The Imperial Map James R. Akerman, 2009-03 Maps from virtually every culture and period convey our tendency to see our communities as the centre of the world if not the universe and by implication as superior to anything beyond our boundaries This study examines how cartography has been used to prop up a variety of imperialist enterprises

European Rural Landscapes Hannes Palang, 2004-05-31 This book a compendium of 28 papers selected from two recent conferences on the topic focuses on aspects of rural landscape broadly related to issues of language representation and power These are issues that have not been addressed on a pan European landscape level before The aim is to offer a deeper interdisciplinary understanding of historical and contemporary processes in European landscapes

The Cartographic State Jordan Branch, 2013-11-28 Why is today's world map filled with uniform states separated by linear boundaries The answer to this question is central to our understanding of international politics but the question is at the same time much more complex and more revealing than we might first think This book examines the important but overlooked role played by cartography itself in the development of modern states Drawing upon evidence from the history of cartography peace treaties and political practices the book reveals that early modern mapping dramatically altered key ideas and practices among both rulers and subjects leading to the implementation of linear boundaries between states and centralized territorial rule within them In his analysis of early modern innovations in the creation distribution and use of maps Branch explains how the relationship between mapping and the development of modern territories shapes our understanding of international politics today Cartography in the Twentieth Century: Cartography in prehistoric, ancient, and medieval Europe and the Mediterranean Mark S. Monmonier, Peter Collier (Cartographic historian), Karen Severud Cook, A. Jon Kimerling, Joel L. Morrison, 2015 For more than thirty years the History of Cartography Project has charted the course for scholarship on cartography bringing together research from a variety of disciplines on the creation dissemination and use of maps Volume 6 Cartography in the Twentieth Century continues this tradition with a groundbreaking survey of the century just ended and a new full color encyclopedic format www.press.uchicago.edu Politics, Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in 13th - 15th Century Tabriz Judith Pfeiffer, 2013-11-07 In Politics Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in 13th 15th Century Tabriz an international group of specialists from different disciplines investigate the role of Tabriz as one of the foremost centres of learning cultural productivity and politics in post Mongol Iran and the Middle East While standard accounts of Islamic history have long presented the 13th to 15th centuries as the bottom of the decline paradigm of old the present volume demonstrates the vibrancy and originality of the intellectual and cultural production of this period by focusing on Tabriz among other capitals of the region The volume particularly explores the transmission of knowledge and institutional and cultural patronage in the post Mongol period Contributors include Reuven Amitai Nourane Ben Azzouna Sheila Blair Devin DeWeese Joachim Gierlichs Birgitt Hoffmann Domenico Ingenito Robert Morrison Ertu rul kten Judith Pfeiffer Johannes Preiser Kapeller F Jamil Ragep and Patrick Wing Routledge Revivals: Medieval Italy \(2004\). Christopher Kleinhenz, 2017 Scale Cristian Suteanu, 2023-01-01 This book provides up to date in depth and accessible information on the concept of scale and focuses on its applications in geography Earth science environmental science and other fields in which the environment plays a significant role Although the book presents methods and applications as a response to practical challenges it is primarily concept centered it identifies a set of distinct yet related notions of scale analyzing and elucidating their evolving meanings in a systematic way Concepts are defined with a focus on their practical operational applicability and the introduction of methods is supported by concrete examples The book links theoretical insights to illustrating applications involving a broad range of themes from maps fractals and chaos theory to fine art and literature It approaches the subject in a spatial temporal and spatio temporal context including a wide diversity of spatial features from Earth and other planets as well as time series and space time patterns This monograph is expected to be useful especially because in practice the various scale focused concepts are not neatly separated and immiscible It is therefore helpful for scholars in physical and human geography Earth and environmental sciences and other fields to benefit from a clear conceptual framework that distinguishes and illuminates the various scale related concepts and their interconnections Selected chapters can also support a deeper understanding of the concept of scale for graduate and undergraduate students in geography the natural

Time for mapping Sybille Lammes,Chris Perkins,Alex Gekker,Sam Hind,Clancy Wilmott,Daniel Evans,2018-06-29 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license Maps take place in time as well as representing space The Google map on your smartphone appears to fix the world serving as a practical spatial tool but in practice is deployed in ways that draw attention to memories rhythm synchronicity sequence and duration This interdisciplinary collection focuses on how these temporal aspects of mapping might be understood at a time when mapping technologies have been profoundly changed by digital developments It contrasts different aspects of this temporality bringing together experts from critical cartography media studies and science and technology studies Together the chapters offer a unique interdisciplinary focus revealing the complex and social ways in which time is wrapped up with digital technologies and revealed in everyday mapping tasks from navigating across cities to serving as scientific groundings for news stories from managing smart cities to visual art practice It brings time back into the map

eVolve: Essays on the Virtual Body C. Jason Smith,2019-02-17 An introductory history of the virtual body eVolve explores the boundaries between a series of cultural artifacts all of which evidence the historical moment when a technology necessary for what we now call virtual reality came into being in order to better understand the human fascination with and desire for virtuality The discussion of simulation technologies includes visual art cartography narrative drama games and spontaneous play as simulations miniature war games role playing games computer games virtual cinema the internet MOOs and MUDs massively multiplayer online communities MMOs and finally artificial intelligence the Anthropropic Cosmological Principles and Omega Point Theory The subject matter is highly interdisciplinary and draws widely upon theoretical discussions from both the arts humanities and the sciences

