Daddy Grace Marie W Dallam, 2007-11-01 This edgy and resourceful analysis of the early twentieth century preacher expands our understanding of a critical period in the black church experience Shayne Lee author of T D Jakes America's New Preacher In 1919 Charles Manuel Sweet Daddy Grace founded the United House of Prayer for All People long regarded as one of the most extreme Pentecostal sects in the country The flamboyant Grace wore purple suits with glitzy jewelry purchased high profile real estate and conducted baptisms in city streets with a fire hose He was also reputed to accept massive donations from his poverty stricken followers and use the money to live lavishly Though Grace appeared to be the glue that held this church together it has continued to thrive long after his death in 1960 After a period of restructuring and streamlining the House of Prayer remains active with a national membership in the tens of thousands In Daddy Grace Marie W Dallam offers both a religious history of the House of Prayer and an intellectual history of its colorful and enigmatic leader Dallam examines the religious nature of the House of Prayer the dimensions of Grace's leadership strategies and the connections between his often ostentatious acts and the intentional infrastructure of the church itself Furthermore woven through the text are analyses of the race class and gender issues manifest in the House of Prayer structure under Grace's aegis conjunction with Iberian imperialism Iberian Empires and the Roots of Globalization argues that Iberian empires cannot be viewed apart from early modern globalization From research sites throughout the early modern Spanish and Portuguese territories and from distinct disciplinary approaches the essays collected in this volume investigate the economic mechanisms administrative hierarchies and art forms that linked the early modern Americas Africa Asia and Europe Iberian Empires and the Roots of Globalization demonstrates that early globalization was structured through diverse networks and their mutual and conflictive interactions within overarching imperial projects To this end the essays explore how specific products texts and people bridged ideas and institutions to produce multiple centers within Iberian imperial geographies Taken as a whole the authors also argue that despite attempts to reproduce European models early Iberian globalization depended on indigenous agency and the agency of people of African descent which often undermined or changed these models The volume thus relays a nuanced theory of early modern globalization the essays outline the Iberian imperial models that provided templates for future global designs and simultaneously detail the negotiated and conflictive forms of local interactions that characterized that early globalization The essays here offer essential insights into historical continuities in regions colonized by Spanish and Portuguese monarchies

Beyond Ontological Blackness Victor Anderson, 2016-10-06 In this study Victor Anderson traces instances of ontological blackness in African American theological religious and cultural thought arguing that African American critical thought has been trapped in a racial rhetoric that it did not create and which cannot serve it well Drawing together 18th and 19th century accommodationism and its assimilationist heirs with the movements of Black Power and Afrocentrism Anderson shows that all exhibit a similar structure of racial identity He suggests that it is time to move beyond the confines of the cult of black heroic genius to what Bell Hooks has termed postmodern blackness a racial discourse that leaves room to negotiate African American identities along lines of class gender sexuality and age as well as race

Political Struggle, Ideology, and State Building Jeffrey C. Mosher, 2016-07 The collapse of the Portuguese empire in the Americas in the early nineteenth century did not immediately or easily translate into the formation of the independent nation state of Brazil While Brazil had geographic meaning it did not constitute a cohesive political identity that could draw on basic loyalties The tumultuous struggle to nationhood in Brazil was marked by the interplay of differing social groups political parties and regions A series of violent revolts in Pernambuco a large slaveholding sugar producing province in northeastern Brazil exposed the tensions accompanying state and nation building Political Struggle Ideology and State Building delves into the complex and engaging history of the contested province of Pernambuco providing better understanding of the interplay between local and provincial social and political struggles and the construction of the nation state Jeffrey C Mosher reevaluates political parties institutions long assumed to be mere facades for elite factions with identical interests He demonstrates the importance of both formal political institutions and ideology as well as the efforts of the lower classes to assert their own visions and values Resentment of the Portuguese provided common ground for some elite factions and lower class groups and figured importantly in defining the nation Mosher's analysis clarifies how the lower class's assertiveness in a society sharply divided by slavery race and class frightened various elite groups into embracing both exclusionary discourses on race and the need for authoritarian centralized political institutions a development that proved to be an enduring legacy of the period

Radical Narratives of the Black Atlantic Alan Rice, 2003-04-30 Broad based survey of trans Atlantic black culture Newest book in the popular Black Atlantic series Radical Narratives of the Black Atlantic is a multi faceted and interdisciplinary take on trans Atlantic black culture Alan Rice engages fully with Paul Gilroy's paradigm of the Black Atlantic through examination of a broad array of cultural genres including music dance folklore and oral literature fine art material culture film and literature The aspects of black culture under discussion range from black British gravesites to sea shanties from the novels of Toni Morrison to the paintings of the Zanzibar born black British artist Lubaina Himid and from King Kong to the travels of Frederick Douglass and Paul Robeson The book places such figures as the African American traveller and Barbary slave narrator Robert Adams and the West Indian slave narrator Mary Prince in a Black Atlantic context that explicates them fully A chapter on the Titanic disaster shows how diasporan Africans composed oral poems about the disaster to criticise the discriminatory practices of its owners and racial imperialism Overall the book argues for the crucial importance of Black Atlantic cultures in the formation of our modern world Moreover it argues that looking at Black culture and history through a national lens is distorting and reductive
