The Hopes Of Snakes And Other Tales From The Urban Landscape:

The Hopes of Snakes Lisa Couturier, 2005 In The Hopes of Snakes Lisa Couturier brings together the best of her essays on urban and suburban nature throughout the Northeast from Washington DC to Boston Her sharp eye and deep humanity have found what is remarkable in city nature and illuminated it for readers like no one before her Spring Gary Schmidt, Susan M. Felch, 2008-02 Explore the gentle unfurling of spring and reflect on how nature celebrates birth and renewal in this collection of reflections by our greatest writers back cover City Creatures Gavin Van Horn, Dave Aftandilian, 2015-11-03 This anthology explores Chicago's surprisingly diverse wildlife through essays poetry paintings and photographs We usually think of cities as the domain of humans but we are just one of thousands of species that call the urban landscape home While Chicago residents are likely familiar with squirrels pigeons and dogs many would be surprised to learn about the leafhoppers and water bears black crowned night herons and bison beavers and massasauga rattlesnakes that are living alongside them City Creatures introduces readers these and other creatures through a variety of creative contributions Contributors bring a story based approach to this urban safari taking readers on birding expeditions to the Magic Hedge at Montrose Harbor on the North Side canoe trips down the South Fork of the Chicago River better known as Bubbly Creek and insect collecting forays or restoration work days in the suburban forest preserves The book is organized into six sections each highlighting one type of place in which people might encounter animals in the city and suburbs For example schoolyard chickens and warrior wasps populate Backyard Diversity and a chorus of deep freeze frogs awaits in Water Worlds Its powerful combination of insightful narratives numinous poetry and full color art will help readers see the city and the creatures who share it with us in an entirely new light Writing the Land Daniel G. Payne, 2009-05-05 At the time of his death in 1921 John Burroughs 1837 1921 was America's most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America's most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs's emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J Renehan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural

Zooland Irus Braverman, 2012-11-28 This book takes a unique stance on a controversial topic zoos Zoos have their ardent supporters and their vocal detractors And while we all have opinions on what zoos do few people consider how they do it Irus Braverman draws on more than seventy interviews conducted with zoo managers and administrators as well as animal activists to offer a glimpse into the otherwise unknown complexities of zooland Zooland begins and ends with the story of Timmy the oldest male gorilla in North America to illustrate the dramatic transformations of zoos since the 1970s Over these decades modern zoos have transformed themselves from places created largely for entertainment to globally connected institutions that emphasize care through conservation and education Zoos naturalize their spaces classify their animals and produce spectacular experiences for their human visitors Zoos name register track and allocate their animals in global databases Zoos both abide by and create laws and industry standards that govern their captive animals Finally zoos intensely govern the reproduction of captive animals carefully calculating the life and death of these animals deciding which of them will be sustained and which will expire Zooland takes readers behind the exhibits into the world of zoo animals and their caretakers And in so doing it turns its gaze back on us to make surprising interconnections between our understandings of the human and the nonhuman

The Social Behavior of Older Animals Anne Innis Dagg, 2009-02-02 Taking a cue from Frans de Waal's seminal work examining the lives of chimpanzees Anne Innis Dagg probes the lives of older mammals and birds Synthesizing the available scientific research and anecdotal evidence she explores how aging affects the lives and behavior of animals ranging from elk to elephants and gulls to gorillas examining such topics as longevity how others in a group view senior members in regard to leadership wisdom and teaching mating success interactions with mates and offspring how aging affects dominance changes in aggressive behavior and adaptability and death and dying

Pedaling Resistance Carol J. Adams, Michael D.

Wise,2024-05-31 Pedaling Resistance examines the relationship between veganism and cycling through a blend of memoir style recollections and critical engagements with works of cultural and social analysis Focusing on the intersections among cycling veganism animal suffering environmentalism class race and gender this essay collection sheds light on themes of everyday resistance and boundary crossing to uncover some of the larger social and political issues at stake in these activities

Trash Animals Kelsi Nagy,Phillip David Johnson II,2013-04-01 Why are some species admired or beloved while others are despised An eagle or hawk circling overhead inspires awe while urban pigeons shuffling underfoot are kicked away in revulsion Fly fishermen consider carp an unwelcome trash fish even though the trout they hope to catch are often equally non native Wolves and coyotes are feared and hunted in numbers wildly disproportionate to the dangers they pose to humans and livestock In Trash Animals a diverse group of environmental writers explores the natural history of wildlife species deemed filthy unwanted invasive or worthless highlighting the vexed relationship humans have with such creatures Each essay focuses on a so called trash species gulls coyotes carp cockroaches magpies prairie dogs and lubber grasshoppers among others examining the biology and behavior of each in contrast to the assumptions widely held about them Identifying such animals as trash tells us nothing about problematic wildlife but rather reveals more about human expectations of and frustrations with the natural world By establishing the unique place that maligned species occupy in the contemporary landscape and in our imagination the contributors challenge us to look closely at these animals to reimagine our ethics of engagement with such wildlife and to question the violence with which we treat them Perhaps our attitudes reveal more about humans than they do about the animals Contributors Bruce Barcott Charles Bergman Pacific Lutheran U James E Bishop Young Harris College Andrew D Blechman Michael P Branch U of Nevada Reno Lisa Couturier Carolyn Kraus U of Michigan Dearborn Jeffrey A Lockwood U of Wyoming Kyhl Lyndgaard Marlboro College Charles Mitchell Elmira College Kathleen D Moore Oregon State U Catherine Puckett Bernard Quetchenbach Montana State U Billings Christina Robertson U of Nevada Reno Gavan P L Watson U of Guelph Ontario Canada