Ships on Maps Richard W. Unger,2010-08-04 Renaissance map makers produced ever more accurate descriptions of geography which were also beautiful works of art They filled the oceans Europeans were exploring with ships and to describe the real ships which were the newest and best products of technology Above all the ships were there to show the European conquest of the seas of the world

Travel, Time, and Space in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Time Albrecht Classen,2018-10-22 Research on medieval and early modern travel literature has made great progress which now allows us to take the next step and to analyze the correlations between the individual and space throughout time which contributed essentially to identity formation in many different settings The contributors to this volume engage with a variety of pre modern texts images and other documents related to travel and the individual's self orientation in foreign lands and make an effort to determine the concept of identity within a spatial framework often determined by the meeting of various cultures Moreover objects images and words can also travel and connect people from different worlds through books The volume thus brings together new scholarship focused on the interrelationship of travel space time and individuality which also includes of course women's movement through the larger world whether in concrete terms or through proxy travel via readings Travel here is also examined with respect to craftsmen s activities at various sites artists employment for many different projects all over Europe and elsewhere and in terms of metaphysical experiences catabasis

News Media Influence on Rail Infrastructure Policy Nicholas Richardson,2023-10-19 In this book Richardson s research spans a decade and two cities Sydney Australia and Montreal Canada focusing on three metro style rail infrastructure case study projects one ongoing one failed and one upgraded after reaching fifty years of age to build an irrefutable case that the news media is highly influential to policy and that these influences are complex messy and changing News Media Influence on Rail Infrastructure Policy offers scholars and industry practitioners in the arenas of policy analysis politics and media communications a method for astutely guiding large scale projects through the complex and changing landscape of 24 7 news media It is underpinned by empirical research that identifies and endeavors to close a considerable gap in current understanding and practice This gap represents a failure to recognise and respect mediatization the many powerful influences impacting a policy arena that has drawn the ire of the news media The result of this failure is ineffective communication that does little to advance the policy piece and in the worst instances leads to policy immobilisation or poor policy decision making Drawing significantly on Actor Network Theory Richardson identifies the influential actors and alliances at play when policy is subjected to media discourse and he proposes a framework for tracing and managing them In doing so he demonstrates that such a framework is not only vital for the successful negotiation of policy and projects in the media but also to an r evolutionary recasting of public expert and media actors in the development and decision making process

The Mapping of New Spain Barbara E. Mundy,2000-12 To learn about its territories in the New World Spain commissioned a survey of Spanish officials in Mexico between 1578 and 1584 asking for local maps as well as descriptions of local resources history and geography In The Mapping of New Spain Barbara Mundy illuminates both the Amerindian Aztec Mixtec and Zapotec and the Spanish traditions represented in these maps and traces the reshaping of indigene world views in the wake of colonization Its contribution to its specific field is both significant and original It is a pure pleasure to read Sabine MacCormack Isis Mundy has done a fine job of balancing the artistic interpretation of the maps with the larger historical context within which they were drawn This is an important work John F Schwaller Sixteenth Century Journal This beautiful book opens a Pandora s box in the most positive sense for it provokes the reconsideration of several long held opinions about Spanish colonialism and its effects on Native American culture Susan Schroeder American Historical Review

The Mapping of Power in Renaissance Italy Mark Rosen,2015 This well illustrated study investigates the symbolic dimensions of painted maps as products of ambitious early modern European courts

Masons, Tricksters and Cartographers David Turnbull,2000 This highly original study puts forward the notion that every culture has its own ways of assembling local knowledge thereby creating space through the linking of people practices and places

Picturing the Islamicate World Nadja Danilenko,2020-10-26 In Picturing the Islamicate World Nadja Danilenko explores the message of the first preserved maps from the Islamicate world Safeguarded in al I akhr s Book of Routes and Realms 10th century C E the world map and twenty regional maps complement the text to a reference book of the territories under Muslim rule Rather than shaping the Islamicate world according to political or religious concerns al I akhr chose a timeless design intended to outlast upheavals Considering the treatise was transmitted for almost a millennium al I akhr s strategy seems to have paid off By investigating the Persian and Ottoman translations and all extant manuscripts Nadja Danilenko unravels the manuscript tradition of al I akhr s work revealing who took an interest in it and why

Seascapes Jerry H. Bentley, Renate Bridenthal, Kären Wigen, 2007-04-30 Historians have only recently begun to chart the experiences of maritime regions in rich detail and penetrate the historical processes at work there Seascapes makes a major contribution to these efforts by bringing together original scholarship on historical issues arising from maritime regions around the world The essays presented here take a variety of approaches One group examines the material cultural and intellectual constructs that inform and explain historical experiences of maritime regions Another set discusses efforts some more successful than others to impose political and military control over maritime regions A third group focuses on issues of social history such as labor organization information flows and the development of political consciousness among subaltern populations The final essays deal with pirates and efforts to control them in Mediterranean Japanese and Atlantic waters
