book explores the ideals and institutions through which Middle Eastern societies from the rise of Islam in the seventh century C E to the present day have confronted poverty and the poor By introducing new sources and presenting familiar ones with new questions the contributors examine ideas about poverty and the poor ideals and practices of charity and state and private initiatives of poor relief over this extensive time span They avoid easy generalizations about Islam and the Middle East as they seek to set the ideals and practices in comparative perspective

Periodica Islamica ,1995 Women as Imams

Simonetta Calderini, 2020-12-10 There is a long and rich history of opinion centred on female prayer leadership in Islam that has occupied the minds of theologians and jurists alike It includes outright prohibition dislike permissibility under certain conditions and although rarely unrestricted sanction or even endorsement This book discusses debates drawn from scholars of the formative period of Islam who engaged with the issue of female prayer leadership Simonetta Calderini critically analyses their arguments puts them into their historical context and for the first time tracks down how they have informed current views on female imama prayer leadership In presenting the variety of opinions discussed in the past by Sunni and Shi i scholars and some of the Sufis among them the book uncovers how they are at present being used selectively depending on modern agendas and biases It also reviews the roles and types of authority of current women imams in diverse contexts spanning from Asia Africa and Europe to America The research offers readers the opportunity to gain nuanced answers to the question of female imama today that may lead to informed discussions and to change if not necessarily in practices then at the very least in attitudes This ground breaking book interrogates the cases of women who are reported to have led prayer in the past It then analyses the voices of current women imams many of whom engage with those women of the past to validate their own roles in the present and so pave the way for the future

Money, Power and Politics in Early Islamic Syria Professor John Haldon, 2013-06-28 The transformation of the eastern provinces of the Roman empire from the middle of the seventh century CE under the impact of Islam has attracted a good deal of scholarly attention in recent years and as more archaeological material becomes available has been subject to revision and rethinking in ways that radically affect what we know or understand about the area about state building and the economy and society of the early Islamic world and about issues such as urbanisation town country relations the ways in which a different religious culture impacted on the built environment and about politics This volume represents the fruits of a workshop held at Princeton University in May 2007 to discuss the ways in which recent work has affected our understanding of the nature of economic and exchange activity in particular and the broader implications of these advances for the history of the region
